Gibson, Lumiansky To Highlight March Lectures

Early March will bring two noted lecturers to Clinch Valley College. The Eisenberg Lecture Series and the University Center Lecture Series will be represented this month by an expert in English literature and a prominent engineer.

The Ralph Eisenberg Lecture for March will be delivered by Dr. John E. Gibson, Commonwealth Professor and Dean of the School of Engineering and Applied Science. Dr. Gibson will speak in the new Administration Building Lecture Hall on Tuesday March 5, at 1:15 p.m.

Dr. Gibson has published about 40 papers and 25 technical reports in the field of automatic control, is the co-author of the book Central System Components (1958), which has been translated into Polish and Japanese, and is the author of the book Nearest Automatic Control Theorists, which has been translated into Japanese, Polish and Romanian and is Introduction to Engineering Design (1968). He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, ASME, ASEE, IEEE, and is past chairman of the Non-Linear Control Theory Committee of the American Automatic Control Council and member of the Theory Committee of the International Federation of Automatic Control.

In July 1965, Gibson was appointed Dean of Engineering at Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan. In 1966, he was appointed consultant to the Electronics Research Center, NASA in Cambridge, participating in establishing research goals in High Speed Ground Transportation for the Department of Commerce and in 1968, was appointed chairman of the guest editorial board for the special issue of the Proceedings of the IEEE on Transportation. He is a past member of the IEEE Education Medal Board and IEEE member of the ECPD Accreditation Committee. In June 1972, Gibson was appointed the John F. Dodge Chair at Oakland. In July 1973, Gibson became Commonwealth Professor and Dean of Engineering and Applied Science, University of Virginia, Charlottesville.

The subject of Gibson's lecture will be "Urban Revitalization: A Systems Approach".

Robert M. Lumiansky, Chairman and Professor, Department of English of the University of Pennsylvania, will be speaking at Clinch Valley College on Tuesday, March 12, at 9:00 a.m. in the new Administration Building Lecture Hall.

Dr. Lumiansky has served on the faculties of the University of North Carolina, Tulane University, and Duke University. He has contributed articles and reviews in many professional journals and was included in the Critical Appraisals in his Major English Works: Bewweld through Paradise Lost. He was editor and contributor for Malory's Originality: A Critical Enquiry of Le Morte D'Arthur. Professor Lumiansky is the author of the following books: Chaucer's Canterbury Tales in Modern English, Chaucer's Troilus and Cressida in Modern English, Of Emily Puck: The Dramatic Principle in the Canterbury Tales. Classes will be on a consent basis and schedule to allow as many students as wish to attend the lecture. Dr. Lumiansky will be speaking on the subject: "The Present State of Graduate Education in English."
The College has been recently under siege by those who have decided to cut the budget. This is a time when we are all in a state of flux and it is important to know that things are not as bad as they seem. The cuts are not as drastic as they might appear, and we should all be aware of the situation.

A Commentary

Surprises About Our Women!!

by Bernard Tait

I recently conducted a physical survey among the Randolph-Macon Women's Association. My results were surprising, to say the least. I found that women are not as weak as we all thought, and that they can handle almost anything. Each woman is an individual, and you can never underestimate their strength.

Library Notes

A student is searching for information about J. F. O'Donohue, the author of the anthology "The American Novel" (1911). Does anyone know where I can find this book?

The combination of the two events was quite entertaining. The performance was well-received by the audience, and it was a great way to spend the evening.

Editor Said Unfair

Dear Mr. Burns,

I found last week's issue of the student newspaper to be unfair in its treatment of the issue of "political correctness" in writing. The article was poorly written and did not accurately reflect the views of those affected by the issue.

Impeachment Committee Organizes

More Cuts, a CVC student, has announced plans for the "Committee for the Impeachment of President Nixon. The meeting is planned for Thursday, February 15th, at 7:30 p.m., in the CVC Library. There is no need to register, and all are welcome.

Intramural Statists

Under construction now is a structure that will be one of the most popular spots on campus. It is the new swimming pool. It is expected to be completed by June 1973. The pool will be located in the old pool area and will be open to all students. It is a great addition to our recreation program.

CVC Girls Win 2, Lose 1

by Danny Wood

The girls' basketball team of Cline Valley College upset its opponent to record a 64-46 win over Virginia Intermont and narrowed the lead of the division this week. The girls lost by a very talented Emory and Henry ball club.

In the first game, CVC traveled to Emory to take a lead. The second half was marked by a very intense battle between Emory and the CVC team. The first quarter was a cold and wet battle for both teams. At the half, Emory outscored Clinch Valley 17-18 the 3rd quarter for an 18-15 lead and managed to pull out a 43-30 victory.

The CVC girls’ basketball team received a boost from several sources of the college and was in at this writing in Williamsburg. Virginia to participate in the Sports Day program in that city February 21-23. This program is a state-wide girls basketball tournament. The CVC girls will play against several teams. Coach Nancy Jones announced the team on the trip. The girls won their last home game of the season on Monday February 21 at 3:45 p.m. in the O’Neal Gymnasium.

Robin Robinson Leads Cavallette Scorers

by Danny Wood

After eleven games on the hardwood floors the Clinch Valley girls are led in scoring by Robin Robinson. Here are the girls averages one by one: Robin Robinson. Robin is leading scorer with 13.8 points per game average. Her high games were 29 against Milligan and 28 against Virginia Inter- mont. Nancy Jones- Nancy is second leading scorer and probably leading rebounder on the team. She’s averaging 10.9 points per game. Her best games were an 18 point performance against L.M.U. and 17 against Virginia Inter- mont. Becky Beverly- Becky is one of the better ball handlers on the team as well as equally efficient with her left or right hand. Becky is averaging 6.1 points per game. Her high game was 16 points against Milligan. Kathy Mullins- Kathy is a very good rebounder for the Cavallettes. She is averaging 4.9 points per game. Her high game was 9 points against Milligan. Jenny Chaplin- Jenny seems to be a very good rebounder on the Cavallettes. She is averaging 4.9 points per game. Her high game was 9 points against Milligan. Becky Shumate- Becky is one of the better rebounders on the team as well as an unschis team player. Becky adds a 1.0 point per game average. Becky is especially sweet for the girls. Their win-loss record isn’t much to brag about, but the girls dedication deserves a lot of praise.

Sportsmanship Ratings

Beginning tonight, all officials will be asked to rate each game and indicate how the rating is based. The ratings will be published each week just as the officials ratings are published. The following is the rating scale:

1. technical foul on any player or coach automatically reduces the rating to a 4.
2. every additional technical foul lowers the rating 1 additional mark.
