Bomb Threats — A Felony

By Jerry Kilgore

Recently, there have been numerous bomb threats to the campus of CVC. As of now, two bomb threats have been called in on Thursdays during classes causing all campus facilities to be evacuated. Others occurred during the night thus affecting only dorm students.

The last bomb threat to occur at night was called in last Tuesday morning at 2:00 a.m. The students then had to stay out until 3:15 a.m. The bomb threat not only affected students' sleeping time, but class attendance and the health of the students also.

Those calling in bomb threats, perhaps, fail to recognize the seriousness involved in such an action. Wise County Commonwealth Attorney J. Ray Dotson quoted Section 18.2-83 of the Code of Virginia concerning bomb threats. In essence the section states that it is a felony for those making bomb threats over fifteen years of age. It is punishable by 1-10 years in jail. However, if the person is under 15 years of age it is classified as a misdemeanor punishable by twelve months in jail and not more than $1,000 in fines. Dotson commented, "If this person is apprehended, we will prosecute."

Bonnie Elosser, in commenting on the series of bomb threats, said, "We [the college] will prosecute if the person or persons are apprehended." Elosser stated that the college has been working with the telephone company to try to solve the problem. She also stated that the college had reason to believe that it was not just one person.

Bomb threats are serious. Before you pick up the phone for a humorous prank, think about the consequences.

SGA Buys New Stereo

By Betty Smith

The Student Government Association at CVC has appropriated $800 for the purchase of a new stereo system for the Jefferson Lounge.

According to SGA representative Terry Kilgore, the stereo system will be purchased from Skilton's Music Land in Kingsport. Kilgore added that after checking with several music stores, Skilton's offer was found to be the best. The new stereo system will consist of a receiver and four speakers. A 10-year warranty on both the speakers and the receiver was guaranteed. Marcia Adams, secretary of the Student Government Association, said that the total cost for the system came to $798.

According to Kilgore, the SGA has decided to place the receiver in the college bookstore. The four speakers will be distributed around the walls of the Jefferson Lounge. Kilgore added that the volume level will be adjusted throughout the day. It will most likely be lower in the morning than in the afternoon.

The vote to appropriate the money for the purchase of the stereo system was unanimous.

Mahony To Attend Session

Mel John Mahony has been selected as a participant in the Chautauqua-Type Short Courses Program of the National Science Foundation, to be held at Christian Brothers College in Memphis.

The session Mahony will attend is entitled "Linguistics: Current Issues." It will pinpoint problems of linguistics, use of linguistics in the sciences and the arts, and language functions such as grammar and writing. Mahony will use knowledge gained in the course for his classes in linguistics at Clinch Valley College, especially as the material pertains to its effect on the preparation of teachers to use linguistics in primary and secondary school classrooms.

The first session of the Short

Course is November 10 and 11, 1980, and the concluding session is scheduled for March 23 and 24, 1981, both to be held in Memphis.

Mahony has been a member of the English faculty at Clinch Valley since 1969. He holds the M.A. degree from the University of Notre Dame and the Ph.D. from Auburn University.

CVC Student Deborah Jean Troutt Chosen Miss Lonesome Pine

(As reprinted from The Coalfield Progress)

A 19-year-old Whitesburg, Ky. contestant was crowned Miss Lonesome Pine 1981 in a pageant held here Saturday night.

Deborah Jean Troutt, a sophomore at Clinch Valley College, received the title while competing against 10 area contestants. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Troutt. Singing was her talent.

Placing as first runner-up was Denise Page Lambert, 18, of Coeburn. Denise, who did a jazz dance for her talent is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Lambert. She attended the Meredith Manor School of Horse-manship.

In the second runner-up position was 21-year-old Ginger Gail Bush, who performed a dramatic work for the talent competition. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Bush, Ginger is from Castletown. She is currently a senior at Emory and Henry College where she is studying business, economics and Spanish.

Jennifer Ross Mullins, who played a piano solo in the pageant, received the title of third runner-up. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Mullins of Clintwood where she is a senior at Clintwood High School.

Seventeen-year-old Minnie Lynn Gillenwater of Coeburn placed fourth runner-up, with singing as her talent. Minnie is studying mathematics at Clinch Valley College where she is a freshman. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill R. Gillenwater. Other contestants who did not place in the pageant were Kimberly Jo Perry, 20, of Gate City; Melinda Sue Evans, 17, of Coeburn; Deldre Ann Culbertson, 18, of Norton; Lana Marlene White, 18, of Nickelsville; Angela Eliza Kelly, 19, of Pound; Roslyn Marie Jackson, 19.

All contestants were judged on talent and swimsuit and evening gown competition.

As the winner, Deborah was presented with a $1,000 scholarship, five outfits from area businesses, a crown, scepter and orchid, a haircut and style and a three-month membership at an area health club.

Entertainment was provided by the Charles Goodwin and David Taylor, pianist and organist. Mrs. Barbara Polky was mistress of ceremonies.

Laundry Situation—A Wash-Out

Several students have been complaining about the laundry situation on campus. At this time Randolph has one washer and one dryer to serve the residents. The other laundry room is located in McCrury Hall. This laundry room serves over 350 students which consists of Crockett, McCrury, and the trailers.

The washers in McCrury Hall aren't sufficient to serve the needs of the students. The students have to see the washers or wait days to get their laundry done. The washers are broken and need to be replaced. The washers wouldn't be enough to meet the needs of the students. The dryer is broken and needs to be replaced. One dryer is out of order in less than five minutes, leaving the clothes and waiting for them. The other students are any clothes in five days, if you had the time.

I realize that the washer and dryer situation is not the responsibility of the college. It is the responsibility of the persons who own the washers and dryers to keep them in working order. Most students don't have time to wait all day on washers and a lot of money only to find out that the machines are out of order.

Sincerely,
Jerry Kilgore, Editor

Congratulations!

To the editor,
I would like to compliment Coach Dave Bentley and the members of the Men's Basketball team on their first seasonal game. The team, even though losing on the scoreboard, won as far as I'm concerned. The team exercised a great deal of maturity and showed tremendous improvement over last year's team.

Team spirit and team work were present in this game—a missing ingredient on last year's team. Defense was super as evidenced by the fact that Steve Marcle scored only five points.

After watching the game with LMU, I have better and higher hopes for the upcoming season. I believe the quality of men's basketball at CVC will improve. This is not just my opinion, but the opinion of everyone who talked to me about the game. Good luck for a successful season.

Sincerely Yours,
Bruce Gibson

SVEA Students Teacher's Helper

By: Valeri Jones
Clinch Valley College provides assistance to student teachers through the Student Virginia Education Association (SVEA). This organization is affiliated with the Virginia Education Association (VEA), and the National Education Association (NEA). Because insurance requirements, a student going into the field of education must be a member of the SVEA in order to do their student teaching.

The SVEA prepares students for their student teaching. They also learn about student rights. The SVEA lines up guest speakers to talk at the meetings with the purpose of preparing the intern teachers for the first teaching session. One meeting discussed discipline and on Thursday, November 13, 1980, Winston Ely spoke on contracts for teachers and filling out applications.

The Officers for SVEA this year are: Devonna Dinsmore, President; Mike Vanover, Vice President; Judy Campbell, Secretary; Pat Saudier, Treasurer and Mrs. Lowery is the faculty sponsor.

Devonna Dinsmore, President stated, "Many students wait until their professional semester to join. This is bad because they need to be active from freshman year on up. They miss out on all the publications they receive which are very helpful."

SVEA is open to anyone who is going into the field of education. Dinsmore commented, "Although my professional semester isn't until the spring, I joined this past fall. I went in as a new officer and didn't know what was going on. That is why a student should have prior experience in the club."

The SVEA banquet is coming up on Dec. 5. The purpose of this banquet is to honor the supervising teachers out in the schools. It serves as a public relations function. Supervisors, school board members, faculty and students attend the banquet. It serves as a Thank-you for allowing students to practice teaching in the schools of the surrounding counties.

The dues for the club are $13.50 a year. This includes a number of publications and newsletters that the student receives.

Pi Kappa Phi Little Sisters

By Mary Reilly
On Friday, October 31, a Halloween Party was given for the underprivileged first graders at the Wise Primary School. The party was a great success. We also plan to have a Christmas Party for these children.

Congratulations are extended to the following girls that were voted in as Little Sisters after four weeks of pledging: Rhonda Baker, Pokoy Caruso, Lisa Cloud, Linda Darby, Diane Davidson, Shari Dotson, Minnie Gillenwater, Renette Huff, Trish Otinger, Libby Poteet, Ava Potter, Lisa Riggs, Kim Sayers, Joan Saucier, Cindy Saylor, Cathy South, Susan Thacker and Debbie Willis. These new members were inducted Saturday, November 16 at the Pi Kappa Phi induction banquet. After which, the sisters provided a keg for the brothers induction party. We would also like to congratulate the new Pi Kappa Phi brothers.

Phi Sigma Kappa News

Greetings from the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa. To begin with we would like to extend our congratulations to our newest brothers of the Xi Hexaton Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa. The following men were initiated on Nov. 7, 1980: Bob Drake, Jim Greene, Marty Kennedy, Kevin McKee, Roger Miller, Alex Modaber, Davie Peckens, William Shifflet, Tommy Stinson, George Stokes, Greg Harris and Greg Wheatley. We would like to welcome the gentlemen to the long line of fine men who have joined the ever growing thong of Phi Sigma Kappa. We would now like to bring everyone's attention to the upcoming dance on Nov. 20th. Due to popular demand, this will be a Toga Dance in the fine tradition of Phi Sigma Kappa.

Once again—Hollyball! The date for the Hollyball is December 6, 1980, at the Fred B. Greear Gymnasium from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m., featuring Liquid Pleasure. A bottle of Champagne will be given to the first 50 couples at the door.

Admission price will be $7.50 in advance. Tickets will be on sale soon!! Congratulations Bill Kolb!

Glamour Magazine Competition

Clinch Valley College students are invited to participate in Glamour Magazine's 1981 Top Ten College Women Competition. Young women from colleges and universities throughout the country will compete in Glamour's search for ten outstanding students. A panel of Glamour editors will select the winners on the basis of their solid records of achievement in academic studies and/or in extracurricular activities on campus or in the community.

The 1981 Top ten College Women will be featured in Glamour's August College Issue. During May, June or July, the ten winners will be invited to New York to meet the Glamour staff and will receive a $500 cash prize.

Anyone who is interested in entering the search should contact Sharon Daniels in A-237 for more information. The deadline for submitting an application to Glamour is December 15, 1980.

Phi Upsilon Omega News

On Nov. 13, the members of Phi Upsilon Omega attended the Old West Dinner Theatre on their first big outing of the semester. The Sisters enjoyed a delicious dinner and then sat back to view an intriguing play as is typical of the Old West.

The evening ended a success in that both a pleasant time was had by all and in that the Omega's goal of "Sisterhood" had taken another step forward.

Sounds Of Silence

By Rev. Warren Wattenberger
Many of the great truths of life are learned through the sounds of silence. It is true that we cannot always stand the sounds of silence, because they reveal things that we do not want to hear. Things that threaten and frighten us, but the positive sounds of silence can give us peace, comfort and security. Many of the major events of Jesus' life took place in solitude and silence—forty days in the silent wilderness preparing himself for his public ministry. After his ministry begins, he goes again and again to some silent and solitary places to listen to God and gather strength for his mission. This regular practice of Jesus is mentioned often. He encourages his followers to do the same—to go into the quiet of their closets to pray.

Silence belongs in our private lives. We need those quiet moments alone with ourselves and God. These moments of silence may be while we are driving, walking across campus or in our rooms. Wherever your "closet" may be use it to listen to God in the sounds of silence.

Through the quiet moments we are able to tap the resources that are within us. The real you will have a chance to come forth in the moments of silence. Our awareness will be greatly sharpened and sensitized. As we withdraw from the world we become aware of the world. It gives us the distance to see things in perspective and return with new found energy and resources. Silence and Solitude are not a waste of time. Instead they are very profitable. We become a better person because of them. God speaks to us in the Sounds of Silence.

Theatre, Journalism, English Students

Are you interested in working with newspaper and magazine drama critics? Then join the American College Theatre Festival's National Critics Institute Program!

The ACTF, a regional/national network of educational theatre with over 400 participating colleges and universities, is launching its third annual Critics Institute Scholarship. All interested theatre, journalism, and English students are invited to participate.

See Sharon Daniels in A237 to learn dates of production. Your review of that performance may win the Regional Critics Scholarship that can take you to the O'Neill Theatre Center in Hartford, Connecticut, all expenses paid.

The twelve Regional Festival finalists may participate in the National Critics Workshop at Washington's Kennedy Center in April and May, 1981. This intensive workshop will be directed by Ernie Schler, noted drama critic of the Philadelphia Bulletin. Finalists will review ACTF national productions to compete for National Critics Institute Scholarship.

The National Critics winner will participate in a playwriting/critics seminar at the O'Neill Theatre Center in July and August, 1981. That person will work closely with professional newspaper and magazine critics, attend productions, write and polish reviews, and generally absorb the writing and production aspects of the world of theatre.

The Critics Institute was established to enable writers the opportunity to grow at the same pace as the artists whose works they interpret. The Scholarship is courtesy of the Folger Fund and Mrs. Katherine Folger.

The American Association of State Colleges and Universities, of which Clinch Valley College is a member, enthusiastically supports the efforts of the ACTF.

A Better Way

By Jim Collie
Baptist Campus Minister
"There must be a better way!" Ever said that? Perhaps that exclamation has been the driving force behind many a great invention. But, these we've all heard that "necessity is the mother of invention." Or is it "necessity is the invention of mothers?"

How about the way we relate to one another, day in and day out, week after week? A better way? "And now I will show you the best way of all." (1 Corinthians 12:31). The New English Bible Chapter 13 of 1 Corinthians is not sloppy sentiment. It is a most practical look at the way folks relate. It is almost a microscopic analysis of love. But, we've tried love. No, we haven't. Not really. Pick up on what Paul is saying from about verse 4 through verse 7. We've tried all kinds of things that we've called "love." Yet, we've missed the essence of what love really is. There is a best way. The way of love.

In the performance that won her an Oscar, Sophia Loren is a widow who, with her daughter, escapes war ravaged Rome to return to her native village. The quiet country retreat and a romantic interlude end when retreating Germans intrude. Loren and her 13-year-old daughter are attacked and violently raped by marauding Moroccan soldiers.

"Miss Loren demonstrates here: an actress again and takes a firm place in a simple, honest film. The beauty of her performance is in her illumination of a passionate mother role."

Cavaliers Lose In Valiant Effort, 86-83

By Mark Schifflin
 Big Stone Gap—the Clinch Valley Cavaliers opened their 1980-81 basketball campaign with their first genuine thriller in a long time. The Cavaliers, even though they went down to defeat, may finally be on their way. Their opponent wasn't Stood or Biefield or Alice Lloyd. Their 3 point loss came at the hands of Lincoln Memorial University, a club that as recently as four years ago was in the NAIA National Tournament. In LMU's last game against Clinch Valley (while you and I were still in high school) the Railsplitters led at halftime by 47 points. Although this year's edition of the Railsplitters wasn't quite that formidable they were still a solid team and a definite favorite over Clinch Valley.

Coch Dave Bentley, who admitted that this team was not quite where he wanted it to be, nonetheless had his club solidly prepared. He also had a good game plan that might have resulted in a Cavalier victory had it not been for a little point guard on the LMU squad named Andrew Lewis.

Lewis was unstoppable. The Cav's played a man-to-man defense the whole game and did a super job of containing two of LMU's big guns, 6-9 center David Graham and all-everything forward Steve Marsee, but Lewis could not be contained. He drilled in 20 points in the first half, as Bentley employed all 3 of his eligible point guards in a vain attempt to stop the Railsplitters guard. The Cavaliers also had some trouble shooting and rebounding in the first half as LMU took a 47-36 lead into the locker room at half time.

Clinch Valley had looked to be on the verge of falling apart at times during the first half but whatever Bentley told them during halftime brought them back together in the second half. David Lumpkins continued to hound Marsee, State Smith fouled Graham out of the game, Wayne Stewart ran the offense intelligently, Mike Hoskins and Barry Hamler went on scoring binges and suddenly the Cavaliers had a four point lead and only 5 minutes to play.

But with Clinch Valley on the brink of victory, the Railsplitters said no. LMU outscored the Cava 10-2 over the next 3 minutes, Lewis scoring 6 of the points. Then Lewis ran LMU's four-corer offense to perfection and led the game with a pair of one-and-one free throws at the end. Lewis ended up with 40 points and the Railsplitters needed everyone of them in the 86-83 win.

Barry Hamler scored 23 points to lead the Cavaliers, with State Smith adding 20 more. But the big story was not in the statistics. The Cavaliers played with a lot of heart, they didn't panic when they fell behind, and didn't quit at the end. Coach Bentley had his team well prepared and even better motivated. The loss was disappointing but it was a step forward from both the rhetoric and meager results of the last two years. It's still too early to tell, but CVC may finally have come out of the cold.

SUPPORT THE CAVALIERS!

The Phi Sigs and the Jonestown Boys compete in intrasural action. The Jonestown Boys won ending their season undefeated.

Players— Of The Year

By Mark Schifflin
 Yesterday the Tigers, led by their beleaguered captain Dean Lee took on the unstoppable Jonestown Boys in the intrasural Super Bowl. The boys went into the game with an 11-0 record which included a 42-0 thrashing of the Terry Kilgore led Monks. The Tigers reached the finals by upsetting the Phi Sigs 20-12.

I think the time has come to honor some of the outstanding events of the 1980 football season. So without further ado, let's list some of the more memorable happenings.

Quarterback of the Year—Tom Ludwick, what other quarterback has an 11-0 record?

Runningback of the Year—Mike Muir, one of the Phi Sigs key offensive weapons.

Lineman of the Year—The Jonestown Boys whole offensive line, afeal, the Boys led the league in team offense and someone had to do the blocking.

Defensive Player of the Year—Mark King, a tangle of interceptions and a strong linebacker.

Dirtiest Player of the year—I'm gonna say.

Referee of the Year—Jim Hutchinson was finally getting the hang of it by the end of the year.

MVP—Dean Lee, for all the abuse he put up with to finish the season.

So the brutal season has finally come drawn to a close, with all the complaining, etc., that has marred the seasons past. At least no one got killed. It was fun and everybody got into the spirit of competition but the game has got to be changed to help lower the injury level. What's to be done is anyone's guess but surely someone can think of something.
