SCA Plans Concert

The Student Council through its President Jim Robbette announced tentative plans for a concert in the immediate few weeks after the return of CVC students to the campus from the Christmas Holidays. This concert will be on basically the same criteria as the successful Rick Nelson concert in the Immediate few weeks after the return of CVC students to the campus from the Christmas Holidays. Hopefully upon return to CVC plans will be complete and can be fully announced.

“Beer On Campus” Issue Promises Controversy

Since last week’s Highland Cavalier rumors have been flaring concerning the referendum to bring beer on campus which is planned for early next semester. No matter how the issue comes out it promiss to be a controversy. Pros and cons on both sides will be presented in upcoming issues of the Highland Cavalier. This week Lawrence Freeman, chairman of the beer referendum committee, was interviewed by the H.C. to give some general information:

Q.-What action did the Student Council take concerning the referendum issue or campus at their Nov. 30th meeting?
A.--The council agreed to hold a referendum on the issue and appointed a committee composed of myself (Lawrence Freeman), Pat Gilliam, and Greg Marcus to execute the referendum.

Q.-What will the committee initially do?
A.-Work the referendum issue into question form for publication at least 3 times in the Highland Cavalier before being voted upon by the student body.

Q.-How will the referendum be held?
A.-Voting will be held as in other elections for one day only and the polling place between Jefferson Lounge and backstree.

Q.-Who will be responsible for the election?
A.-The Elections Committee, chaired by Bernard Taie, which is responsible for most all other college voting.

Q.-Will other students besides Election Committee members man the polls?
A.-Yes, Student Council members will probably be allowed to do so.

Q.-When will activity begin on the referendum?
A.-Probably the first publication date of the Highland Cavalier after the Christmas vacation will contain the first printing of the referendum question.

Q.-Will your committee continue work on the issue after the voting?
A.-Our work will end as the referendum results are announced and the issue is passed on to differnt channels.

“Take It For What It’s Worth”
Notes of A College Revolutionery...

Beer Coming To CVC-Progress...Or Is It?

III, should the reaction of the majority of students against the prospect of beer on this campus stem from the desire to maintain the so-called "social order" and "an atmosphere more suited to a college than beer?" If so, is it not a true statement that the questions of whether or not our government should develop a space program is a foregone conclusion and the question of whether or not they should develop a space program is a foregone conclusion? If so, is it not a true statement that the questions of whether or not we should develop a space program is a foregone conclusion?...or is it?

A Worthwhile Study

Dr. Daniel Wesley

It is a good thing when any institution studies itself, its purpose, and the needs and aspirations of the students it serves. The college, therefore, undertakes a study of its own role in the community, with the ultimate goal of the college being an establishment, a service, and a institution of true value to the community it serves. A college is, therefore, a service, an institution, and a establishment, and it is in the interest of the college to have a study of the college itself.

The Moon... A Dream Unfinished

Science fiction writers have been discussing the Moon for a long time. Most agree that, once man has started the space program, he should have a dream of the Moon. As to the question of whether or not the space program should be a dream of the Moon, there is no consensus. Some believe that the space program should be a dream of the Moon, while others believe that it should be a dream of the Earth.

My brother had just become a father, and he came away beaming after visiting his wife and seeing his new son for the first time. As he passed through the main waiting room on his way out of the hospital, he almost bumped into an elderly woman. She eyes his long hair and flowery shirt and the booster button the hospital had given him proclaiming: "It's a boy!" She nodded, then said, "Good idea - more college students should wear those."
