Preston To Put CVC In ‘Outa’ Space May 2nd

National known rock artist, Billy Preston, will be in concert at the CVC Green Gymnasium, on Wednesday, May 3rd, at 8:00 p.m. This performance is being sponsored by the Student Council in an effort as one member quipped “to go out with a bang”.

Preston has released several recent hits including “Outa Space” and “Don’t Talk to Me About Love.” Mr. Preston has the unique distinction of being the talent who was chosen by the Beatles to supply background music for their albums and singles. The Hammond B-3 organ is the Mr. Preston specialty. In his hit single “Outa Space” Preston uses a complicated musical instrument to create the strange otherworldly space effects which made this disc one of his best sellers. As of late Preston has been seen in recent telecasts of the late night “In Concert” television series.

Several members of the SCA indicated their concern over Preston’s coming and urged the student body to get tickets as soon as possible as a sellout is anticipated. Tickets are on sale now in the Receptionist Office of the New Administration Building. The tickets will cost $3 for the general public and $2 for CVC students. The proceeds will be used to send the baseball team to Florida, and to a smaller extent, to provide solid competition for the varsity cheerleaders for Roanoke College. The橡胶 band will be hosted by Wytheville Community College, will be played at the GVC Green Gymnasium, starting Tuesday, March 27th through Saturday, March 31st. Curtain time will be at 8:00 p.m.

The play is a comic farce which portrays the hilarious exploits of an American family trapped in the American Embassy of an Eastern European “Iron Curtain” country. Admission to the play is $1.50, but all students and members will be admitted at the reduced price of $1.00.

CVC Chess Masters

To Battle Roanoke College

The Clinic Valley College Chess Club has tentatively scheduled its first match of the year against Roanoke College. A home game will be hosted by Wytheville Community College, will be played against Roanoke College, Roanoke College’s team finished seventh in a thirty college open event held in Nashville last fall and should provide solid competition for CVC’s club. Members of CVC’s club include Royce Mullins (President), Fred Bowe (Vice-President), Johnny Carrico (Secretary), Steve Barker, Monte Dell, Henry Vann, William Mifflin, and Randy Hollander. The club is open to all interested players, beginners as well as experts. Several high school students - Jeff Carrico, James Lakey, Darce Lakey, Daney Baird, and Marvin Gilliam - are among the club’s strongest players.

But the Chess Club has improved its visibility, plans are being made for the club to meet and host matches and tournaments beginning in the fall of this year. Suggestion for open tournament for the CVC Championship as well as an open tournament for the championship of Southwest Virginia.

Student Opinion Asked On Academic Honors

The curriculum committee of Clinic Valley College is requesting student opinions as to what should constitute the criteria for academic honors awarded to seniors on or near graduation day. Below is a reprint of a proposal submitted by Mr. Peter Patrick, Chairman of the Curriculum Committee, concerning the standards for academic honors. Mr. Patrick noted that his proposal should be used as a starting point for discussion and would certainly be amendable to improvements.

The Curriculum Committee asked that the proposal be sent to the Chancellor’s Cabinet, the Student Council, and to the student body by way of the newsletter. Anyone who would like to express some ideas or ask any questions concerning this shift away from the grade point average as the sole criteria for honors, should send a letter to the Editor of the Highland Cavalier. These letters may be published or merely sent to the committee based on the request of the writer. (Gary Burga, B.C. Editor, is the student member of the Curriculum Committee.)

Cincinnati Trippin’

I think everybody should take at least one field trip while they’re in college. It’s quite an experience, I went with the group to Cincinnati and had a blast. The purpose of the trip was to study a big city and the Appalachian migrants there, but me I’m a tourist. I just went to see.

There was about twelve of us, including Marilyn Pace, Anie Lybic. I rode with Marly. Joseph “Chip” Synocrope and Dona Hampton in Marilyn’s little red Datsun. They’re really interesting folks to travel with. We drank wine and ate cheese and talked about everything from sociology to karaoke all the way to Cincinnati. Poor Marilyn was trying to quit cigarettes and she had a nicotine fit every hundred miles or so.

It’s really fascinating to watch America change through the window of a speeding Datsun. The landscape evolved from the builting, curtains mountains of Appalachian to the long, rolling greenwoodiness of the Midwest. And I was astounded at how much of this nation is empty. For miles along the interstate it was just semicircular forest and field. And then you’ll pass through a city, a big pile of people crunched together, surrounded by empty.

We hit Cincinnati about 7:30 that night. POW! Instant culture shock. Lights and steel and concrete and people and six lanes of traffic wherever we looked. People scurrying chitter and yon and every street a flashing, mindblowing, neon light show. We extracshoned at a service station and called Mike Mcneyo to come and get us.

Mike Mcneyo is quite a guy. He’s a young Appalachian migrant who now works on the Cincinnati Committee of the Human Relations Commission. Not only did he give us a place to sleep that night and background information for our field trip; he also brought us supper. Food! We fell on it like a pack of famished wolves. Never has Oat, Sanders chicken tasted so good. And it was worth traveling 200 miles to enjoy.
