

Hopes For Campus Chapel Dashed!

By Gary Cloes

It looks as if any hopes for a chapel at Clinch Valley College are dashed again. The latest chapter in the chapel's troubled history occurred at the bidding last March when the lowest accepted bid was $56,000 over the University of Virginia's estimated cost of $220,000. At this time Chancellor Smiddy said that CVC and UVA planners are reviewing the plans for the chapel and are trying to lower the cost through a cheaper heating and cooling system. However the future of the chapel appears dubious.

Clinch Valley College and a representative from the University of Virginia received three bids one of which was late and therefore unacceptable. The lowest accepted bid came from Armstrong Construction of Kingsport which has also built the swimming pool and Drama building. Armstrong's bid was $236,000 dollars, $86,000 over the estimated cost by UVA and $25,000 over the lowest bid received, which was not accepted because of the deadline.

At the time the bids were received, Clinch Valley College had $196,000 dollars, $36,000 of that from state funding for water and sewer facilities. Since then the chapel fund has received another $10,000 dollars $5000 from the Westmoreland Coal Company. The remainder was made up from private donations, most notably from the Cohen family and friends who have donated close to the entire amount of money the fund has in it.

If one looks at the figures it is apparent that CVC is apx. $76,000 short of a chapel. If the planners of UVA do trim off the expected $20,000 the shortage is even less, approximately $56,000 which is the cost of many homes on today's market. Yet when this shortage is filled by more donations it is most likely that inflation will raise the building cost even more. However, in response to these doubts, Chancellor Smiddy stated, "We're getting a chapel." He cited the fact that more donations are coming in all the time and since the bids were received $10,000 dollars has been added to the fund.

When asked why Clinch Valley did not redesign the chapel to make it cheaper Chancellor Smiddy described the problem encountered with the government everytime, stating, "The red tape is absolutely terrible." He then described a jungle of bureaucratic mountains the plans had to go through to be approved, all taking two years or more. He also mentioned that CVC had already paid the architects $12,000 for the plans. However, he said, "If we could get the money its not as if we have to start over.", an since we have already crossed the wilderness of red tape, it is only money that is holding the chapel up.

When Chancellor Smiddy was told there is growing criticism among the students about the need for such a building when classrooms, dorms and other areas of the college need improvements he replied the money was specifically donated towards a chapel. "The chapel can be used by student groups for any kind of meeting.", and Chancellor Smiddy went on to say the chapel was, "not envisioned for regular church services." In the future he hoped the chapel would be connected by a covered walkway to the proposed Student Union Building and in some way be a part of the Student Building. He said the Cohen family being of the Jewish faith recognized the diversity of

Clinch Valley College Receives Mining Royalties

Clinch Valley College has received approximately 130,000 dollars from the strip mining of college lands. The money, royalties from the first of four years of planned mining, is collecting interest in a bank account under the supervision of the Governor's Budget Committee. Clinch Valley has sole access to the funds but must get the approval of the committee first.

A total of 300,000 dollars is eventually expected to be gotten by the mining operators of Paramount Coal Co. The money is then expected to be used with money gotten from the state for the construction of a Student Union.

Once the mining operation is finished the land will be reclaimed to a 7 percent slope with an 8-acre lake. Other specific details of the reclamation have not as of yet been planned. As the result of several criticisms of reclamation efforts in the area both Chancellor Smiddy and the Director of the Bureau of Mines and Reclamation have promised to keep on the miner's backs over reclamation.

The land was originally bought by the college for 700,000 dollars as orphaned land. When the agreement was made for the land to be stripped 50,000 dollars was advanced to the college and a gift of a plane was made. The plane was sold for 22,000 dollars, part of which was used for air conditioning of the lounge. Recent rumors of another gift plane are untrue. The remaining 8,000 dollars is not being used and the administration is open for suggestions.

Plans for the final use of the reclaimed land have not yet made. A golf course was suggested, and a smiling Clayton Willis mentioned a Stadium.

One interesting aspect of the issue is that the University of Virginia's official policy on strip mining is negative. This reportedly has caused some friction between the College and UVA. The University's lawyers drew up a contract which allows strip mining, indicating a change of position. On the other hand, Clinch Valley College at one time supposedly followed

U.V.A.'s policy on strip mining. Mr. Willis could not be reached for comment on the matter.

CVC Choir To Hold Spring Concert April 24

The relatively unknown Choir of Clinch Valley College will present its Spring Concert on Sunday, April 24, at 3:00 p.m. at the Gladeville Presbyterian Church in Wise.

The CVC Choir is currently composed of twenty singers, all students at CVC, who rehearse about three hours each week. Most of the singers have had little or no previous singing experience.

D. Michael Donathan, Assistant Professor of Music and Director of the Choir, holds degrees in music from Marshall University and Indiana University where he was a piano student of the internationally renowned concert pianist, Abbey Simon, and an organ student of the late Dr. George Wilson, Professor of Organ and Church Music. In addition, he has studied choral conducting and literature with R. Wayne Hugoboom, now Executive Secretary of the American Choral Director's Association. Dr. Allan Ross, Director of the Indiana University Chamber Singers, and Dr. Julius Herford, International authority in choral literature.

The program will include serious as well as not-so-serious choral music. Featured will be works by Vaughan Williams, Mendelssohn, Tchaikovsky, as well as Renaissance madrigals, a barbershop quartet, pop selections from Jesus Christ Superstar and Godspell, spirituals, and several solos by members of the Choir.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Campus Problems Discussed At Second Student Convocation

The second student convocation was called by L.H. Davis in the Science Building Auditorium Wednesday, April 20. Present amongst the students were Mr. Jim Gott, Brent Kennedy, and Clayton Willis.

Talk ranged from student housing to our stripmine revenues.

It appears that next fall we shall have around 340 on-campus residents, and right now there is no more additional housing being considered. Why? Because Crockett Hall will be renovated this summer (panelling and some additional rooms will be made). Otherwise, room rent in the new dorm will be up around $300 per semester.

There was discussion on some of our perennial questions: campus maintenance (we all

International Festival To Be Held April 30

On Saturday, April 30, beginning at noon, the Department of Modern Foreign Languages of Clinch Valley College will hold a festival entitled "It's a Small, Small World", to emphasize the closeness of nations and cultures in our planet.

Many people are working to make a success of this event. There will be music performances by the Wise Middle School Band, the Norton Elementary School Choir, the Wise Primary School Music Class, the Pound High School Band, The Trooper Max Band, and the J.J. Kelly Band.

The Coeburn Academy of Dance and Mrs. Jeannie Masters' student of J.I. Burton High School will perform modern and Spanish dances respectively. Also, the Filipino and Indian communities of our area will present dances, music, and a fashion show of national costumes.

A taco dinner prepared by Mrs. Mildred Hughes and her Spanish students of J.J. Kelly High School will be served. The International Club of Clinch Valley College is also sponsoring an international dinner. The Band Boosters of J.J. Kelly will be selling Italian ice cream. For the less culinary curious the Wise PTA will serve hot dogs and potato chips.

ERA: Boon Or Bane?

On March 23, 1972, Congress approved the Equal Rights Amendment—the proposed Twenty-Seventh Amendment to the United States Constitution. This proposal has been ratified by thirty-five states. Before the measure becomes law, three additional state legislatures must ratify it by March 23, 1979.

The Equal Rights Amendment states:
Section 1. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States on account of sex.

Section 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

Section 3. This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of ratification.

There is intense controversy on the possible effects of ratification on the activities of both women and men. We do not know how the courts would define "equality".

A major argument of opponents of the ERA is that existing federal laws such as the Equal Pay Act of 1963, the 1964 Civil Rights Act, the 1972 Educational Amendments, and the Equal Credit Opportunity Act of 1975 ensure the socio-economic equality of sexes. However, women and men do not, on the whole, receive equal pay for identical jobs.

For example, the U.S. Dept. of Labor recently reported the following facts in "The Earnings Gap Between Men and Women":

In 1974, women comprised only five percent of workers earning fifteen-thousand dollars or more per year. In the same year, a female college graduate age 23-34 earned, on the average, seventy percent of her male counterpart's salary. A female nongraduate age 45-54 earned fifty four percent of her male counterpart's pay.

Proponents of ERA feel that ratification of the measure will be an impetus for enforcement of existing equal protection laws. In my opinion, the ERA is more than a reiteration of existing laws; if ratified, this proposal will effect a revitalization of these laws.

Letters To The Editor

Disbanding SDB: Beginning Of The End?

Editor:

The Student Disciplinary Board met this afternoon. After a lengthy discussion the members of the Board decided that certain conditions must be brought to your attention. The Board cannot operate without the good will and active cooperation of the Student Body, Student Council, and Administration of the College.

It is the duty of any member of the student body, who knows of a violation of the Standards of Conduct, to report this violation to the Student Disciplinary Board. If a student does not know what the Standards of Conduct prohibit, they are in the college catalog, or I will willingly provide them with a copy.

It is the duty of the Student Council to support the Board in our dealings with the Administration and to see that our rights are protected. We are the judiciary branch of the Student Council. They are supposed to see that we are operating and doing our job. This they have not done.

It is the duty of the administration to see that we try those students who have allegedly violated the Standards of Conduct and to turn over their disciplinary function in this regard to us. This they have failed to do.

This lack of support from the students and administration may be due to a lack of knowledge of our guidelines or confusing interpretations. We are in the process of remedying this problem. Should this lack of support continue the Board will be forced to request that the Student Council consider disbanding the Board.

Sincerely,

Sherry Lee Wilson,
Chairman

Tabor Protest Violation Of Natural Rights

Dear Editor,

I have long been contemplating the composition of an article voicing my feelings about the thoughtless students and faculty who insist that they have the privilege to impose their worthless habit of cigarette smoking upon the others of us who don't smoke and are offended by the by-product of their actions. I was fortunate enough to run across an article written by Frank Kilgore in the March 17, 1975 issue of the Highland Cavalier, which pretty well sums it up. How much longer are the people who have enough sense not to smoke, going to put up with this violation of their natural rights? Perhaps we non-smokers can find an equally offensive action to use against the smokers to prove our point. Perhaps a liberal spray of Lysol in the face of each cigarette friend who "blows smoke" our way might even the score. Actually, if they want to kill themselves and have their lives controlled by their habit, let them. However, I would ask that I be given the right to breathe clean air as this process is necessary to my survival.

The significance of the convocation lies in the discussion; even if the students don't feel that they are getting the proper answers, we must at least, see the relevance of having these administrators to take the time out to come over and listen to our often hastily conceived questions and proposals. So, on behalf of the students present for the convocation and those yaraks not present, the Cavalier would like to extend it's thanks to Mrs. Gott, Kennedy, and especially Mr. Willis.

The Library: A People Place II

By Susan Waddell
Library Assistant in Public Services

This is the second of the three-article series to acquaint you with the Library staff and the services we offer. April 17-23 is National Library Week. In recognition of this, we have put up a library display requesting you to LOVE YOUR LIBRARY and colorful posters exhorting you to GET CARRIED AWAY, GET YOUR FACTS STRAIGHT, and SAY SOMETHING DYNAMITE. Also we have free booklets available at the Circulation Desk. Reading is vital to job advancement and personal improvement. Remember, YOU ARE WHAT YOU READ!

Last week I introduced you to the Technical Services Department where books, audiovisuals, government documents, and pamphlets are received, then sent to Cataloging. Here they are analyzed so that you will know what we have in our collection and where to find it. Mrs. Phyllis Price is our librarian in charge of Cataloging. She received her B.A. from West Virginia State College with a double major in English and history and also was certified for primary and secondary teaching. After teaching in the primary grades, Mrs. Price went on to receive her Master's Degree in Arts in Library Science from East Tennessee State University. She came to work for the John Cook Wylie Library in 1969.

As Cataloging Librarian, Mrs. Price supervises the preparation of all library materials before they are put on the shelves. She establishes policies and procedures and currently is in the process of compiling a cataloging manual. She has overall supervision of each step in the cataloging process for all types of media—books, records, cassettes, games, maps, etc. Whenever necessary, Mrs. Price does original cataloging of materials that do not have library of Congress cards available.

This involves not only giving a concise description of the book, but also skimming the book for proper subject headings. In effect, she writes her own catalog cards. Mrs. Price maintains the card catalogs, the shelf list files, and the with-drawn files. In this capacity, she supervises alphabetical filing in the catalogs, shifting of cards, replacement of worn-out cards, and additions of SEE and SEE ALSO reference cards. Sometimes Mrs. Price is called upon to develop her own cataloging system such as the one in the Educational Materials Center especially prepared for the benefit of aspiring teachers. Finally she makes weekly statistical reports on Fastcat and in-progress materials to the Head Librarian. Mrs. Price supervises Ms. Patricia Bolling, Library Assistant, and four student workers in her department.

Ms. Patricia Bolling works half time for Cataloging and half time for Technical Services. In the Cataloging Department, Pat is responsible for checking typed Library of Congress cards for errors and omissions, checking the correct filing of catalog cards in both the divided and the shelf list catalogs, supervising student workers, and doing some basic cataloging. Since coming to work in the Library three years ago, Pat has gained a lot of practical library knowledge and experience because she's worked in all three departments.

Four students help Mrs. Price in the Cataloging Department. Brenda Lawson, a freshman majoring in Business and Public Administration, began work in the Library last fall. She files subject cards and makes SEE and SEE ALSO cards. A quiet, fun-loving girl from Virginia Beach, Brenda likes sports, especially softball. She thinks more people should use the Library.

Theresa Hayes is a sophomore Biology major from Pound who hopes to enter the Physical Therapy field. She especially likes reading, cooking, going to movies, and learning more about Biology and Psychology. While working in the Library, Theresa has broadened her views in many subject areas and met many interesting and stimulating people. She searches for Library of Congress cards, does labeling, and works with Fastcat books. Theresa Yates, a junior from Grundy who has been with the Library since last summer. She is an Accounting major who enjoys hiking and reading, and is an active member of Phi Beta Lambda. She has attended Phi Beta Lambda conferences in Richmond, Virginia and Birmingham, Alabama. Theresa does a little of everything in the Cataloging Department - filing in the title catalog, labeling, and typing. Cathy Yates is a senior from Grundy graduating in December with a degree in Business and Public Administration. She has been with the Library for four years and feels she has gained a lot of experience by working here. Cathy types for the Cataloging Department. In her spare time, she enjoys sewing, reading, and tennis.

CVC Faculty Member Accosted By Professional Hit Man

Mike O'Donnell, of the foreign languages department, was partially terrorized by a professional "Heavy" in his office on the eighteenth of April, Monday.

A faculty member stated, "I heard hard talk and the skanking sound of flesh hitting the floor. The door was locked and I heard the thug say real meanlike, 'Tell me about the frivolous activity on the twenty third, this coming Saturday, or nothin'.' Then I hear the unbearable sound of somebody tearing a Farah Fawcett Majors poster and O'Donnell screamed, 'Please, by that which is yet Holy in Ireland, not that! Beat me, kick me, But not that!'"

At this point, the faculty member and a secretary (she did most of the work) pried the door. They were in time to glimpse a hairy, lumbering thing jump through the second story window. O'Donnell was on his knees, clasping the ruptured poster and a roll of scotch tape.

Campus security immediately suspected the H.R.E.B. It was leaked they had given a so called "Tiger Man" four ice cream sandwiches for the job. They denied it. "Tiger Man", who has forgotten his real name, although offered six nutty buddies to tell the truth, denied the accusations. He stated, with a sweaty red face, "Go away, I'm doin' leg work."

Mr. O'Donnell recovered quickly. He invites everyone to participate in the said activity at ten a.m. near Emma McCrary Dorm. No skill is required for this event, which allows the entire student body to participate.

There is no CHARGE BUT A HAPPY DISPOSITION. Those who show will profit for they will be shown a good time. Participants will be placed in, or may come as a pair or group. The three categories will be individual, couple and group.

Tickets are on sale for Donathan's Gang and Spectrum. Both perform the preceding evening. Donathan's gang, which includes among others, Ken Adams, Dallas Tanner, Vicki Milliken, will perform at the picnic grounds at seven p.m. Spectrum gives some fine rock and roll type boogie woogie top forty elite selections in the Jefferson Lounge at nine p.m. Tickets are one dollar now and two dollars then.

The affair is sponsored by the English department.

religious views and felt the chapel should be for all people at Clinch Valley College regardless of their religious convictions.

It seems that despite the bleak outlook concerning the chapel Chancellor Smiddy appears confident CVC will get a chapel. However, given the figures, the rate of donations and the rate of inflation a chapel at CVC appears to be a long way off in the future. Only a massive outpouring of support from the students, faculty, administration, and the local area could bring a chapel here in the near future.

GARY COOPER!

On April 24, at 3:00 and 8:00 P.M. in the Science Lecture Hall, The Sunday Flicks Film Series will present an exciting double feature. First there's HIGH NOON, the immortal western, which features Gary Cooper in his Academy Award winning performance. LOST HORIZON, not to be confused with the recent back remake, is a marvelous adventure tale about plane crash survivors who discover a hidden paradise, Shangra-La. Ronald Coleman and Jane Wyatt star. An unforgettable double-bill - not to be missed!

Men's Tennis Back On Win Streak!

The Clinch Valley College Men's Tennis Team came up with two convincing victories, back to back on Monday, April 18, 1977, and Tuesday, April 19, 1977.

On Monday the Tennis Team traveled to Bluefield College, Bluefield, Va., where they scored an 8-1 win. Winners in singles were as follows: at #1, Bob Larsen, 6-3 and 7-6; at #3, Neal Ward 6-3, 6-3; at #4, Adrian Birmingham, 6-3, 6-1; at #5, Mike Rowland, 6-1, 6-8; at #6, Calvin Musich, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

CVC swept all 3 doubles matches against Bluefield: at #1, Larsen and Ward, 6-1, 6-1; at #2 Gary Gilliam and Mike Rowland, 6-4, 6-0; at #3, Birmingham and Musich, 6-1, 6-2.

In singles play, Bob Larsen held off in a story finish to win his second set in a tie-breaker. Neal Ward was his usual consistent self, his match never being in doubt. Both Birmingham and Rowland overpowered their respective opponents while Musich pulled a spectacular come-back to win in three sets going away.

On Tuesday, April 19, CVC played New River in Dublin, Va. Again the outcome was 8-1.

Winners for CVC in single play were: at #1, Bob Larsen, 6-2, 6-0, in a quick win, at #2, Neil Ward, 6-3, 7-5; in a well-played and close match; at #4, Mike Rowland, 6-2, 6-1, continuing his steady and overpowering play; at #5, Adrian Birmingham, 6-0, 6-1, a courtsey match; at #6, Calvin Musich 6-1, 6-4, doing the job more quickly than on Mon., and just as well.

On Tuesday, as on Monday, CVC swept all three doubles matches: at #1, Larsen and Ward, 4-6, 6-0, 6-1, in a comeback win after a rain delay; at #2, Wyatt and Rowland, 7-5, 7-6, the second set decided by a tie-breaker, 5 points to 4; at #3, Birmingham and Musich, 4-6, 1-2, 7-5 in yet another tenacious win, a credit to the prior playing.

The two victories running put the CVC Men's Tennis Team back on the winning trail.

following a series of rain-outs, postponements, forfeits, and no-shows, for various reasons. In nearly a fully calendar year, the team has lost but 2 team matches, a tribute to the sacrifice the players are willing to make to practice and play in addition to fulfilling their academic responsibilities. To date, the tennis team has had a most successful season.

Sports Roundup

The Women's Tennis team is currently sporting an overall record of 3 - 2. The only two blemishes on the record have come from Va. Intermont and Emory and Henry.

During April, CVC has downed Milligan twice by scores of 6-3 and 8-1, and Tusculum by a 6-4 score. Looking at these matches individually, on April 2, CVC defeated Milligan by an 8-1 score. CVC Singles winners were Linda Walker over Brady 6-1, 6-1; Robin Olinger over Pierce 6-0, 6-1; Kathy Kilgore over Hardor 6-1, 6-2; Barbara Smith over Cook 6-2, 6-3; and Geri Wallace over Moss 6-0, 6-4. In an extra set, Ann Potter defeated Whitman 13-11. CVC won all doubles matches with Wood-Olinger defeating Brown-

Pierce 10-5; Kilgore-Walker downed Brady-Moses 10-8, Smith-Wallace defeated Harder-Cook 10-8.

April 5 was a tough day for the CVC netters, with only one victory in a singles match. VI took the contest by a 8-1 score. Sharon Wood won her singles match over Marion 8-3.

Milligan gave CVC a better effort April 12 on Milligan's courts, but CVC returned home the victor 6-3. Winning in singles play were Kathy Kilgore over Harder 6-1, 6-0; Barbara Smith over Cook 7-4, 6-4; Ann Potter over Moses 6-4, 7-8; and Tammy Belcher over Robertson 6-3, 6-2. Winning in doubles were Wood-Kilgore over Brown-Pierce 6-3, 7-6; and Potter-Belcher over Robertson-Whitmer 6-2, 6-2.

On April 14, CVC took a close one from Tusculum by a 5-4 score. CVC managed only two singles winners with Geri Wallace defeating Muschle 6-2, 6-2; and Tammy Belcher over Walker 7-4, 6-1. CVC swept the doubles matches. Wood-Kilgore over Jaynes-Andrews 8-4, Wallace-Smith defeated Muschle-Travis 6-3, 6-2; and Walker-Belcher downed Armstrong-Snell 6-4, 6-4.

With five matches remaining,

Coach Hubbard stated that she would like to break even and equal last season's record of 4-4, if not better. Aiding the netters on the homefront is Robin Olinger. Hubbard feels that the extra edge Robin can add in home matches is a great asset for the team. The next home match will be April 28 against Tusculum at 1:00.

Intramurals:
Finals of the men's and women's softball teams are scheduled for Sunday, April 24 beginning at 2:00. Finalists in the women's teams are the Knock-outs and the Superstars. At presstime, four teams are battling it out for the championship game on Sunday. These teams are the Champs, Shiny-Hineys, Phi Sig, and the Tall Boys CC's.

Women's Softball:
The Women's softball club at CVC has had a disappointing season with a record of 6-4, with one game remaining to be played at Emory and Henry. Since this club is more for recreational purposes than competition, the girls have gained a lot in the areas of softball skills.

CVC Summer Theatre

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia, is now accepting applicants for its third Summer Theatre Workshop - which will run from June 13 through July 22.

The workshop, restricted to students, will be open to qualified upcoming high school seniors (especially those who would like to get a head start on a future college program in theatre), new high school graduates, regular undergraduate college students, and elementary and secondary teachers seeking certification to teach dramatics.

The workshop is strictly production oriented. Students enrolled will attend no formal classes, but will be required to spend several hours daily in a wide variety of production activities—all leading to the public presentation of several student-directed studio productions and two staff-directed full length plays. (Tentatively scheduled: The Helms, a period play based on a novel by Henry James, and Plaza Suite, a modern comedy by Neil Simon.)

In so far as is possible, the workshop—for which participant will be awarded 6 semester hours of college credit upon successful completion—will be tailored to fit the individual theatrical interests and talents of those enrolled. It will begin on June 13 and end on July 22.

Persons interested in joining the workshop are requested to write to Professor Charles W. Lewis, Division of Humanities, Clinch Valley College, Wise, Virginia 24293 or call (703) 328-2431 (Ext. 200).

Portuondo Receives Fellowship

The National Endowment for the Humanities has awarded a fellowship to Professor Augusto Portuondo to participate in a Summer Seminar at the University of Georgia. The Seminar is entitled "Literature and the Arts in Bourbon, Spain, 1700-1833", and it will be directed by Professor John Dowling.

Mr. Portuondo has also been invited by the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese to participate as a panelist in a seminar on contemporary Cuban literature to be held in Madrid during the month of August.

Free Courses

For Senior Citizen

"Senior Citizens" may now enroll tuition-free in courses at State institutions provided they have reached the age of 60 and have had legal residence in Virginia for one year. These persons may enroll for full-time or part-time credit if their taxable income for the previous year did not exceed $5,000.

Clinch Valley College encourages Senior Citizens to enroll in courses taught either on the campus at Wise or at off-campus locations such as Pennington Gap, Clintwood, Lebanon, or at Southwest Virginia Community College in Richlands. Summer terms at Clinch Valley College begin on June 6, June 20, and July 11 with a choice of 5-week, 3-week, or 8-week terms. Classes will be offered in biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, economics, education, business, political science, psychology, social welfare, speech, English, swimming, and tennis.
