The University Goes To The People

Ever since Thomas Jefferson's dream became reality young Virginians have been going to the University of Virginia; now the University of Virginia has come to young Southwest Virginians. In some ways it has been coming into Southwest Virginia all along. Graduates of its academic and professional schools and students in its summer school who went from the Southwest and came back to it, and others, not so fortunately as to have been born or raised in this good land, who adopted it as their home, have brought along with them some of the university's tangible and intangible cultural influences of the university have penetrated the Southwest as well as other sections of the state.

Its extension courses have been made available in Southwest counties. But with the opening of its Clinch Valley Branch at Wise it has come to the southwest in a way unknown heretofore.

The Clinch Valley Branch is not merely an extension of the university. It is a portion of the university. It offers more economical education for young people who have penetrated the southwest and for older persons whose regular schedules permit of attendance at a university. Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia, the area extension division, has been officially opened at Wise Monday, Sept. 12, with an outdoor convocation attended by nearly 150 students and faculty members.

"You are making history today," R. H. Crockett, of Martin, University extension director for the Southwest Virginia area, told the assembly.

"This new branch is the first such branch in the history of the University," he pointed out. An overall enrollment of at least 220 students—150 in freshman class and 151 in evening classes—is anticipated by officials of the University branch. A total of 406 freshmen were enrolled Monday morning at an initial registration session.

Three days of orientation examinations will end Friday, with regular classes set to start Monday, Sept. 26, at both morning and evening sessions. Students may still enroll on Sept. 26.

At Monday morning's convocation, members of the faculty were introduced to the students by Mr. Crockett.

Introduction were Dr. Glenn A. Campbell, resident dean; Mr. Campbell, head of commercial and business education department and professor of mathematics; Joseph C. Fidley, assistant professor of business; Joseph C. Vence, head of the history department; and Robert W. Gibson, assistant professor of mathematics; and R. H. Chadwick, pastor of the Wise First Baptist Church, who gave the invocation.

Mr. Crockett said plans for the present University of Virginia branch were presented at the first meeting of the City of Wise, Wise, on Sept. 21, and an agreement was signed Sept. 9 for the representation of a possible University of Virginia branch at Wise. Mr. Crockett said.

-Patronizing the students for their support of the Clinch Valley area, the area extension director said:

"I have not found anywhere in the state of Virginia a group of men more cooperative and sincerely concerned for their people than the Wise County Board of supervisors.

Mr. Crockett said area citizens donated $2,000 to furnish and equip rooms in the new University branch. He said five donations of $500 each were received for a lounge, in addition to eight donations of $500 each for classrooms.

The first two years of college work will lead to Bachelor's degrees, and includes pre-professional courses for medicine, dentistry, nursing, engineering, education, business, law, and architecture. Also offered will be one- and two-year terminal programs in commercial, business, and general education.

Afternoon and evening courses for adults consist of both college credit courses and informal non-credit courses.

Upon completion of the two-year program, students may transfer to the University of Virginia, or to another school of their choice, for the final two years of college or professional school.

The special terminal programs are designed for students who wish to do one or two years of work after graduation from high school, but who do not expect to do any further school work after graduation.

The total college work, after graduation, is four years of college work. Offered in the terminal program will be courses in commercial and business education and a two-year program in general education. Courses available in 1954-55 include advanced typing, shorthand, accounting, office procedures and management, office machines, business English, commercial law, public speaking, general economics, and business administration.

Courses are offered during the morning and evening sessions.

The adult education program, whose regular schedules permit only afternoon and evening classes, embraces both college and university credit and informal non-credit courses.

The special terminal programs are designed for students who wish to do one or two years of work after graduation from high school, but who do not expect to do any further school work after graduation.

The total college work, after graduation, is four years of college work. Offered in the terminal program will be courses in commercial and business education and a two-year program in general education. Courses available in 1954-55 include advanced typing, shorthand, accounting, office procedures and management, office machines, business English, commercial law, public speaking, general economics, and business administration.

Donations Made To The College

Clinch Valley College is a reality today because of the interest, effort, and generosity of many people in the surrounding communities. Among the many donors to the College are the following.

Wise County Board of Supervisors:

R. H. Body, Gilbert Hornsby, Frank Mallins and Will Bond.

Tour moral support and financial contributions have helped to make Clinch Valley College a success. We, the students, thank you.
The Dean

O. K. Campbell, formerly an Associate Professor of Education at the University of Virginia, has been named Extension Director of the University of Virginia. Mr. Campbell serves the area in a dual capacity as an Associate Professor of Education and as an Associate Director of the University of Virginia Extension Service.

With Mr. Campbell's move to Wise, it was necessary for those in Wise to provide additional support services. The area was the largest of the ten areas of the University Extension Service. Mr. Campbell served as the head of the Department of Education at the University of Virginia. He has been actively enrolled in extension activities during the past twenty years. He has been associated with the University of Virginia since 1928.

Extension Director

E. R. Crockett, Jr., local District Director and former executive of the University of Virginia, has been named Extension Director of the University of Virginia. He has served as the Director of the University of Virginia Extension Service for the past twenty years.

Personal Of The Cavalier Staff

The first issue of THE HIGHLAND CAVILIER was published March 26, 1955. Prior to this, the University of Virginia had no student publication. The staff was chosen, and Elizabeth Colley is appointed as editor-in-chief. The newspaper was published every other week until the first issue was sold. The first issue was sold for five cents. The staff was made up of students enrolled in the University of Virginia.

Extension Director

Professor George H. Gibson is Director of Extension for the University of Virginia. He is responsible for the administration of the Extension Division of the University. He has been associated with the University since 1930.

Students Make A College Live

A college means buildings, faculty, administration, and students. A college means buildings, faculty, administration, and students. A college means buildings, faculty, administration, and students. A college means buildings, faculty, administration, and students. A college means buildings, faculty, administration, and students. A college means buildings, faculty, administration, and students.

Babes of C.V.C.

By Frances E. Yamazaki

Babes of C.V.C. was published in 1955. It was the first issue of THE HIGHLAND CAVILIER. The newspaper was published every other week until the first issue was sold. The first issue was sold for five cents. The staff was made up of students enrolled in the University of Virginia.

STEVE

SHOES AND CLOTHING OF ALL TYPES

.Phone 358

Concurrent, Virginia

Pound Drug Store

Pound, Virginia

FEDERATED STORES

AND MEN'S SHOP

Phone 356

Concurrent, Virginia

Books Donated

The University of Virginia has received books from a number of sources. The books were donated to the University of Virginia by the owners of the following stores: Back to Back, Bible, and Booksales, Inc., and Back to Back, Bible, and Booksales, Inc.

Terminal Program

Clinch Valley College has three Terminal Programs. The Terminal Program is designed for students who have already completed their college education and who wish to continue their education at the University of Virginia. The Terminal Program is designed for students who have already completed their college education and who wish to continue their education at the University of Virginia. The Terminal Program is designed for students who have already completed their college education and who wish to continue their education at the University of Virginia.
The Faculty

We are students of the Clinch Valley C o l l e g e and we feel very fortunate to be here. There are many important things in our lives. They are the people we love, our families and friends, our school, our jobs, and our relationships with others. These things are important to us and they are also important to our lives.

A new beginning is a time of hope and promise. It is a time when we have the opportunity to make mistakes and learn from them. It is a time when we have the chance to grow and develop as individuals.

The next step is to make the most of our opportunities. We must be proactive in our learning and take advantage of the resources available to us. We must be willing to take risks and try new things.

We must also be aware of the challenges that we face. We must be prepared to face challenges and to overcome them. We must be resilient and determined in our efforts.

The future is uncertain, but we can make it better. We can make a difference in our lives and in the lives of others. We can be the change that we wish to see in the world.

The Wise hired the three Wiseman, L. E. Johnson, and E. M. Mason, to head the new department of education.

The Wise Klwans Club was organized in 1910. The club had its first meeting on January 10, 1910, at the Three Way Restaurant in Norton, Virginia. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members.

The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.

The club's first meeting was held in the Three Way Restaurant. The club's first meeting was attended by 40 members. The club's first president was E. L. Johnson. The club's first vice president was E. M. Mason. The club's first secretary was L. E. Johnson. The club's first treasurer was E. M. Mason.
C.V.C. Student Aid

The George C. Coleman Mem-rial Fund, established by George C. Coleman of the Roanoke Valley, has reached the sum of $100,000. The fund has been established as a loan fund which will be made available to college students who are unable to secure regular financial aid.

Mrs. Coleman, who died last year, left the fund to her husband, who was also a college professor.

Summer Session Instructors Listed

The Virginia Polytechnic Institute has announced the names of the instructors who will teach in the summer session. The list includes professors from the departments of English, Mathematics, and Science.

Summer Session Instructors Listed

The Virginia Polytechnic Institute has announced the names of the instructors who will teach in the summer session. The list includes professors from the departments of English, Mathematics, and Science.

MAY QUEEN CROWNED

May Queen ceremony at the University of Virginia was held recently. The ceremony is a tradition at the university, and serves to celebrate the spring season.

SHRINE OF US SOVIET PIONEERS

The Senate, in its recent meeting, has approved the allocation of $50,000 for the construction of a memorial to the Soviet Pioneers. The memorial will be located on the university campus.

The Biology Students —

The biology students at Virginia Commonwealth University have organized a new club, the Biology
Students of VCU.

Dr. Campbell

Dr. Campbell, the biology professor, visited the university recently. He met with the students from the biology classes, and discussed the state of the field of biology.

The Student Body Officers

Student Body Officers are:
President, Mike Johnson;
Vice-President, Bill Smith;
Secretary, Janice Davis;
Treasurer, Tom Green.

The Student Body Officers

Student Body Officers are:
President, Mike Johnson;
Vice-President, Bill Smith;
Secretary, Janice Davis;
Treasurer, Tom Green.

The Student Body Officers

Student Body Officers are:
President, Mike Johnson;
Vice-President, Bill Smith;
Secretary, Janice Davis;
Treasurer, Tom Green.

The Social Committee

The Social Committee has announced the dates for
the fall social events.

- Friday, October 15:
  Dance at the Student Center
- Saturday, October 23:
  Block Party on the Quad
- Friday, October 29:
  Movie Night at the Campus Theatre

The Social Committee

The Social Committee has announced the dates for
the fall social events.

- Friday, October 15:
  Dance at the Student Center
- Saturday, October 23:
  Block Party on the Quad
- Friday, October 29:
  Movie Night at the Campus Theatre
GLANCE

(Continued from Page 1)

had an enjoyable evening. Other clubs have been organized or are in the process of being formed among which are the Veteran's Club, Drama Club, and rod-and-gun club.

In the sports department, the CVC basketball team, under the management of a fellow student, Howard Hardesty, finished with nearly a .500 record, which was a good show. Also, all draws-backs are taken into consideration. The softball team, after getting off to a bad start, began to function more smoothly by mid-season. Prof. T. W. Gibson, coach, and Joe Slaughter, captain, are largely responsible for the baseball team's success.

The Highland Cavalier, the CVC newspaper, was made possible through the combined efforts of a group of students with the assistance and technical advice of Prof. W. L. Wilson. The entire newspaper staff wishes to thank the business organizations that helped in financing the Highland Cavalier by purchasing advertising space. These ads are also expressed to the Norton Press, Inc., who have done an excellent job in the printing of the newspaper.

To summarize, I believe that the experiment of a branch of the University of Virginia, Wise, has been an overwhelming success in the combined efforts of students, faculty, and interested persons. We have done well during the past nine months, but, rather than sitting back and enjoying our success, let's maintain our initiative and make an even greater success next year.

UNIVERSITY

(Continued from page 1)

will acquire land and erect dormitories, faculty residences, and other college buildings and the laying off of a group of students with talents, are largely responsible for the baseball team's success.

The baseball team, after backs are taken into consideration. The softball team, after getting off to a bad start, began to function more smoothly by mid-season. Prof. T. W. Gibson, coach, and Joe Slaughter, captain, are largely responsible for the baseball team's success.

The Highland Cavalier, the CVC newspaper, was made possible through the combined efforts of a group of students with the assistance and technical advice of Prof. W. L. Wilson. The entire newspaper staff wishes to thank the business organizations that helped in financing the Highland Cavalier by purchasing advertising space. These ads are also expressed to the Norton Press, Inc., who have done an excellent job in the printing of the newspaper.

To summarize, I believe that the experiment of a branch of the University of Virginia, Wise, has been an overwhelming success in the combined efforts of students, faculty, and interested persons. We have done well during the past nine months, but, rather than sitting back and enjoying our success, let's maintain our initiative and make an even greater success next year.

The Fruit Bowl

PANCY FRUIT BASKETS
CANDY
CUPBOARD
CANDIES
Phone 3261 Wise, Va.

The Fruit Bowl

PANCY FRUIT BASKETS
CANDY
CUPBOARD
CANDIES
Phone 3261 Wise, Va.

The Fruit Bowl

PANCY FRUIT BASKETS
CANDY
CUPBOARD
CANDIES
Phone 3261 Wise, Va.

The Fruit Bowl

PANCY FRUIT BASKETS
CANDY
CUPBOARD
CANDIES
Phone 3261 Wise, Va.

The Fruit Bowl

PANCY FRUIT BASKETS
CANDY
CUPBOARD
CANDIES
Phone 3261 Wise, Va.

The Fruit Bowl

PANCY FRUIT BASKETS
CANDY
CUPBOARD
CANDIES
Phone 3261 Wise, Va.

The Fruit Bowl

PANCY FRUIT BASKETS
CANDY
CUPBOARD
CANDIES
Phone 3261 Wise, Va.