CVC Students Attend BSU Retreat

By Albert Bond

The idea of a Mother's Day originated in a Methodist church in Boston in 1876. It was a Sunny day in 1876 and the American War. The bloodiest carnage in its history. The guest speaker for the retreat was Dr. Foy Valentine, a member of the "faculty," at Clinch Valley College at Lab, this year and they were: President, Donald Boggs, Pound; Secretary, Patsy Coley, Clintwood; Treasurer, Millard Franklin Rose. The idea of a Mother's Day is to elect officers for next year's club.

The retreat was held this spring and was attended by the college through active participation in organizations. The students who were present at the retreat were; President, Charles A. Smith, Dean Adams and Ronald Van- turner; Assistants; Charlene Billie and Patsy Coley. The retreat was opened by the college through active participation in organizations. The future holds great things for Clinch Valley College, and we one of the most beautiful college campuses in the United States. Sunning Sunday, May 11, Mother’s Day is a nationwide holiday upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.” These words She can never be replaced by any mechanical device in this modern of next year’s editor, Albert Bond. There will be, it possible, an wherever you may go.

We give to the financial aid for the students and faculty at Clinch Valley College. We would like to be a part of that future. We feel, however, that the school is a part of our lives and memories. We have a part of our lives in this school and hope for the continued success. Upon completion, Clinch Valley College will be one of the most beautiful college campuses in the United States. “Suman the father and the mother of the young ones they lack the wherewithal to give to our children the best education possible. Yet he gives the children as an example of how to live.”

co-chairmen; Sara Dotson, Ellis Pat McLaughlin, and Mary Smith for a job well done. We think of you and your families for all you do. We hope you enjoy your Mother's Day gift and that your families will feel your work has not been in vain.

In all, Anna devoted much of her time to 20 years of directing and furthering the Mother's Day observance. Even distant Japan honored her, describing Mother's Day as "a great American gift to Japan." And Mark Twain, in a letter to her, wrote for all Americans: "During the remaining years I shall wear the Mother's Day emblem as a badge of purity and love—the white carnation—as the emblem."

For celebration she ordered 1,000 yellow daisies and 1,000 carnations as the emblem. She was honored by The Detroit Star, "If Miss Jarvis could come to Mexico and see how in the finest homes and in the lowest abodes of the rural regions—the institution which she founded is now observed, she would feel her work has not been in vain."

The Get-A-Way

Highland Caviller Recognizes Efforts

We would like to give special recognition to Mr. Evans, for his fine display of pictures of historical interest to all, which he has kindly placed in the lounge for all to view. Also, credit goes to the fine job Miss Kegler has done throughout the entire year with her varied and interesting displays of pictures and exhibits. At the present time, she has a display of postage stamps of the French Republic. The emphasis of these two fine young teachers has made education an interesting thing by highlighting it with these various displays. We greatly appreciate and commendation.

Anymore, Church would not be split over the Civil War issues if she could prevent it. And that church, one of the last in that section, remained united.

To explain and promote Mother's Day, Miss Jarvis chose the theme, "To honor the best mothers who ever lived—you, mother."

Next she selected a flower—the carnation—as the emblem. For celebration she ordered 1,000 of those carnations from Philadelphia for the mothers of Oxford. Some 10,000 of those blooms were ultimately to become her gift to the mothers of the community through the years. And the carnations, which at that time had not enjoyed popularity, came to be revered as the symbol of mothers.

By 1900 Mother's Day was being celebrated in 45 states and in Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Canada, and Mexico. Miss Jarvis, astounded at its rapid spread, joyfully told a friend: "Where it will end must be left for the future to tell. That it will girdle future to tell. That it will girdle the globe now seems certain."

She was further delighted to learn in a message from Mexico for her. "If Miss Jarvis could come to Mexico and see how in the finest homes and in the lowest abodes of the rural regions—the institution which she founded is now observed, she would feel her work has not been in vain."
