Computer Course

Added To Fall Offerings

Clinch Valley College has added Math 237- Introduction to Computers- to their offerings for the Fall semester. The class will be offered on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 p.m. and will meet for the first time on Tuesday, September 10. Registration forms for all evening courses is scheduled for the week beginning on September 10 at 7:00 p.m.

The course does not require prior computer knowledge or programming techniques. It will cover both business and mathematical computer applications and is open to anyone who has completed a year of high school mathematics.

The instructor for the course will be Mr. Paul Varone who was formerly Chief of the Network Computing and Analysis Division at Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Maryland. Mr. Varone presented numerous seminars in computer applications and was instrumental in the development of the tracking and communication systems for the Apollo Lunar Missions.

Greg Stewart, Clinch Valley’s SCA President, has begun his tenure of office by the execution of Orientation in a most unusual way and the appointment of Student representatives. One of his first acts was to plan an orientation program for the freshmen and transfer students. This consisted of a series of informal meetings which seemed to go over well with the new additions to CVC. Also during the orientation a dance was held Tuesday, September 4th which was one that will be long remembered. C.T. Pittsford's, CVC's own red hot rock group topped previous performances at the college and helped stretch the year off in an enthusiastic way.

One of Mr. Stewart’s acts of his office consisted of making appointments of various student members to the 1973-74 Faculty Standing Committees! The following students were appointed to the Thursday, Sept. 4th meeting:

Building: Mr. Eddie Dotson and Mr. Patrick Thompson.
Curriculum: Mr. Gary Laydon and Mr. Chester D. Stanley.
Discipline and Judiciary: Mr. Bill Johnson and Mr. Henry Vanover.
Film Series: Mr. Tom Netherlund and Mr. Monte Deel.
Finance: Mr. Greg Stewart and Miss Carol Thompson.
Grounds: VACANT.
Hair Styling: Miss Rita Jo Ring and Miss Karen Sullivan.
Library: Miss Sharon Ross and Miss Rhonda Gillette.
Orientation and Registration: Miss Paula Sullivan and Miss Vicki Woodward.
Planning: Miss Karen Sullivan and Mr. Boyce Mullins.
Publications: Mr. Greg Olinger.
Rules: Miss Rhonda Gilbert and Mr. John Bishop.
Social: Mr. Greg Stewart and Mr. Royce Mullins.
Student Aid: VACANT.
Student Welfare: Mr. Bob Horne and Mr. Eddie Dotson.
Admissions: VACANT.

The new program has been funded by the Federal Government at CVC to supplement the present Upward Bound Project. The Student Special Services Program is designed to aid through counseling and tutoring any student who is in need of academic assistance or who need help with personal problems.

A new program will bring a new full time counselor to the CVC campus as well as a secretary. These people will be working both with CVC campus as well as a secretary. These people will be working both with CVC students in the regular school year and then with Upward Bound in the summers.

In an interview with the Highland Cavalier, Ron Elsner, Program Director for both Special Services and Upward Bound, in-"This new program, the student Special Services, will be one of the most important programs on this campus. The prime purpose will be to help students with ability, but a poor educational background, stay in school and better prepare themselves for their occupation or personal life. With Student Special Services, Clinch Valley College can admit and help students who might have been refused admission in the past. Also, we feel Student Special Services can help college bound recruits who are in the Armed Forces.

Mrs. Julia Heise, Counselor for the programs, encouraged anyone interested in becoming a tutor to apply for an application in the Upward Bound office located on the 3rd floor of the Administration Building. Some 20 - 30 positions must be filled for this program and the hourly rate will be $2.00 per hour and the time is only one weekend.

Applications for 12 tutor positions are being accepted at the Upward Bound Project this year are also being taken. The program is available to students traveling to nearby high schools to help Upward Bound students who are having difficulties.

CVC Coed On Governor’s Youth Council

Ms. Patricia Lynn Kennedy, a graduate of Appalachia High School and a student at Clinch Valley College, was appointed to the 1973 Governor’s Youth Council. The Council is comprised of thirteen students from twelve colleges and universities throughout the state, in the third such council to be convened under the sponsorship of the Virginia Commission for Children and Youth. Their purpose is to encourage the participation of young people in state government, and to provide fresh outlooks on problems facing the Commonwealth.

The Council recently completed a three-week work session in Richmond during which time they conducted a study to identify problems and areas that should be studied in greater detail. The extensive report that resulted from this meeting covered topics such as education, human affairs, administration, commerce and resources, and judiciary. Their findings will be the subject of research at the state colleges and universities during the 1973-74 academic year. A second session is planned for November at which time they will meet with the Governor-elect to discuss their recommendations.
Godwin On Right To Work-Sales Tax

Richmond, Aug. 23 - Former governor Mills Godwin of Richmond, Va., is making sure that the people of the state are not being cheated by the state's Department of Taxation and Registration. He recently told a group of students at CVC (Chancellor Valley Community College) that they should not be afraid to challenge the state on their taxes.

He said that the philosophy of government should be to protect the interests of the people, not to keep them in the dark. He believes that every citizen has a right to know what their taxes are and how they are being spent. Godwin feels that the people should be involved in the decision-making process and that they should have the opportunity to challenge the government if they feel that their rights are being violated.

A Question Of Priorities

The world is open and free, and the individual is entitled to the ability to create and destroy. A mind which is freely and profitably occupied in learning, is often strangled by the majority of us who live in the past. In the coming weeks, the quality of the student body will show itself in the way that they choose to express themselves. The student body should be allowed to express their ideas in a way that is not constrained by the majority. The student body should be allowed to make their own decisions and to work on their own projects. The student body should be allowed to make their own mistakes and to learn from them.

CVC Drama: The Lewis Years Part I

Charles Lewis' dedication to CVC Drama is well known. Due largely to his active role in the Drama Department, CVC has become a highly respected institution in the field of drama. Lewis' dedication to CVC Drama can be seen in the many productions that he has directed and in the many students who have been inspired by his work.

Lewis' dedication to CVC Drama is evident in the way that he works with his students. He is always willing to help his students in any way that he can. He is a great teacher and a great mentor. His dedication to CVC Drama is an inspiration to all who know him.

Voluntary Withdrawal - An official application to withdraw must be obtained from the Registrar, and must be approved by writing from the Dean of the College, with a statement of the reason for withdrawal. A student under twenty-one years of age must have parental approval for such withdrawal. The application must then be deposited with the Librarian and the Business Office. When complete, the withdrawal form must be deposited with the Dean, who will forward it to the Registrar.

A student will be permitted to withdraw from the College without penalty up to within one week of the examination period. A student, whose application for withdrawal has been accepted, may withdraw voluntarily at any time after the last day to withdraw without penalty. The refund of fees for that term will be calculated as follows: one-half of fees will be refunded if the application is received before the last day of registration, and one-fourth if the application is received before the last day to withdraw without penalty. No refund will be made if the withdrawal request is received after the last day to withdraw without penalty. The application must be approved in writing by the Dean of the College.

A student who withdraws after the last day to withdraw without penalty shall not be entitled to a refund of fees for that term. Any refund shall be calculated as follows: one-half of fees will be refunded if the application is received before the last day of registration, and one-fourth if the application is received before the last day to withdraw without penalty. No refund will be made if the withdrawal request is received after the last day to withdraw without penalty. The application must be approved in writing by the Dean of the College.
