To further the educational standards of the residents of Dickenson County, Mr. Paul Akers, the Principal of Clintwood High School and Mr. J. H. Turner, a member of the Dickenson County Board of Supervisors, came to the college Monday, October 6th, to talk to the faculty of their county and find about their transportation problems.

Mr. Turner said that Dickenson County was prepared to offer the use of a bus to the students at no expense other than paying for the gas used.

Edward L. Henson

Mr. Henson is a native Virginian hailing from Lexington. He served four years in the U.S. Army from 1945-47, of which he spent 18 months in Italy as an infantry line officer. Mr. Henson was discharged as a First Lieutenant.

In 1947 he attended V.M.I., and later he worked at an assistant professor of Military Science and Tactics. After graduating from V.M.I., he attended Anglo-American Diplomatic History at London University on a Fulbright scholarship. He then taught History at Wilson Memorial High School at Fishburne, Virginia. Later he became the Commandant of Fishburne Military School, Waynesboro, Virginia. He also taught American and European History. He was there four years. He received his graduate training at the University of Virginia on a Du Pont fellowship and received his M.A. in History.

He is now the Professor of Arts in History at Clinch Valley College.

EDWARD L. HENSON

J. KERRIT MULHIN

Mr. Henson's wife is a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and has been active in church choirs for the past five years. The Hen- sons have one daughter, Beverly, who is now attending Clinch Valley College.

The Band will play popular themes as well as the standard classics, and will be conducted by Director Smithy. All students interested in playing in the band are requested to attend this meeting.

The Virginia Journal of Entomology is seeking new members. Interested persons may get them from Mary Smith, Editor of the journal. Members who have not paid their dues, please do so immediately, to the office of the President, Treasurer of S.A.E. This is important.

Clinch Valley College is most fortunate to have three new members in the sophomore class. Each had a varied and colorful background, and they are certain to become popular figures on our campus.

French and German Clubs

The club formed of students who choose the French and German languages and customs, will soon be in existence. The first meeting, which will be held on the 2nd Thursday of each month, in the beginning of October when the first meeting is scheduled for the 15th. The time will be fixed between 18:15 and 11:00, will enable all members of the club to go "veterans" and all members of the club to make the evil of the first class when it begins. According to our sponsor, Miss Ludolph, the selection of films to be shown, songs to be sung, holidays to celebrate; a renowned foreign speaker or some other activity will grace a meeting at some later date. We also have a number of students in art, painting, and sculpture to show, the beauty and charm of the performance being so inspiring than that of the German. The art students are doing a lot of activities which will appear in the pages of the HIGHLAND CAVALIER.

Outposters Look Ahead

By BILLY MAXWELL

The Outposters staff is pleased to announce that plans have already been begun on the latest, which we hope will be as good or possibly better than last year's edition.

The staff has been working during the summer months, however, some fresher members have not, as yet, had any opportunity to assist in preparing the next book for the print. Other work has been accomplished also. The theme was decided upon, Jackie Weller has been able to teach us very much about Germany, the language and customs. We hope that she will be able to teach us very much about Germany, the language and customs.

In France, the French and German clubs are still occupied today. There are approximately 324 students at clinics Valley College. Eight are still occupied on their own, which we hope will be as good or possibly better than last year's edition.
