Holly Ball Date Set

The Phi Sigma Kappa and the SGA will present the 1980 Holly Ball on Saturday, December 6, 1980 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The dance will be held in the Fred B. Greaser Gymnasium and Liquid Pleasure will provide the music.

According to Glen Bays, a member of the Phi Sigs, Liquid Pleasure is a band that plays pop and easy dancing music.

Tickets are now on sale. One can contact a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa at the Fraternity House or stop at the table which will be set up twice a week beginning today. Tickets may be purchased for $7.50 in advance or may be purchased for $8.50 at the door. Perhaps to boost attendance, the first fifty couples will be presented with a bottle of champagne, compliments of Phi Sigma Kappa. Bays said, "We hope this will get people to the Holly Ball early."

When asked about the price hike Bays replied, "The band was hired through a music agent and champagne cost has went up."

To help in the cost of the Holly Ball the SGA appropriated $400 in return for one-half of the profit taken in.

The Holly Ball in addition to being open to CVC students, faculty and alumni and guests, is open to Mountain Empire Community College Students. Bays replied, "MECC is a community college and student activities are not that much. We'd like to get them involved here."

In closing, Bays said, "We're anticipating a large turnout and believe that everyone that attends will have an exciting time. See you at the Holly Ball."

McAfee Speaks To Merit Society

Carl McAfee, an attorney from Norton, Va. spoke to the Merit Society of Professional and Social Sciences held at the Wise Inn during its last meeting.

McAfee is both a nationally and internationally accomplished attorney. McAfee recently made a trip to Iran with Mr. and Mrs. Timm to try to win the release of their son.

McAfee gave background concerning the Iranian Crisis and showed how some earlier events in Iran were pointing toward an ultimate revolt.

McAfee also reminded the audience that he was in Iran when the United States failed to release the hostages. He said, "I guess I'm lucky to be here tonight."

In commenting on the meeting, Kim Still, president of the Merit Society said, "The attendance by the CVC administration was good but club support was lacking. Overall things went well."

On the subject of McAfee's talk Still commented, "I found the information interesting. He gave a lot of background before the crisis."

In closing Still said, "I believe the meeting was a success and I look forward to more meetings of this nature."

Wonder who this New Wave dancer is?

Thanks To Pi Kappa Phi

Dear Editor,
I would like to thank all the folks from Pi Kappa Phi and Little Sisters who worked so hard and long on Saturday, November 9, 1980 hauling and cutting wood for Mountain Empire Older Citizens Emergency Fuel Fund for the Elderly.

Much of what we do here at Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc. involves working with community groups. The cheerfulness with which this group of young adults tackled a grubby, back-breaking job made it a pleasure for me to participate with them in our attempt to furnish home heating fuel to those older folks in our area who need it. The work on Saturday has already paid off to several older people in Lee and Wise Counties. Their homes were warm last night because the members of Pi Kappa Phi and Little Sisters cared enough to put in seven hours of work, loading and cutting wood on Saturday.

I am grateful to have been a participant with Pi Kappa Phi and Little Sisters in this project to assist the elderly in our area. I hope I have the opportunity to work with both groups again. Clinch Valley College and the surrounding communities are enriched by the presence of both groups.

Please accept the enclosed certificate of appreciation on behalf of all of us at Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc.
Sincerely,
Peggy Dotson Hall
Emergency Services Director

Glamour Contest Announced

Dear Editor:
Glamour Magazine is once again organizing the annual Top Ten College Women Competition. We are looking for ten outstanding young women from colleges and universities throughout the country. Winners are selected on the basis of their achievements in academic studies and/or their involvement in personal, campus, or community activities.

I suggest that you contact your Director of Public Relations to determine whether that office or another organization on campus will be handling the competition.

If you have questions, please do not hesitate to contact this office. Best wishes for a successful 1980-81 academic year.
Sincerely,
Peggy Schmidt
Education & Competitions Editor

—Accuracy Demanded—

As one of your friendly reference persons in the library, I commend your trivia contest. It has motivated some students to look at reference sources in the library; some, I am sure, for the first time.

Now, about No. 11. The only answer to that one is "in no movies!" The correct quotation is Rick: "You played it for her, you can play it for me. Play it, Sam." The gal says, "Play it again, Sam. Play 'As Time Goes By'!"

The questions are varied and interesting—with your permission, I would like to use some of them in my reference course.

The questions you ask should be accurate, as well as the answers you expect. Those asking questions need to check sources.

By Our Standards Bomb Threats ...A Bad Joke

Bomb Threats! Those annoying telephone calls that force students out of their classes during the day or even worse out of the dorm at night has become an epidemic.

On Tuesday of last week we had two back to back bomb threats. This cancelled most evening classes and left students out in the cold for 2 hours and a half.

I personally think that this situation has gone too far!!! At ETSU they simply tell the students that a bomb threat has been called in and then allow the students to take their lives into their own hands. However, I do believe the students should be told so they will be the one's responsible.

There may be a state law that requires all students, regardless of whether they want to or not, to leave the building. If this is so we definitely don't want to break state law but bomb threats do cause students to lose class time and studying time.

Hopefully the caller will be caught but that still leaves room for more. Any student having any knowledge of a person or persons making bomb threats to public facilities should contact the proper authorities. Bomb Threats Are Felonies.

Sincerely your,
Jerry Kilgore, Editor

The Return... Of The KOB Korner

By The Irish Frat
The KOB Filthy Five escaped from their Venture inside Martha Randolph just in time for a weekend trip to Hazard, Kentucky. We didn't spot the Duke boys, but we sure found Cousin Daisy, driving a red Hovee with tinted windows. She was packing a 427 with a tunnel ram and two furs. She was built like a couple of chrome headers. That can be a real attention getter when you're getting a fill-up (At the gas station). We went out on the strip for a drag, and she really laid it down. After a quick snack at the Plaza Hut, we retreated to the Junction Bar, where we proceeded to be drunk under the table. Being members of an Irish Fraternity, we managed to crawl to the car. We cranked the engine, just to hear a hideous noise we figured to be a valve spitting. We were close. It turned out to be Horace hearing his guts into a ditch. After unclogging his fuel line, he crept into the car for another round.

From watching the show, we never knew that Daisy has a daddy. She does.

After leaving the parking lot of the Hazard Appalachian Regional Hospital, we painfully continued our excursion. Hoping to get the hints out we proceeded to the Traffic Light Massage Parlor. The Colonel asked for the price of a massage, whereupon he was greeted with the question, "What's a massage?" The Colonel lost his shirt, but he figured he could buy another one with the $100 he got in tips.

Before we could get out Roscoe pulled in and flashed his gun. It was a tight squeeze as the management kept him busy, so we could leave.

Did you know Boss Hogg has a daughter? YEAH!!!
Did you know Doc is a Daddy? Boss Hogg does.

Did you know Boss Hogg is six foot-nine? Doc does.
Thanks to the marshals' uncanny ability to B.S., Doc is still free, white and twenty-one (and alive).

Did you know we will be back next week? We will...

Phi Upsilon Omega News

By Kim Matney
The sisters of Phi Upsilon Omega and pledges have had a busy week in celebration of the Thanksgiving Holiday. The pledges prepared a delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

We want to give a big thanks to our pledges for the time and effort they have put forth for the sorority. Also, thanks to Mr. Wattenbarger for the use of the Student Center Building. We really appreciate it!!!

The sisters and pledges have each "Adopted" a grandmother at the Clinch Valley Nursing Home in hopes of adding some sunshine to their lives.

Lastly, we hope the other organizations are as excited as we are about the upcoming Intramural Volleyball season. See you on the Courts!!!

Pi Kapps Hold Successful Initiation

By Steve Beuster
On Friday, November 14 the Brothers of Pi Kappa Phi held the Ritual of Initiation for 13 Associate Brothers and 2 alumni. Those initiated were: William Watson, Terry Raines, Willy Harris, Ray Ruse, Rick Cole, Bob Eanes, Richard Grabeol, Walter Little, Jody Evans, Scott Cooper, Keith Denson, Dennis Hillman, Steve Lovell, Rick Grosse, and Ed Chinotti. In attendance for the weekend were alumni Vince Marshall, Bob Saps, Rob Widener, and Tom Butler. We were also fortunate to have two former members of this chapter present: Greg Goode, now at Beta Omega chapter at ETSU; and Steve Gilman, now at Delta Tau chapter at JMU.

On Saturday a banquet was held at the Student Union Building in honor of the new Brothers and Little Sisters. This was followed by a party at the House for the Brothers and Sisters.

Another part of the weekend which was significant to all involved was the third anniversary of the founding of Tau Beta Chi Local Fraternity on November 16. The founding of the organization paved the way for the founding of CVC's second national fraternal organization. Despite the odds and the efforts for many people, this organization flourished and grew to become what it is today.

We would like to thank those who attended the New Wave dance on the 13th. It was a great success and we hope that all who attended enjoyed themselves as much as we did. We are proud to have been able to put on the first New Wave dance of CVC and we hope to be able to present other firsts.

On November 8th Brothers in association with Mountain Empire Older Citizens, Inc. spent the day in Scott County in the Jefferson National Forest cutting and gathering firewood. The purpose of this firewood is to supplement the heating systems of area older citizens. We have been told that some of this wood has already been used to warm the elderly in Lee, Scott, and Wise Counties and the City of Norton.

The Pied Pipers of CVC

By Valeri Jones
Clinch Valley College has developed a new pastime. A group of independent vigilantes from Crockett Hall, better known as the Crockett Hall Center for Disease Control and Idle Leisure has undertaken the task of rat control.

According to a reliable source from this organization the group of bubonic suppressers uses weapons such as clubs, sticks, machetes and baseball bats to attack and kill rats in the dumpsters across from Jim's Minute Mart. Smoke bombs are used to drive the little cheasers from the dumpsters and then, Bam! they're dead. The information about the rodents was received from Doug Elmore.

The source can be quoted as saying, "We realize that with 3 billion people on earth and 5 billion rats that our job is cut out for us but we pledge to do to the best of our ability to seek out and destroy these plague carrying, blood-thirsty, trash hungry, filthy vermin from our beloved campus."

"It's better than watching television," said the source. "We're now waiting for a spot on the Games People Play show."

Thanksgiving — Give Thanks

Warren H. Wattenbarger
Director of Wesley Foundation

The Thanksgiving break is only hours away. We look forward to the time that we will be going home or visiting with relatives or friends. We dream of the turkey and all the trimmings, the afternoon ball games, the parades that will be taking place in many of our communities. We also look forward to the leisure moments that will be ours and the time that we can sleep late without the fear of missing a class. In the midst of all of this activity let us stop and give thanks. Remember that we have much to give thanks for in these days. There are areas that we all can pause and express our gratitude during this Thanksgiving season. Some of the ways we can give thanks are suggested below.

First, let us give thanks to God for something to do. The most miserable people in the world are the folks who feel that they are not needed. In God's plan every person has a station to guard and something to do. Paul wrote to Timothy expressing his thanks to God for calling him into the ministry. God has something for you to do, so let us be about our Father's business. Second, let us thank God for his goodness. The Psalmist said, "Blessed be the Lord who daily loadeth us with benefits." (Psalm 106:1) To be conscious of the goodness of God will save us during days of trouble.

Third, let us thank God for his mercy. The Psalmist reminds us that God's mercy endures forever. We see God's mercy reflected in the Cross. His mercy makes it possible for us to be forgiven of our sins.

Fourth, we should be grateful because God answers prayers. We have the privilege of talking to God about our heartaches and the burdens that we carry and the troubles that we face. Thanks be to God today for the open door of prayer through which all His children may pass.

Fifth, we can thank God for eternal life. We can thank God that life is eternal and that death is only the entrance.

All these things should take precedence over our thankfulness for material blessings. Happy Thanksgiving.

The First Thanksgiving

By Jim Colle,
Baptist Campus Minister

When was the first Thanksgiving? Does this tradition we keep this Thursday date back to the Pilgrims of Plymouth Rock fame? Is it possible the first Thanksgiving was celebrated on the shores of Virginia's own James River? To settle between the two, would only decide for our own country. Many lands and cultures also have a tradition of giving thanks.

Perhaps an early account of a Thanksgiving observance may help us in our celebration of giving thanks. It may be the earliest of Thanksgiving records. I refer to the account found in Genesis 4. It is the story of Cain and Abel.

form of the offering was prescribed. Cain could have obtained a lamb from Abel and offered the proper offering. But that would have hurt his pride. It would have meant acknowledging dependency upon someone else.

Dependency is what Thanksgiving is all about. It is saying "I can't do it all by

Haley To Speak

Alex Haley, author of the popular novel Roots, will visit the campus of King College on December 14. All faculty, staff and students are invited to attend the events which are planned on that date.

From 1:30 until 3:30 Haley will be available in the E.W. King Library to autograph copies of his book. Both paperback and hard-bound copies of Roots will be on sale at the library.

Haley will give a public lecture at 3:30 p.m. in the gymnasium of Vance Junior High School in Bristol. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students.

At 7:00 p.m. the Friends of the Library will hold a dinner at which Haley will give an address. Tickets are $15 for persons who are not members of the Friends of the Library. Seating is very limited but reservations may be made by calling 966-1187, extension 215.

First In A Series:

Close-Up On International Students

By Valeri Jones

Each week the Highland Cavalier will feature an International Student in a column. The student focused upon this week is Gustavo Munguia, a Junior at CVC.

Gustavo has attended Clinch Valley for 4 semesters. He is from San Salvador, El Salvador. He had previously attended Texas A&M for a part of a summer session. Munguia said that he did not like Texas A&M and decided to transfer to a smaller school.

He wanted to attend a smaller college with a good scholastic record and his advisor at Texas A&M suggested Clinch Valley along with several other schools.

Munguia's first impression of CVC was the "size of the school and how friendly the people were." He also said the slang of the southern people was new to him.

"I couldn't get over how young the staff members were," commented Munguia.

Munguia has adapted to American culture very well, for he attended an American Kindergarten, grade school, and high school. But life here is completely different from El Salvador. A civil war is currently taking place there and life is totally different.

Munguia plans to transfer to the University of Virginia and get his degree in marketing. After that, he plans to attend graduate school and study international marketing.

Munguia belongs to several clubs and activities on campus. They include: International Club, Merit Society, Intramurals (volleyball), the Golf team and soccer team. He says his goal is to finish up with a 3.2 average and attend grad school.

When speaking of being away from home, Munguia stated, "You really don't know how much you love your family and country until you're separated by 1000's of miles."

BSU Selling Badges

The Baptist Student Union of Clinch Valley College is selling School Spirit Badges. The red and white badges feature a cavalier and read "Clinch Valley College Cavaliers". The badges may be purchased from any BSUer for 75 cents. Proceeds from the sale of the badges will go to Virginia BSU Summer Missions.

Each school year BSUs on Virginia College campuses raise money to allow students to participate directly in missions during summer vacation or semester breaks. This past summer, Joe Baker from CVC was a part of a special team to Waterbury, Connecticut. Joining Joe on the team was Eddie Barnes, a former CVC student now studying at VPI&SU. Summer Missionaries serve in the state of Virginia and in other countries, too. This coming summer there will be an opportunity for a nursing student to serve in Gaza. If you think you might be interested in Summer Missions, contact Joe Baker or Jim Colle for more information.

CAVS Lose One, Win One

By Mark Schiffin

The Clinch Valley Men's basketball team tasted both disappointment and joy this past week as they split a pair of games, losing to Milligan 66-64, and defeating Alice Lloyd 85-63. Both of these games revealed some of the Cavaliers strengths and weaknesses that could prove decisive in the upcoming conference schedule.

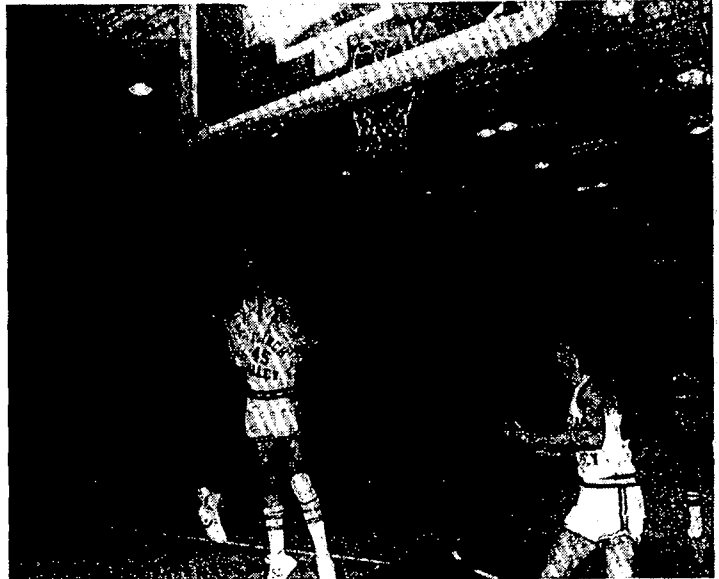

At Johnson City, Saturday, the Cavaliers, intent on spoiling the Buffalo's homecoming, jumped out to an early lead and held it the whole first half. Milligan, hounded by an effective CVC defense, could not find the basket. But the Cavaliers could not open up their lead to any more than 6 points due to both poor shooting and an excessive amount of turnovers. Clinch Valley was also hampered with fouls as 3 starters were forced to the bench early, allowing Milligan to close the gap to two points at half time.

In the second half Milligan found the touch and CVC lost it. CVC was forced to play a zone due to their foul trouble and continued to turn the ball over at the worst times. They did manage to cut Milligan's lead to 3 late in the game but two quick turnovers and Barry Hamler's fifth foul put an end to the comeback. Milligan then proceeded to pull away and hang a 66-64 loss on the Cavaliers.

Discouraged, the Cavs travelled to Pippa Passes, Kentucky in search of their first win. The Alice Lloyd Eagles were short on Talent but long on desire and gave CVC a tough game before falling.

Barry Hamler, the big senior from Big Stone Gap, led the CVC charges with 26 points but it almost wasn't enough. After an even first half in which Coach Bentley repeatedly went to his bench to find the right combination, the Cavaliers unleashed a full court press on the Eagles and jumped out to lead by as much as 14 points at times. But then the Eagles put on an outrageous scoring binge, scoring 21 points in 10 straight trips down the floor while holding CVC to 7. With 14 seconds left it was tied at 63-63.

It was then that Wayne Stewart, CVC's senior guard came through with a pair of free throws in a 1-1 situation to give CVC the lead. Alice Lloyd still had a chance to tie but missed with 3 seconds to go and the game was Clinch Valley's.

Mark Mullins tries to block David Lumpkins shot in practice but fouls instead.

Jonestown Boys Win

The Jonestown Boys put their best foot forward and ended a perfect season with a 20-12 win over the Tigers in the 1980 Brutal Super Bowl. The Boys, whose season had been an unbroken string of successes proved once and for all that they were the best team in the league this year and maybe the best ever.

The game was one of the most brutal ever witnessed with players going down every other play. It was also rather volatile, as there were two or three fights and a proportional number of bad-mouthing incidents. Through it all, Tommy Ludvick and Terry Raines shone for Jonestown. Ludvick pitching a pair of touchdowns and Raines running for one. Jack Gibbs and Troy Taylor excelled in a losing cause; Gibbs throwing for two TD's and Taylor catching six passes. Gibbs drove his team to the 10 yard line in the final minutes but could not get the tying score.

The Jonestown defense was pierced for a second-half TD for only the second time all year but was tough when it counted. Scott Hatcher saved one touchdown with a one-on-one tackle near the goal line on fourth down that may have been the game's biggest play.

So the Jonestown Boys are the best this year and I'm thankful that no one got killed at the same time. Thanks to Dean Lee for all of his info and commentary and I'll see everybody when Basketball rolls around.
