A conference for youth to come together and become concerned about the potential and problems of the future will be held at CVC June 10, 11, and 12. It is sponsored by the Virginia Council for the Study of Youth and the Youth Council of the Southern Mountains.

The conference is open to high school students in the commuting vicinity of Clinch Valley College being chosen by their respective school to participate in the conference. Ten students from neighboring colleges have been invited to attend the conference, as well as four persons of the faculty and administration.

The conference program will include a keynote address by Penrose Ayers, Executive Secretary of the Council for the Study of Youth; a panel discussion led by representatives of the area who are involved presently in helping programs; a panel discussion of the W.J.R. A.W.E.S. Community Action Program in Wise; Thomas Davis, Overseas-Job-Training representative for Washington and Wise Counties; Bill Wenger, VISTA volunteer in Washington County, Va.

Michael Brown, Chairman of the Youth Council of Clinch Valley College, stated, "There are many things young people can do; for example, taking an interest in younger students, encouraging potential drop-outs to stay in school, as well as cooperating with community projects."

There will be entertainment in the evenings—folk singing on Thursday night and a dance following the banquet on Friday night. The program will begin with registration on Thursday, June 10, and conclude Saturday, June 12 after lunch.

The Vaperado, Mr. Sam Crockett and Mrs. Ethel Force of the Council of the Southern Mountains are assisting the Youth Council in the planning and execution of the conference.

The Editor Speaks

During the next school year, both Funkhouser and the Student Council will be added to the CVC Board of Directors. The Student Council will serve as a representative body for our students, and the Funkhouser Board will ensure that our students are well represented in campus decisions.

The plan is to have each department represented on the Student Council, and the Funkhouser Board will be responsible for ensuring that the interests of our students are always considered.

The Student Council will meet monthly, and the Funkhouser Board will meet bimonthly. These meetings will be open to the public, and every student will be welcome to attend.
