Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia

Tuesday, October 30, 1942

Wakeland and Brickey Are Elected Representatives

Distinguished Visitor Comments On CVC

During the past week Dr. Joseph \( \text{You} \) Vaughn, president for community Colleges of the University of the State of New York, visited the Greer College. Chancellor Vaughn said that through these group meetings, he got a better understanding of what Virginia and other states are here and ideas on how to develop academic standards for the state. During Vaughn's visit here, he commented on the many questions and differences in interest to CVC students. A few of his questions and answers are included here.

The students of Clinch Valley have done at the University who are good academic people, and that they have good academic programs. Through his example, he was able to work for what he believed in, which has been the foundation for much of the students dedicated to the cause.
Volume War Is Waged

I do believe that we should be a point marked on the campus, a challenging goal toward which students could aspire. It’s true that some students might feel discouraged by the idea of being a point marked on the campus, but we believe that this goal can be achieved by anyone who is willing to put in the time and effort.

I do not claim to have a perfect solution for this problem, but I do believe that there are a few things that we can do to make it easier for students to reach this goal. First, we should provide more opportunities for students to participate in activities and events on campus. This will give students more chances to show off their skills and accomplishments.

Second, we should encourage students to take advantage of the many resources available to them. For example, there are several study groups and tutoring programs on campus that can help students improve their academic performance. Students should also make use of the career services offered by the university, as these can help them get the skills and experience they need to succeed.

Finally, we should make sure that students feel supported and encouraged by their peers and faculty. This will help them feel more confident in themselves and their abilities, which will make it easier for them to reach the goal of being a point marked on the campus.

In conclusion, we believe that being a point marked on the campus is a worthy goal for all students. By making use of the resources available to them, and by working hard to achieve their goals, students can make a significant impact on their college and their future.

---

Editorial

Volume War Is Waged

I do believe that we should be a point marked on the campus, a challenging goal toward which students could aspire. It’s true that some students might feel discouraged by the idea of being a point marked on the campus, but we believe that this goal can be achieved by anyone who is willing to put in the time and effort.

I do not claim to have a perfect solution for this problem, but I do believe that there are a few things that we can do to make it easier for students to reach this goal. First, we should provide more opportunities for students to participate in activities and events on campus. This will give students more chances to show off their skills and accomplishments.

Second, we should encourage students to take advantage of the many resources available to them. For example, there are several study groups and tutoring programs on campus that can help students improve their academic performance. Students should also make use of the career services offered by the university, as these can help them get the skills and experience they need to succeed.

Finally, we should make sure that students feel supported and encouraged by their peers and faculty. This will help them feel more confident in themselves and their abilities, which will make it easier for them to reach the goal of being a point marked on the campus.

In conclusion, we believe that being a point marked on the campus is a worthy goal for all students. By making use of the resources available to them, and by working hard to achieve their goals, students can make a significant impact on their college and their future.
The Circle K Club of Clinch Valley College has several proposed projects to begin soon. The first main project is to setup the Wise Kiwanis in presentation of the "Capers." This is a take-off of circus acts and is to include a beauty contest of girls from ages 6-16. The Circle K also hopes to maintain a showcase of events in front of the library entrance. This is to include events of national, international, and local concern. The Circle K will have other projects to take form soon. This club is a service club and if anyone needs assistance on behalf of the school or community, the club is always more than willing and ready to aid.

"The Circle K will soon consider new members for the club. These choices will be made on the basis of academic work, personality, and administrative recommendation."

Drama Club Prepares For 1962-1963

The Circle K Club of Clinch Valley College is searching for new members for the 62-63 school term. Mr. Judd Leslie is the faculty advisor for this term. The first time in its history the club has an adequately full membership for the school term.

The drama club has become a problem. It has been completely furnished with new curtains and lighting facilities as well as a picturesque room and two modern dressing rooms. These new furnishings for the stage will probably attract a larger number of members. Now that the modern curtains have been installed, it will be necessary for them to increase their membership. If so technically effective plays can be presented. Last term three one-act plays, two three-act plays, and an original were presented by the drama club. During the summer vacation they presented "Picnic," a three-act play. Paul Baker, a sophomore, directed it, and the production was marked. "I think this term will be the most successful for the Circle K Club." said Paul Baker.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped in making the Harvest Ball possible. Certainty no group has ever worked together so willingly as did the students and faculty during the preparations for this event. Thanks to all.

Phyllis Cornell

Students Sponsor First CVC Dance

The harvest Ball, first major social event of the school year, sponsored by the Oddition Club on Saturday night, Oct. 26. Members of the "Four Square" dance band from Lebanon. Tenn. played their favorite and artistically executed renditions of country music. The floor show was equally enjoyed by all. In conclusion, the members of CVC, the college song and the student officers. Mike Piggie was witty and clever in his monologue devoted to his academic experiences as a freshman. Karen Benko and Jimmy Stagpole were one of the hits of the evening in their presentation of the Charlie Chaplin routine in a cowboy costume complete with red silk stockings rolled below the knees, adorned with decked garters and suspenders, placed right out of the 20's. And last but not least of the three Chaplain sketches, their music leaves everyone in a happy mood.

The remainder of the squad Is Bob a real "commode need of an automatic washing machine. They'll really be in an unfortunate al situation if "The River Shannon" runs dry.

The girls from Wise Hall are in desperate need of an automatic washing machine. They'll really be in an unfortunate sit-

basketball (Cont. from Page 3)

The Women’s Missionary Society of the Wise Baptist Church has again this year organized the college girls’ YWA (Young Women’s Auxiliary). The first meeting was held Oct. 8 at Mr. Dr. Richardson’s home with 15 girls attending. The officers elected for this year were Eleanor W. Morris, president; Doria Farmer, vice-president; and Betty Clum, secretary-treasurer. The second meeting was held at Wise Hall on October 23. There were 19 girls present. The next meeting will be held Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Miller, of the Wise Baptist Church.

The purpose of this organization is to acquaint the young women with the missionary work of the church, to provide an opportunity to worship together and to take part in the organization, and to strengthen christian ideas and faith.

All college and career women are invited and urged to attend the next meeting and become a part of this inspiring organization.

Reception Honoring Chancellor Vaughn

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henson on October 30, in the honor of Dr. Burke, Jr., chancellor of the university. The reception was attended by representative faculty members and student leaders.

Later the same afternoon an informal meeting in the Dean Room. At this time members of the student body had an opportunity to talk with Chancellor Vaughn and a group of students concerning Clinch Valley College and its role as a community college.

R.O.M.

The Women’s Missionary Society of the Wise Baptist Church is in the school colors of grey and red. The floor show was especially good. Included in the number of members was the college song and the student officers. Mike Piggie was witty and clever in his monologue devoted to his academic experiences as a freshman. Karen Benko and Jimmy Stagpole were one of the hits of the evening in their presentation of the Charlie Chaplin routine in a cowboy costume complete with red silk stockings rolled below the knees, adorned with decked garters and suspenders, placed right out of the 20’s. And last but not least of the three Chaplain sketches, their music leaves everyone in a happy mood.

The remainder of the squad is Bob a real "commode need of an automatic washing machine. They'll really be in an unfortunate sit-

The girls from Wise Hall are in desperate need of an automatic washing machine. They'll really be in an unfortunate sit-