Homecoming Plans Announced

by Lynn Mullins

Plans for the annual Homecoming of Clay Valley College were announced by SCA President, Greg Stewart, at the regular meeting of the Student Council on Sunday January 29th.

Activities planned will cover more than one night with the Cavaliers giving their home game against Emory and Henry's Wasps on Thursday, February 2nd and a concert on Saturday, February 9th.

During the half-time of the Cavalier - Wasps clash the new CVC Homecoming Queen will be crowned by the reigning Queen, Miss Jennifer Colley. As always the student body will elect the new Queen. On Tuesday, January 30th, voting areas will be set up near the entrance of the Jefferson gymnasium so that students may nominate their top five choices.

Then a week later, on February 5th, the five girls receiving the most votes in the first balloting will be listed on another ballot for Queen. Governor Wampler will announce one girl to be the 1973-74 Homecoming Queen.

The Concert on Saturday night will feature "Wel Williams" who recently appeared on the Don Christian Rock Concert and "Birtha", a unique all girl rock band. Both bands are classified as being hard rock advocates. Admission for the concert was not determined at press time but will be announced soon.

Holton Includes CVC Student Union In Budget

Outgoing Governor, A. Lwood Holton, has given Clay Valley College a generous going-away present. Governor Holton, who left office on January 13th, asked the General Assembly for $440,000 in state funds in his proposed budget to assist in financing a student union building for the College.

Originally the College was planning to raise the money to build the student center solely by revenue bonds. These bonds have not been well sold so far so the College was forced to seek the help of the General Assembly. The Governor's budget proposal was received by the General Assembly, and Chairman of the History Committee of the College, President, Greg Stewart, at the President's recent meeting with the College. It was planned to be issued in bonds.

Activities Fees wouId have to be raised each Thursday until May 23. The course will be taught by Dr. William Hooper, professor of physics and astronomy at Clay Valley College. It will be taught on the campus of the College.

Astronomy Class Begins

January 31st

The University of Virginia School of Continuing Education will offer a seven-week course in astronomy at Clay Valley College on Thursday evenings beginning January 31st.

The course is a 3-credit hour course in descriptive astronomy with a minimum of mathematics. It will be primarily a study of the solar system. (A second course, Astronomy 2, not being offered at this time, covers the universe outside the solar system.) The course will be taught by Dr. William Hooper, professor of physics and astronomy at Clay Valley College. It will be the first to cover such a wide range of topics as the one to be taught at Clay Valley College.

Weekly meetings (held in the Building lecture hall) at CVC. Tuition for the course is $63, payable on the first day.

The Governor's budget request for its economic wealth.

Holton, a native of Big Stone Gap, has been a tremendous aid to the growth of Clay Valley College. Very recently the Governor raised some new money in the form of bonds for construction. The bonds begin the new gymnasium and the old gymnasium will be converted to a student union building. The Governor's budget request was for $440,000 in state funds to assist in financing a student union building for the College. A close eye is being kept by College officials to see if the General Assembly will follow the Governor's budget request and approve the money.
Wellesley High Students
Greet Veterans From Appalachia

A group of students from the Appalachian Mountain region of Virginia, and daughters of coal miners, came to Wellesley College on Sunday, January 4, 1971, to write the reviewing student body. They were warmly welcomed by the students at the college and given a tour of the campus. The students were impressed by the kindness of the people they met, and by the beauty of the campus. The students were also given a chance to meet many of the students at the college, and to learn more about the Appalachian Mountain region.

The Clinch Valley College Cavaliers were thriving double overtime encounter with Maryville College by a score of 95-86. I have to admit that this was a very poorly played game by both teams but victory is always sweet, so let's enjoy it!

The team nearly met before it was evident that they should have stayed overtime. The game was now forced with 4:00 seconds to go, the crowd was on its feet as the Cavaliers made up even at 92-92. I have to admit that this was a very poorly played game by both teams but victory is always sweet, so let's enjoy it!
