Progress Report

Dr. R. Shannon, President of the University of Virginia, led the University delegation to a budget hearing on Monday, January 20 at 2:30 p.m. The hearing was before the House Appropriations Committee in Richmond. Mr. Shannon presented items that the University wanted to be put back into the budget for the next two years. Then he called upon the Department of the colleges to make specific requests from the General Assembly.

Mr. Shannon spoke in behalf of Clinch Valley College. He asked that the General Assembly add to appropriations a request for an administration and classroom building which would cost $533,520. He also requested that funds be included in the budget to hire additional faculty members, and that these funds be sufficient to pay faculty salaries on a 4-year scale.

The governor has recommended to the General Assembly an operating budget of $546,580 for 1968-69 term. Of the $546,580 for an additional women's dorm, $464,760 for a faculty apartment house, the governor has recommended an operating budget of $546,580 for 1968-69 term, $464,760 for 1969-70 term, of the $546,580, tuition and fees from students supply $212,220 for the 60-69 session, $294,754 the following year.

Two years ago, Clinch Valley College found itself at the crossroads: the legislative session was at hand, and the question of whether the community college would be continued was to be answered. The College was not without its critics. Some accused it of mediocrity, plateau of "attainment" in an era of "annihilation." Others were critical of its educational philosophy. The College was accused of catering to the needs of the community at the expense of maintaining a high-quality education. The College's administration, however, was not deterred. They were committed to providing a quality education to the region's students. Their efforts were rewarded when the College was granted a two-year extension by the state legislature. This was a turning point for Clinch Valley College. It was a testament to the College's dedication to excellence and its commitment to the region. Today, Clinch Valley College stands as a symbol of the region's commitment to education and the importance of the community college. It serves as a reminder that the pursuit of knowledge and the pursuit of excellence are timeless goals.

Wrestling Match
On Friday, March 1 at seven o'clock, Grundy Senior High School will present an Alumni Wrestling Match in the high school gym. Graduates members of the wrestling team will be returning for a match of the "old" against the "new." Participating in this match from Clinch Valley College are Tommy Skeens, Cornel Sutherland, Dan Edwards, and Randy Childress. Receiving an invitation to join these boys in the match is Garry Smith. He would like to invite students from Clinch Valley College to attend this match if it is convenient. Proceeds will go to the Grundy Senior High Athletic Department. Not only will we be contributing money for the Athletic Department of Grundy High School but we also be raising an interest for a wrestling team within Clinch Valley College.
