Old Man Winter dumps his wrath on CVC.

Students -

Know Your Educational Rights

The Registrar's Office at CVC would like to inform students of their rights concerning educational records. Due to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, and the Buckley Amendments, effective January 6, 1976, students have the right to:

1. To be provided with a list of the types of education records, as defined in the Act, which are maintained by the College and which are directly related to students;

2. To inspect and review the content of those records;
3. To obtain copies of those records upon payment of expenses;

4. To receive a response from the College to reasonable requests for explanations of those records; and

5. To receive confidential treatment by the College of education records; neither such records, nor personally identifiable information contained therein, will be released without student permission to anyone other than those parties specifically authorized by the Act.

For more specific information on who has the right to see your educational records and where these records are kept, a student may obtain a complete copy of these regulations from any faculty secretary, the Dean of Students Office, or any student services office such as the Financial Aid office or the Registrar's Office.

Focus...

Richard Frye SGA President

By: Valeri Jones

This week's focus will center on Richard Frye, President of the Student Government Association. President Frye took office on the night before the 1979 Spring graduation and will serve as president of the SGA until his term expires in May of 1980.

Frye termed his performance as SGA President as "The best I could do under the circumstances." He elaborated on that statement by saying, "Only one person can do so much. I have put in a lot of work in the office. The council wishes for things to be done, but the major bulk of those wishes are left for me alone to do."

As for new plans in 1980, Frye said he didn't foresee any. "I would be satisfied if I could successfully carry out the already established business," he reported.

Since Frye took office last year, he has overseen the SGA establishing a recreation room in the basement of McCrury Hall.

When asked about the possibility of the room closing due to lack of interest, Frye answered by saying, "I don't think so. As long as I'm SGA President, it won't. It has lost interest due to the fact of the cost to use it and like most things, people get tired of it." Frye says conditions will improve with the room and he feels that several students have been complaining because the room isn't open more than it is. "But I ask them to look at it this way," said Frye. "A recreation room which is open a little is better than none at all."

When asked to give a statement concerning the SGA elections in the spring, Frye came down in a middle of the road position. "There are several things which I have to consider," said Frye. He gave an answer of "undecided" as to his running again. The vacancy of the Vice-President position on the SGA hasn't been filled yet, but there are three students that have expressed interest. President Frye feels that he shouldn't mention names until they are brought up before the council.

There have been three resignations on the SGA recently. Renee Shephard resigned this semester because of her inability to be present at the meetings due to a conflicting schedule with basketball practice. Steve Duffy resigned because of conflicting studies. Mathew Oshode transferred to VPI to receive what he thinks to be better educational opportunities. These vacancies will be filled in the near future.

Frye is a junior at CVC and after graduation from CVC he wishes to attend law school.

CVC Adopts "Graduation With Honors" Policy

Last spring the faculty adopted a new policy on "Graduation with Honors". In the past students were nominated for graduation with honors by the department in which they were majoring and the nominations were considered by the Academic Administrative Council. The new policy states that in order to graduate with honors, a student must be in the top quarter of his/her class and must complete an honors project which demonstrates an unusually high level of academic achievement. The types of honors projects which will be eligible for consideration will be defined by the academic departments and/or disciplines subject to the approval of the Honors Committee.

A student wishing to seek graduation with honors in May of 1980 must submit an honors project to the Honors Committee by February 22, 1980. The completed honors project must be submitted to the Honors Committee by mid-April so that by May 1 the committee can make its decision as to whether the project merits an award of Graduation with Honors.

No student need necessarily be awarded honors and normally no more than 5 percent of the graduating class should qualify for such honors.

Students interested in applying for graduation with honors may check with Mrs. Barbara Short in the Office of the Registrar to determine if they are in the top quarter of their class. Then they are encouraged to discuss their interest with the chairman of the department of division in which they are majoring and receive advice on the development of a proposal. Proposals should be submitted through the Office of the Dean.

Biology Seminar To Be Held February 4

The first of the spring semester's Biology Seminars will be presented by Dr. Ted Allen of the Biology Department faculty. It is set for 4:30 p.m. on Monday, February 4, in the Science Building Lecture Hall.

Dr. Allen's topic is "Biological Systems for Correcting Damage in DNA." Damage is introduced into DNA by a number of common sources which vary in severity from electron shifts to breakage by hard radiation. Bacterial cells can correct moderate damage by constitutive systems of proof reading excision and repair or of sister strand recombination. In addition, bacteria have an inducible repair system which is used in case of severe damage. This latter system allows the cell to remain alive but it allows errors which become mutations. There is evidence that mammalian cells employ similar systems.

Everyone is invited to attend the lecture and to participate in the discussion which follows.

Petroleum Geochemistry Presentation Scheduled

The first presentation of the spring semester Chemistry Seminar is scheduled for 12:55 p.m. on Tuesday, February 5, in room 201 of the Science Building.

Mary Sohn, Assistant Professor of Chemistry, will lecture on "Petroleum Geochemistry," revealing the types of geological formations which normally contain oil. She will describe the process by which oil is formed and discuss the chemical constituents of oil including sulfur and metal contaminants.

Mrs. Sohn received the Ph.D. degree in 1979 from Lehigh University, where she conducted research on the characterization of humic acids and the complexation of metal ions by humic acids in stream beds. She teaches analytical and inorganic chemistry and geology at CVC.

All interested persons are invited to attend the Tuesday lecture.

Student Representative On Board Of Visitors Possible

Dear Editor:
During the 1980 session of the Virginia General Assembly, the legislature will consider a bill requiring that a full-time student with full voting powers be appointed to the Board of Visitors of each of the state-supported colleges and universities in Virginia.

It is our belief that if educated and knowledgeable decisions are to be made by the governing bodies of academic institutions, it is vital that the student viewpoint be represented on the Boards of Visitors. Moreover, the student viewpoint is best expressed by an actual student. We feel that because decisions of these governing boards affect the entire university community, and bear most directly upon students, it is imperative that the unique viewpoint which a student provides becomes part of the decision-making process.

In support of this legislation, the University of Virginia Student Council Legislative Committee formulated a report that has been submitted to the Virginia General Assembly. Copies of this report are being sent to all state media to help ensure the public's awareness of the legislature's development.

We trust you will give this matter your utmost attention. Additional information may be obtained by calling or writing Jeffrey C. Viohl at Student Council Offices, 824-3454, or at his residence, 13 West Lawn, U. Va., Charlottesville, Virginia, 22901, 977-1301.

On behalf of the University and college students of the Commonwealth of Virginia, I thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Jeffrey C. Viohl
Chairman, Legislative Committee

Is There A New Cult On Campus

Dear Editor,

Recently I observed the miraculous healing of a CVC basketball player, and I am wondering where this "healer" resides.

In bible times there were those who picked up their beds and walked; the lame were made whole, and the blind received their sight. As the story goes, this boy had to be literally carried off the gym floor to the locker room due to a fractured ankle; yet 15 minutes later, he was strolling around like Jimmy Carter, as he walked down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Whitehouse. I observed this individual in another situation, using crutches on a Monday morning, and on Tuesday, a day later, he had received the magic cure and was playing ball again.

Now maybe I don't have enough faith or I don't belong to the right cult, and personally, I have never been much on or for cults, but this cult must hold the secret to the fountain of youth! The only concern that I have about joining this cult is, will I be able to pass the ultimate test? I have little or no knowledge of roots, tea leaves and "goboy dust" and all other materials necessary to make a cult function. Will I, by joining, be required to drink the hemlock or the cyanide cool-aid prepared by a cult assistant and devoted friend? I desire to join this organization and I want to take a dip in the fountain of youth, but if by doing so, will this adventure be my Jonestown?

Snow Job

By Jim Colke, Baptist Campus Minister

Snow, snow everywhere! Tumbling, sledding, heavy coats, boots and scarves. Going out? Don't forget gloves and perhaps that stocking cap. What is the magic of this white blanket? It is both bother and delight. The cold that makes us feel so very much alive also stings and bites.

Snow! English language has been snowed on. We have expressions like "snowed in" and "snowed under" and "snow job." It is indeed amazing what happens when all those little flakes get together.

Maybe there is a message in this gift of snow so early in the new semester. It is so easy to let ourselves get "snowed in" and "snowed under." And usually we are the ones doing the "snow job."

This new semester has so much to offer. We have already made some choices to make these offerings more manageable: classes, time blocks, teachers, activities. And more choices will come our way! Learning to choose is an important part of our education. Learning to choose is an important part of our education. Learning to choose is also the best way to handle the old "snow job." Check out what Jesus has to say about "snow jobs" in Matthew 5-7. It's good advice when life begins to "snowball."

SPYS (Color; 87 Minutes; Rated PG)

The duo of Elliot Gould and Donald Sutherland (seen before in the film M. A. S. H.) return to make a shambles of a CIA plan to persuade a Russian to defect. Gould and Sutherland find themselves on the KGB kill list and in the sights of agents and anarchists alike. This light-hearted spoof pokes fun at political terrorism and post-Cold War espionage. James Bond was never like this. Rated PG.

Sunday Feb. 10
Enter The Dragon
(Color; 99 Minutes; Rated R)

This phenomenal motion picture grossed $27 million at the box-office. This, the last film of Kung Fu superstar Bruce Lee, has been cited by critics as the definitive masterpiece of oriental martial arts filmmaking. Lee is sent to the Chinese island belonging to the evil Han to break up a gang of drug smugglers and white slavers. With hands and feet flying, the Dragon overcomes incredible odds and proves to his adversaries and audience that, though dead at 32 in 1973, Bruce Lee was truly a "force of one." Rated R.

More Freshmen Headed For Business Majors, Moneyed Goals

The Class of 1984 -- this year's college freshmen -- is more interested in making money than prior classes, the annual UCLA-American Council on Education survey has found. UCLA's Alexander Astin, who conducted the survey, concluded that freshmen are more materialistic because 63 percent of the 190,000 students questioned said "being very well-off financially" was one of their most important goals. Sixty percent of the Class of 1983 rated the financial goal as important in last year's survey. Not coincidentally, the number of freshmen planning business careers also increased slightly. Nearly three-quarters of the freshmen seek recognition as "an authority in my field."

Among the other attitudinal trends discovered by the poll: Fewer students than last year thought high school was "too easy."

Fewer freshmen entered college with B or higher grade point average.

Fewer than half the freshman class of 1.7 million favors legalizing marijuana, while the 53 percent who favor legalizing abortion is down from last year's 57 percent.

Nearly half the freshman class favors legal sanctions against homosexual relationships.

Snow Schedule

The following schedule will be observed whenever a snow schedule is announced. Announcements that the College is on a snow schedule will be made on local radio and television stations. Office staff, however, will maintain regular working hours.

Liberty Baptist

In a controversial game Liberty Baptist trimmed CVC 97-91. On several occasions the rowdy fans heckled the referees as several controversial calls aided Liberty Baptist in the win. Commenting on the officiating Coach Harrell said, "I was disappointed in the officiating but anytime you lose one tends to notice the officiating more. However, for the amount of money we pay the referees, I think we should have a little more quality." For the Cavs, Barry Hamler led in scoring as he added 25 points. The statistics are as follows:
