Impeachment Charges Denounced

On Monday, February 9, 1980 a first for Clinch Valley College occurred. S.G.A. President Ray Russ was appearing before a gathering of approximately 90 to 100 students to answer impeachment charges filed against him by a group of concerned students.

The meeting started at 5:00 with Marcia Adams acting as chairperson. All members of the council were present. The first order of business was a request of an annual $1,000 donation to the Pro-Arts Association. With the budget shrinking quickly, it was decided that all the S.G.A. could afford this year was $500. The motion was passed unanimously.

The next order of business was the impeachment hearing itself. The format was as follows. Richard Frye, spokesman for the impeachment forces, would be given 10 minutes to present his argument with questions to follow. Russ was then given the same opportunity. Each was also given 10 more minutes for replies to the other's charges.

Frye was recognized and began by discussing the meaning of apathy. He stated, "Apathy is not an I don't care syndrome but negative feedback and in this case negative feedback in response to what the S.G.A. has done for the student body." Frye went on to draw a diagram of which the essence was --task not performed which led to failures which led to the charges. Frye then quoted Robert's Rules of Order on the subject of evidence needed within a case such as this. He stated that the council must bear in mind that evidence needed for a conviction in civil court must not be circumstantial but evidence needed to support the impeachment charges may be circumstantial.

Russ was then recognized by the chair. Russ called the charges baseless ramblings, thought very serious. Russ answered each charge individually. Charge 1--Failure to preside over each meeting of the SGA. Russ admitted that he had missed two meetings; one because of impending business with Bonnie Elosser and one because of a very important Phi Kappa Phi meeting. But, ac-ording to Article, Section 3 of the constitution at any time the president is not present, the Vice-President shall carry out the meeting. Both meetings that Russ missed were carried out by then Vice-President Mark White in accordance with the constitution.

Also in the first charge was failure to carry out freshman elections before the Constitutional deadline. Russ stated that this occurred because the paper was not printed on the Monday after break.

Charge 2 dealt with apparent problems with the S.G.A. used bookstore. The charges stated that "many students were discontent with its management" and that no responses were made to those with complaints. Russ stated the "Responses were indeed made and are being continued." The charge that Russ dissolved the S.G.A. bookstore without council approval, according to Russ, an "outright lie." Gary Rose assumed control of the bookstore before Russ returned. (See related story in this week's Highland Cavalier).

Charge 3 ... Apparently no Homecoming or Snowball dance will be held. Russ stated that a date had been tentatively set but there were conflicts. To make up for this the S.G.A. plans to invite alumni to the Spring Formal. A few questions were asked. One in particular, after each man had been given his second chance, was how many of the people who signed the petition were present at the meeting. Four people raised their hands. The council then went into closed session. The council decided the charges were null and void.

CVC Professor Named To National Metric Committee

Dr. William Hooper, professor of physics at Clinch Valley College, has been appointed Chairman of the Metric Committee of the American Association of Physics Teachers (AAPT). Hooper, who began teaching at CVC in 1959, has been active in metric activities since 1975.

The AAPT is a national organization of high school and college teachers and a member society of the American Institute of Physics. The Metric Committee represents the interests of physics education in the ongoing effort to adopt the modernized metric system in the United States. Hooper's appointment to the committee was made by Dr. William Kelly of the University of Montana, the president of the AAPT. The appointment is for one year.

Currently the Committee is embroiled in a controversy with the National Bureau of Standards which has led to the censure of NBS by the AAPT. Association president Kelly noted that this censure is one of the things he hopes Hooper's committee will be able to resolve in the coming year. The disagreement between the physics community and NBS is over the use of the word "weight". In a technical sense, "weight" means the force of gravity on an object. This concept, to the physicist, is very different from the mass of an object which describes how much matter is in an object or how much inertia the object has. In common usage, the terms "weight" and "mass" are often incorrectly used as if they were interchangeable. The National Bureau of Standards, in its publications, frequently used the word "weight" to describe the mass of things. This is the practice which led to the censure resolution.

"I hope we can resolve this issue," Hooper said, "because there are other pressing problems to which I'd like to see us turn our attention. Even if we cannot come to a complete agreement with NBS, I hope we can at least find sufficient compromise to allow us to lift the censure."

One of the other problems Hooper cited as deserving attention is the proposal by the international metric body, the General Conference on Weights and Measures, to change the fundamental definition of the metre. Another is the lack of progress, both among the general public and in the physics community, to adopt the modernized version of the metric system known as SI (for Systeme International).

Dr. Hooper holds the B.S. and M.S. degrees in physics from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and a doctorate of education (Ed. D.) from Boston University. He is Regional Manager of the U.S. Metric Association for the states of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

Bookstore Able To Handle Used Books

One charge brought against Ray Russ in the impeachment proceedings was the charge that the SGA had turned over the Used Bookstore to the college which sells used books at a 20% mark-up. The charge stated that the council had to vote to terminate the bookstore before handing it over to the college to run. However, according to Gary Rose, Assistant Business Manager, "The College Bookstore did not officially take over the Used Bookstore."

Continuing, Rose stated that it was the feeling that the College Bookstore would be better to handle used books. If a student wanted to return to pick up money or books at the SGA Used Bookstore, he or she had to go by during office hours which may or may not cause an inconvenience. Currently, the student can drop by the College Bookstore during regular business hours and at his convenience.

In closing, Rose said, "When the college took over the bookstore, many wanted the selling of used books to become part of the regular operation of the bookstore. In essence, it's just an additional service."

Musical Scheduled

For March 6-11

Rehearsals are in progress for a musical to be presented March 6 through 11 at the CVC Theatre. This is only the second musical done in the history of the theatre at the College--the first being "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown."

"Ten Nights in A Barroom" is a musical comedy based on a temperance drama written by William W. Pratt and adapted by Fred Carmichael. Musical direction for the play is by Michael Donathan and Bonnie Elosser is Stage Director. Charles Lewis serves as Technical Director and the production will be choreographed by Anna Peacock. Musical accompanist is Elaine Womble.

Many of the student actors are veterans on the CVC stage: Jim Bettendorf, Butch Osborne, Spruce Henry, Andy Williams, Hunter Lackey, Walter Littrell, Elaine Kiser, and Teresa Elkins. Housing Director Charles Engle, who took his B.A. degree in theatre from CVC two years ago, also has a role, as does Patty Roberts, former CVC student who has had major roles in CVC productions.

Other student performers are Roger Miller, Muff Patterson, Minnie Gillenwater, Roz Jackson, and Diedre Osborne. Two Kelly High School students, Eleana Fortuondo and Bonnie Mullins, also have roles.

Richard Frye Presents Vague Argument About Impeachment

Dear Editor,
On Monday of last week the SGA held a meeting in which Richard Frye presented a vague argument in support of impeachment charges. It's that simple. His argument, for I should stress petitioners' argument) was vague and pointless as were in fact the charges. We were treated to some fine artwork by Mr. Frye that did nothing more than further emphasize the pointlessness of this entire affair. Watching Dean Elousoe's reactions coupled with Mr. Mahoney's quick exit, one can only wonder if the Dean's headache along with Mr. Mahoney's pressing business were in fact caused by "our" Mr. Frye. I stress "our" for Mr. Frye stated repeatedly that he was just a concerned spokesman for a portion of the student body. Not only were these fellow spokesmen apparently not present to give their support, the questions that were asked by members of the student body were almost totally directed at Mr. Frye, who in turn supplied vague ramblings for answers. Mr. Frye's hackneyed attempts to field questions (along with the drawings) were in direct contrast to Mr. Elousoe's well-prepared defense. Obviously the blackboard outside of the Jefferson Lounge accurately foretold just how this particular meeting would turn out. If this portion of the student body can't define their complaints more sharply than their befuddled spokesman, they will insure their continuing anonymity on this campus.
Ultimately, I must ask Mr. Frye, "Who is Harlequin, and why did drop all those jelly beans?"

Litter Control Workshop

Dear Editor:
This invitation is extended to you and all town officials and interested citizens to participate in an open workshop regarding litter control in Wise County, its six incorporated towns, and the City of Norton on Monday, February 16, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the Board of Supervisors' Room in the Courthouse.
The Wise Clean County Committee has been active for two years and many strides have been made toward better litter control in Wise County. A major goal of the WCCC for 1981 is to unify our efforts by working more closely with your locality and your individual needs.
We urge you to attend this special meeting so we can exchange ideas and information with each other as well as meet other interested officials and concerned citizens. A short film will be shown and an update of what has been done and what remains to be done will be given. There will be a time for open discussion and input. Local school litter projects will be on display.
How can the Clean County Committee help your area become a cleaner place in which to live, work, shop and visit? Be sure you or your representative is present to let us know this answer!

Yours truly,
J. Rex Baird, Chairman

Cavalier Clarifies Mistakes

In last week's issue of the Highland Cavalier a letter from Tom Baty, entitled "Suitcase Apathy" was printed. A few typographical errors were made in this letter and the HC Editor received a rather strong letter of complaint from Baty. The HC Staff feels it necessary to clarify some points about our publishing which I will do now.
Many errors do occur in each edition of the newspaper and a few are the fault of the editors. But a large number of them can be attributed to the printing process which occurs after it leaves our hands. For an example, in Mr. Baty's letter, which he submitted handwritten, several words were difficult for our typist to comprehend. Therefore, he had to estimate to the best of his ability what the words were. The line, "I don't mind suitcase leaders... etc. should read, "I don't need suitcase leaders..." True this mistake occurred in our office, but beyond our control. Anyone who submits material to the HC and has a handwriting which tends to be illegible needs to have the material typewritten to insure there are no mistakes.

The other complaint in Baty's letter was where part of a line was omitted. Our typewritten copy which we submitted to our printer contained the full sentence but it was accidentally omitted when the printers retyped it. The line read "That learning is an ongoing process which encompasses much more than classes and homework..." but should have read, "that learning is a place where warm, oftimes lasting relationships..." This was not an intentional mistake by the HC.

Baty also complained about the size of the headlines, which he referred to as, "big, black type." Again it is not our decision as to how large the headlines are. We only assemble the copy and lay it out on the pages, but do not decide the size of the "big, black type."
The HC is designed to meet the needs of the student body. Admittedly, the HC falls at times to do this, but only because we don't receive input from the students. Campus news isn't invented, it has to happen. And it takes involved students to make it happen.
Sincerely yours,
Valeri Jones, Asst. Editor

By Our Standards

To Smoke Or Not To Smoke...

Recently the S.G.A. voted to sponsor a referendum calling for the abolition of smoking in the classrooms. The students will soon get to voice their opinion by a simple "yes" or "no" vote.
However, would the referendum be binding on the Administration to carry out the students' wishes? According to Dean Emmet Low, "It would not." Nevertheless, Low said, "The SGA could present a recommendation which includes the student vote. The recommendation should go to the Chancellor for consideration."

It is in my opinion that the students should vote to ban smoking from the classrooms. There are several reasons. First, some students may have health problems that could become more serious with constant exposure to cigarette, pipe, etc. smoke.

Second, smoking may hinder some students' classroom performance. After all, some cannot take tests with smoke circling their head.

And last, smoking presents a fire hazard. If a cigarette is dropped carelessly in a trash can, a fire could follow.
Whatever your opinion, it is your duty to vote a simple "Yes" or "no."
Sincerely yours,
Jerry Kilgore, Editor

"Hi!" Power

By Jim Collie
Baptist Campus Minister
"Hi!" she said. "Hi!" he said. And what followed was a most interesting discussion of that little word we use so often, "Hi!" For it seems that in his country one does not say "Hi!" "Hi!" is an American "on the run" kind of greeting. And yet it need not be so. Not if we stop to take time to follow-up with more than just a passing exchange.

Even a "Hi!" takes consideration of another as a living, breathing person of worth. And a "Hi!" takes a certain amount of investment of time, energy... power. Maybe power expresses it! A "Hi!" and whatever follows gives power as acknowledgement of the worth and presence of another as given and received.

miracle another occurs. Check it out in Luke 8:40-48. On a busy city street someone brushed against Jesus and was healed. This touch was no accident, but one that was calculated. Jesus noticed the drain of power and asked who had touched him. The disciples couldn't understand the need to say "Hi!" to this person who so needed it.
Anybody need a healing "Hi!" from you? Try out your "Hi!" Power this week.

Nominations For Laureate Awards

Proponents of excellence in the Commonwealth of Virginia have an opportunity from now until February 28, 1981 to nominate fellow Virginians for a 1980-81 Cultural Laureate Award.
Nominations in any one of ten major categories plus communications and statemanship and hundreds of sub-categories can be sent to the Virginia Cultural Laureate Center, c/o Thomas Jefferson III, 1900 Byrd Avenue, Richmond, Virginia 23230.

The Honorable Mills E. Godwin, Jr., former Governor of Virginia, and The Honorable John Warren Cook, former Speaker of the Virginia House of Delegates, are co-chairmen for the 1980-81 Cultural Laureate Program.
The major categories for nominations are general works (which includes library science, essays and journalism), philosophy and religion, social sciences, literature, language, pure science, technology and applied science, the arts, history, communications, and statemanship.

At the first Laureate Awards Ceremony in 1977 Governor Godwin pointed out that "individual recognition is critically important in a nation built on individual initiative, on the worth of the individual, and on recognition of each citizen in accordance with his contributions..."

The 1977 Laureate Awards were made to author Tom Wolfe, journalist Virginia Dabney, law professor A. E. Dick Howard, Richmond Mayor Henry L.

March III, Virginia Assembly Leader Albert L. Philpott, and businessman E. Claiborne Robins.

The 1977 Laureates also were awarded to physician Dr. Leroy Smith, scientist Dr. Helmut R.H. Wakscham, English Professor Dr. Margaret Roberts, bi-historian Dr. Edgar A. Toppin, poetess Jean Elliot, interior designer Milton Glaser, contractor and restorer of historic buildings Robert E. Lee, medical services manager Dr. Thomas C. Barker, biology professor Evelyn Watkins-Jemison, foreign language professor Dr. Helen P. Warriner, musician and composer Ursula S. Moore, painter Dr. Theresa Poliak, linguistics professor Dr. Robert A. MacDonald, lawyer S. W. Tucker, social pathologist Dorothy Garrett, university president Dr. Ronald E. Carrier, theologian Dr. Keith R. Crim, and religion professor Dr. Theodore F. Adams.

Selections of awardees will be made from nominations submitted by Peer Groups in each category. The Cultural Laureate Awards Ceremony is scheduled for April, 1981.

Information about the program can be obtained from Rosemary Marcus, Rogew Irie, Bill Hooper, Mike Donathan, or E. L. Hanson, all of the Clinch Valley College faculty. Forms for making nominations can be obtained at any of the Wise County National Banks, at the Chamber of Commerce in Norton, or at the information office at Clinch Valley College.

Reach Out And Plug In

By Rev. Warren Wattenbarger
Take a mental walk around your world for a minute or two. Close your eyes and think about the variety of places where you fit into the world, your neighborhood, your school, church town/city, state, nation and world. Picture yourself actually walking through those places and passing both friends and strangers. Imagine the looks on faces and the things people are doing.
What do you care about in the world you see? What would you change if you could? What are the needs you sense in people? What just does not seem fair?

This brings us to the place of realism; that each of us need to reach out and plug into life. The world needs you! It needs all who really want to serve and have a place in tomorrow. Make no mistake about that. The world needs people who are willing to forget themselves and serve unselfishly. To serve totally. The world is still waiting as it has been for almost two thousand years, for a person who is willing to forget self totally and burn himself/herself up for humanity. There was one such M.A.M. He lived only 33 years and they nailed him to a cross and there has not been such a person since, who gave themselves so unreservedly to life and to others. But do not despair, the world needs you. The answer to cancer has not been found yet. It will be in the future. The likelihood is it will not be found in my generation but by people of a younger generation. The common cold has no answer yet. Perhaps the younger one now will have an answer.

The world needs people to act and to live as brothers and sisters. This idea has been taught for a long time. The world must be taught that it is better to love than to hate. You cannot teach it to one generation and neglect the next. It has to be taught to little children of each generation. We must be taught that it is more blessed to give than to receive. That it is better to work for what you get than to sit back and let someone else feed you. We must do more than just teach the truths, you must demonstrate these truths to all people.

The Barber Of Seville To Be Performed

Tickets to Rossini's comic opera masterpiece, The Barber of Seville, performed by Virginia Opera Theater under the sponsorship of Pro-Art and Clinch Valley College, are now available. Priced at $4 for adults and $2 for students, tickets can be purchased at several Wise area businesses or by writing Ticketmaster, Box 1081, Clinch Valley College, Wise, VA 24383. Playing in Wise at J.J. Kelly High School on Monday, March 2 at 8 p.m., the opera will be presented in English by the Virginia Opera Association's touring division. The parent company, based in Norfolk and now in its sixth season, has established a recognized standard of artistic excellence in the opera world at large. "Virginia... has something to brag about: the Virginia Opera Association [is]... one of the best regional companies in the country," writes reporter Annalyn Swann of Newsweek. Past tours have drawn from critics and the public raves such as: "a valuable new addition to Virginia's cultural life," "a perfect choice to convince audiences... that opera can be fun," and "an excellent over-all operation... skillfully, tastefully, and clearly presented." Featuring an energetic cast of young professional artists, the Virginia Opera Theater will perform to an estimated 35,000 people on its extensive tour. The Theater's previous performances in Wise of Madame Butterfly and Don Pasquale drew full houses. The Barber of Seville, written by Italian composer Gioacchino Rossini, continues to attract audiences with its fresh flowing melodies and the humorous antics of its busy hero, Figaro, who enables the lovers, Rosina and Count Almaviva, to outwit Rosina's guardian, Dr. Bartolo, as they experience all the mishaps and vicissitudes of true love.

Local opera patrons can find tickets at Dave's in Norton and Coeburn, Judy's Hallmark in Big Stone Gap, His & Hers in Pound, and the Clinch Valley post office. Those who wish further information can contact the CVC Humanities Department at 703-328-2431.

International Club Meets

Dr. Roger Irls hosted an International Club gathering on February 7 with a dinner at his campus apartment. Twenty student and faculty members of the Club practiced cooking the food which they plan to serve at the International Arts Festival on April 25. Ka-bobs will be featured at the dinner as they were on Saturday, and Dr. Jack Mahony has consented to serve as chef. Club members had fun constructing their ka-bobs in a variety of forms. The International Club is composed of students and faculty from such countries as France, El Salvador, Vietnam, Canada, Cuba, Nigeria, Bangladesh, India, Cypress, and the United States. Other persons are welcome to join the group at any time by attending the next meeting as announced in the Highland Cavalier, or by contacting club members.

"Do you know what you've done? This team has ruined itself. Because now that you've shown that you could beat the top three teams in the conference, you have to live up to your capabilities. It is now expected of you."

The above statement, made by Coach Doris Hubbard during halftime in the locker room, was intended for the Lady Cavaliers after last week's win over the number one Ferrum College, Eastern Mennonite, and Milligan College.

In the contest with Eastern Mennonite, the ladies in red overcame, 72-59. Junior Sharon Morris and Freshman Angie Clark both pumped in 15 points for the Lady Cavs, as Morris rejected 2 shots.

Delcina Wilkerson pulled down an amazing 20 rebounds, while center Morris grabbed 15. Trish Olinger had 6 assists and Kelee Gonzalez made a great recovery from an operation over break with 12 points.

Halftime score 27-23, CVC. Wilkerson-5, Olinger-7, Morris-10, Osborne-8, Cox-4, Gonzalez-12, Clark-15, Scott-6.

It was again a battle to survive and to prove as the ladies of CVC went up against Ferrum College. Ability and sheer want led the red team to win, 78-73.

A great game for center Sharon Morris supplied the team with 35 points and 27 rebounds. Delcina Wilkerson brought 13 rebounds off the boards, while scoring 10.

Point guard Trish Olinger scored 12 points and led in assists with 5 and 5 rebounds. Janie Cox had 2 blocked shots while Olinger and Morris both had one.

Halftime score, 34-38, Ferrum. Wilkerson-10, Olinger-12, Morris-35, Osborne-10, Gonzalez-8, Clark-4.

In the final game with Milligan, CVC won the bout, 85-69. Senior guard Trish Olinger led in scoring with 23 points, while Sharon Morris scored 21 points.

Morris also had 11 rebounds and 3 blocked shots. Olinger had 6 assists and Delcina Wilkerson had 6 assists and 5 steals.

As a team, the Lady Cavs averaged 49% from the floor and 62% from the charity stripe.

Halftime score, 44-32, CVC. Wilkerson-8, Olinger-23, Morris-21, Cox-6, Gonzalez-6, Clark-9, Roberts-2, Scott-10.

Bentley's Crew Rolls On

By Mark Schifflin

It may seem like a dream sports fan but I've witnessed it and it's all true. The CVC men's basketball team continued to streak this past week as Dave Bentley's charges notched another big KIAC win and treated the home folks to a sound thrashing of Milligan College. The pair of wins moved the Cavaliers into a third place tie in the KIAC while improving their overall record to 14-16.

Ironically enough, CVC's sparkling week started on the downside as the Cavs dropped their rematch with King College, 68-62. The Cavaliers were due for a letdown after four straight impressive wins and they had one. Their shot selection was poor, they were hurt by some strange officiating and the spark that had lifted them the week before just was not there. Fortunately it was a non-conference game but it didn't help Coach Bentley's ulcer by any means.

But Clinch Valley shook it off two nights later when the Cavs shocked league-leading Cumberland 86-82 in Williamsburg, Kentucky. At first it seemed Clinch Valley had left their game back in Wise as the Indians cruised almost effortlessly to a thirteen point lead in the first half. Some hot shooting by Tony Kolb and Barry Hamler kept the Cavaliers from staking completely out of sight however, and Cumberland's halftime edge was six when the buzzer sounded.

In the second half, CVC put the clamps on defensively and tied the score with twelve seconds to go. Cumberland then proceeded to blow a free throw in the closing seconds of regulation that forced the game into overtime. The teams raced through the first overtime and a late three point play by Terry Edwards saved the Cavaliers for another overtime. The Cavaliers finally took command in the last overtime as Barry Hamler drilled in six of his thirty points and Mike Hoskins sank two free throws to put it away with four seconds left.

The game with Milligan, while not as exciting, was certainly as satisfying with CVC running up leads as great as 31 points in the second half before a good, appreciative crowd. The Buffaloes lost to the Valley for the first time in their history as Clinch Valley got a tune-up for the home stretch of the season.
