Holton, Smiddy Make Splash At Pool Dedication

Over 150 people participated in the dedication of clinch valley college's new Junior Olympic size swimming pool Friday evening. Secretary of State, Linwood Holton, long a friend of CVC, was the guest speaker for the affair. Mr. Holton, SCA President, acted as Master of Ceremonies for the day and introduced Honor Court Chairman, Nancy Jones, CVC Advisory Board Chairman, Leslie Mullins, and Dean of the College, Emmet Law, all of whom gave welcomes on behalf of different facets of the College.

Dean Law called Holton, "the greatest Governor in the United States", during his welcome and credited the former Virginia Chief Executive with much of CVC's continued growth.

Chancellor Joseph Smiddy performed the task of introducing the many special guests attending the affair and then introduced the guest speaker.

After receiving a standing ovation Holton made several remarks, reflective remarks about CVC, Virginia, and the nation. He began by holding up his choice of a Levi jacket and jeans combination as attire for the dedication. "Knowing Joe Smiddy," he said, "I realize it was a pool I was to dedicate I knew I had to wear something 'waterable and washable.'"

The former Governor also claimed credit for the condition of the "Wise Virginia Home of Clinch Valley College" sign near the campus by recalling jokingly having threatened the Chancellor near budget time if it wasn't repainted. He also spoke of how he missed the excitement and travel of the Governorship but that his new job as Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Affairs was challenging and important.

"You Governor", as he was called throughout the day, then turned to a philosophical discussion of education and the nation's recent Watergate trauma.

He said the advances made in Virginia's educational system and noted that CVC always held a dear place in his heart due to the important role the College plays in higher education in Southwest Virginia.

He ended the advances made in Virginia's educational system and noted that CVC always held a dear place in his heart due to the important role the College plays in higher education in Southwest Virginia.

Holton called the experiences of being in the Federal bureaucracy during Watergate traumatic. He reaffirmed, through it all, in his view, it proved that the Constitution worked and that the nation was strong. Gov. Holton recalled the story of Senate minority leader, Hugh Scott, who reportedly returned to his office after President Ford was sworn in and addressed a letter to James Madison of "one mark of good work." A little later he allegedly received a reply to his unseen letter saying, "I know it would" and signed, simply, "Madison." Holton smiled and added that he shared both men's views.

The dedication ceremony ended with Gov. Holton being thrown into the pool by CVC students, Donna Williams, who also jumped in with him. Chancellor Joseph Smiddy ended up "all wet", a few moments later, after being thrown into the pool by Dr. Richard Farka and Professor Charles Lewis.

Monday Convocation

Pol. Scientist To Open Lectures

Dr. Theodore J. Lowi, John L. Sever Professor of American Institutions at Cornell University, will be speaking at Clinch Valley College on Monday, October 7 at 9:30 a.m. in the administration building lecture hall. Dr. Lowi's topic will be "The State of Permanent Recreational: The Political Consequences and Ramifications of Such a State."

Jailhouse Blues-Almost

Many people are probably wondering what happened to their Highland Cavaliers and it's not that they have disappeared, it's just that they have been temporarily taken away. I had been working on my package for the current issue when all of a sudden my car was stolen. Someone broke into my car and took all of my research notes. I was about to start working on a new package for the next issue when my car was stolen. Now I'm stuck at home, unable to work on my new package. But don't worry, I'll be back soon. Pro Musica Meets Again

The first meeting of the Pro Musica Society for the 1974-75 season will be held at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday, October 3, in the library. This society is composed of students and faculty who enjoy listening to classical music. Meetings will usually be held on the first and third Thursdays of each month and last for about an hour and a half. The society cordially welcomes anyone interested to attend our meetings. The society is quite small but its membership draws large numbers of people.

CVC Wins Fall Opener

The Tennis team of CVC lost its chance to win the season by swamping Bluefield Baptist College 8-1 last Monday. The varsity team, which won 11-4 last year, opened with a new coach and four new freshmen.

Doug Elossor, who originally started tennis at "VT," is the coach. Bluefield Baptist's tournament team is anchored by Gene Garrett from Litchfield, Marylund and No. 4 Adrian Birmingham from McLean, Virginia. The other two freshmen fighting for a position on the squad are Joe Mullin and Tony Graham.

The returning team consists of Danny Wood-No. 1, "Turk" Bidwell-No. 2, Chuck Keene at No. 3, and Pat Thompson at No. 4.

The day started off rather slowly for the Cavaliers with some close matches. Danny won at No. 1 over Dale Mitchell 6-4, 6-1 to run his career record to 7-3. Cover a two-year period. As fine a slate as anyone could ask for. "Turk" Bidwell-No. 2 went the full route on Terry White before winning 6-2, 6-0, 6-3. "Turk" has been on the team for three years and has been a mainstay and contributor to the winning team. Chuck Keene from Grundy, Virginia returned his second year as a varsity player with 7-6, 6-2, 6-0 win over Jimmy Kelley. Pat Thompson ran the full route on Herb Coulting before winning 7-6, 7-0, 6-4, 6-1; Patrick is also starting his second varsity season. Gene Garrett opened his varsity career with 6-0, 6-4, 6-2 victory over Bill Flaherty, Adrian Birmingham opened his career with an easy victory over John Edmonds 8-4, 6-4.

In doubles competition Bond and Wood defeated Cochran and White 8-4, 6-0; Garrett and Birmingham defeated Coulting and Kelley 6-1, 7-6; and Flaherty and Edmonds spoiled the debut of Tony Graham and Joe Mullin 6-0, 6-4, 6-0.

CVC travels to Pishville and Bluefield next week.

Lambert's Prophecies

Well, I am down from close nine. After having a pretty good first week, reality smacked me in the face.

I thought this was one half the regular weeks. If you bowl you know bowling will be $10 for each 8 frames.

The shoes will be provided free.
