Open Forum On Honor Court Tomorrow

By Valeri Jones

On February 16, 1982 at 3:40 p.m., an open forum will be held to discuss the Honor System at Clinch Valley College. Faculty members and students are both encouraged to attend the discussion which will be held in the lecture hall of the Administration Building. All interested persons are invited to attend and voice their opinions.

Three things are on the agenda for the discussion. One is the original proposal by Glenn Blackburn to place faculty members on the Honor Court. The second is a statement from the faculty handbook concerning the faculty's relationship to the Honor System. The third item on the agenda is 5 changes that a Honor Systems Committee has proposed to the present honor system.

These changes include: (1) A recommendation by the faculty to the students that up to two members of the Honor Court, no more than one from each returning class, be selected by the Honor Court to serve the following year. This would provide for continuity within the court. (2) The Dean of Students would serve as the contact point for faculty in processing suspected honor violations. Instead of relying upon the Chairman or Prosecutor of the Court, the faculty could go to the Dean of Students and her office could contact the Chairman or Prosecutor. (3) The results of all honor cases should be submitted to the Chancellor's Office. The Chancellor will periodically review the results for consistency. This would provide for all cases being treated the same. (4) At the beginning of each semester the Registrar's Office will provide the faculty a statement of faculty responsibility to the Honor System. This is in reference to the section in the Faculty Handbook concerning their relationship with the Honor System. (5) Faculty should be periodically informed by the Dean of the Honor System and the role of the faculty in supporting the system.

All students and faculty should be present at the forum to discuss this matter. Expression of opinions is encouraged.

What Is A S.O.L.

Student Orientations Leaders (S.O.L.) are needed for the upcoming summer sessions and the fall semester of 1982. Applications may be picked up in the Admissions Office, Administration Building.

What is an S.O.L.? An S.O.L. is a college student interested in welcoming new students and making them feel at home at CVC. There are several requirements applicants must meet: (1) have at least a 2.0 cumulative grade point average; (2) be responsible and dependable; (3) have an easy-going personality; (4) set examples as a model student both academically and socially; (5) have a general understanding of the feelings and concerns of the incoming student.

Some of the duties of an S.O.L. are to show the new student around campus and helping them register in the dormitory, make friends, and develop good habits.

Classes will be given during this semester after S.O.L.'s are picked, to explain and help the S.O.L. Leader know how to orient the new student. Sandy Birchfield, Director of Admissions, is in charge of this program and will conduct the classes.

Even though being an S.O.L. is volunteer work, there are rewards gained for one's services. Some of these are: (1) recognition as a campus leader; (2) opportunity to get to know the incoming students and other students as well as fellow S.O.L.'s; (3) improvement of leadership skills; (4) a few free meals.

Social Science Major Proposed

By Marti Libby

CVC students will soon be able to get a B.A. or B.S. in Social Sciences. A Social Sciences Major will be offered to enable students to concentrate in various subjects, which include economics, political science, psychology, and sociology, and receive a major in social sciences.

Currently, students major in Business and Public Administration and concentrate in economics or political science. Psychology is associated with the education program and sociology was part of the now terminated social welfare program.

The University of Virginia Board of Visitors approved the proposed major last week. The fate of the proposed major now rests with the State Council of Higher Education.

The program students will be required to take is as follows:

PROPOSED SOCIAL SCIENCES MAJOR

I. General Education Requirements	46 SH
II. Core Requirements (16 SH General Education)	111111116SH
Anth 152 - Social Anthropology	3
Econ 201-202 - Principles of Economics	6

Placement Looks Good For CVC

Did you ever wonder what others graduating from CVC were doing? Did they get jobs in their fields or are they unemployed? The statistics from the placement office look good for the graduates of the four-year programs. The Business and Public Administration and Elementary Education majors dominate the majors at CVC with 48 and 31, respectively, graduating with these degrees in Spring and Summer 1981.

Of the 48 Business majors, 20 acquired employment in Business or technical careers, seven went to graduate school, three went to Law school, three acquired teaching jobs and only four had no placement as of January 13, 1982.

Of the 31 Elementary Education majors, 26 acquired teaching jobs, three attended graduate school and only two had no placement.

The survey included statistics from all CVC majors and of the 135 graduating class, 19 failed to respond and only ten stated that they had no employment on January 13.

Edwards: Athlete And Scholar

Terry Edwards, CVC's starting forward has rolled up some interesting honors both on the court and off. Edwards was recently named NAIA District 32 Player of the Week for the week of January 25-30. During this week, Edwards scored 86 points in three games and achieved a career high 39 points in the Cavalier loss to Berea. During the week, Edwards was 30 for 40 from the floor and 26 for 28 from the free throw line.

In addition to being named NAIA District 32 Player of the Week, Edwards was named in the top five National NAIA free throw shooting by connecting on 91.3 percent of his attempts (105-115).

Even though Edwards spends a considerable time on the basketball court, he has a GPA of 3.3 and has been named to the Dean's List. Edwards stated that his main goal in playing ball was to achieve an education. Continuing, he stated concerning the question of finding time to study, "I have to take my books with me on road trips and catch up on weekends."

Edwards stated that before he transferred to CVC he checked CVC Business and Computer courses to be sure that he could pursue his educational goals. Edwards stated that even though Dave Bentley was his high school coach, if CVC had not offered courses he could use, he probably would have attended another college.

Edwards is majoring in Business Administration with a minor in computers and is a member of the Merit Society for Social and Professional Sciences and is a Student Orientation Leader.

Edwards stated that the Cavalier season has been a success and the team has accomplished with he expected - a winning season.

Letters

Highland Cavalier's Letters Policy

The Highland Cavalier encourages all persons who wish to express themselves to write a letter to the editor. All letters must be signed to be printed. Names will be withheld by request and at the editor's discretion, however the original letter must be signed. In addition, the editor has the right to edit and/or reject letters that violate the guidelines as set up by the publications committee. Send all letters to Box 1127 by Thursday, 3:00 p.m. each week. All letters must be typewritten, unless they are neatly printed.

By Our Standards Cavalier Clarifies Response

There seems to be some misunderstanding concerning the response on "The Creature from the Black Lagoon" printed in the February 1 issue of the Highland Cavalier. The Highland Cavalier neither intended to criticize the movie itself nor find fault with the selection of movies in the CVC film series. We agree that the 3-D movies was a landmark experience for Clinch Valley College. The Highland Cavalier felt the movie provided variety to the film series and was an interesting and noteworthy experience. But, it was not the intent of the Highland Cavalier to criticize the 3-D event, the programming, nor the participation in the event. Our comments on the movie referred only to the movie, "The Creature From The Black Lagoon" itself, nothing more was meant by the remark.

The Cavalier did not intend to critique the movie by an approval or a disapproval, as a review does. "3-D Comes to CVC" was merely a response. It was how one student, as well as others, viewed the movie. Many felt the movie itself was boring, but they also felt the 3-D event was a novel experience which they will long remember.

Sincerely,
Valeri Jones
Assistant Editor

Another View Point

Editor:
How about another point of view? "The Creature from the Black Lagoon" was a truly nostalgic experience for myself and others - one that I thoroughly enjoyed. For my children, it was a novelty and they're asking for more! Everyone I talked with had nothing but praise and I think the person or people responsible for the showing deserves due credit for a most enjoyable evening. Keep up the good work and bring back the 3D movies!

Sincerely,
Joe Harding

Pi Kapps Encourage Project

Pi Kappa Phi RUSH week started on Tuesday, February 9 and will run through Friday, February 12. We would like to encourage all to stop by our table in the lobby outside the Jefferson Lounge. We will answer any questions you need to know about joining our Fraternity. The brothers of Pi Kappa Phi would like to congratulate the newly initiated brothers, Jeff Lucas, Chris Boggs, and Mike (Snui) Smyth. We would also like to mention our National Project, Play Units For The Severely Handicapped, (P.U.S.H.), and we would like to ask for any donations towards a good cause. The Spring Rush party was held Friday night, February 12, and everyone had a good time. We would like to thank everyone for joining our Spring Rush party. We all hope everyone had a Happy Valentine's Day. Fraternally yours,

The brothers of Pi Kappa Phi

Pix Of The Week

I hope no one will tell! by Elaine Womble

Thanks

The Family and Friends of Estelle Meade wish to thank all those at Clinch Valley College who supported Estelle during her recent mental breakdown. She appears to be recovering nicely but everyone should be advised to exercise extreme caution in any dealing with her. Your warmth and understanding is especially appreciated during this Holiday season. Happy Valentines Day, Happy Lincoln's Birthday, Happy Washington's Birthday, Happy Fire Prevention Week and Happy Dental Health Week!

The Need For Hope

By Warren H. Wattenbarger
Wesley Foundation
Campus Minister
Paul wrote to the Roman Church and reminded them to "rejoice in hope". Each of us need hope for each new day! If we would face each new day with a buoyant spirit it would make each of us happier. It causes us to do our work in a better frame of mind and therefore, more wholeheartedly and more successful. But it must be a hope inspired by Christian faith. You cannot foresee what any day may bring forth. If you go in a dark mood to the day's responsibility, something is almost certain to go wrong. But go in the spirit of hope, knowing that our heavenly Father has you in His keeping and will help you make each day a day of duty creditability done with cheerful countenance and wholesome conversations and quiet trust.

We need hope in the building of our character. We can all be great in character, in moral and spiritual attainment. No matter what habits have lightened their grip upon us, there still is hope for every generation. In every generation and in every land the power of Christ has been seen in changing the lives of individuals. We need hope for the future of the world. Only hope can save us here. We can take our stand with the ancient prophets who were emphatically persons of hope. They saw the wrong of the world, yet in spite of what they saw they never let hope vanish away. They took this attitude because they were so sure of the wisdom, the goodness and the power of God. Let us become individuals who have hope and are willing to face tomorrow with confidence that the best is yet to be!

Clog Campus Scheduled In June

Clinch Valley College will offer a school for instruction in clog dancing June 11-13, the first to be held in Wise County. Preliminary registrations already have been received at the Humanities Office, but participants may still register until May 1. Clogging is a fun way to exercise, and it can be learned in a short time. Various levels of clogging will be offered from Beginner to Clog Teacher. Instructors will include professional cloggers from such area groups as the Rye Cove Cloggers, Kingsport Country Cloggers, Shady Mountain Cloggers, Jackson Cloggers, Steele Creek Cloggers, and a clogger who performs with Reedy Creek Band. The program cost for those who desire a room on campus for the three-day school is $36 for Virginia residents and $44.75 for out-of-state persons. Those who plan to commute will pay only $30 for Virginia residents and $38.75 for out-of-state registrants. An additional $5 fee will be charged. The cost includes registration, instruction, refreshments, breakfast, graduation buffet, college credit (1/2 semester hour), and Open Dancing nightly with the Reedy Creek Band. Registration forms may be obtained from Anna Breeding, Humanities Secretary, in A231.

Having A Handle

By Jim Collie,
Baptist Campus Minister
The scene is desert time at a BSU meeting. "Where's the ice cream scoop?" "Well, we used to have one, but the handle broke." Now, if you enjoy shoving your knuckles into a carton of ice cream, an ice cream scoop sans handle works just fine. It also cuts down on the amount of ice cream consumed. ("I'm not eating that after you put your hands in it!")

Handles are important. Ice cream scoops need them and so do we. We need a handle on life. The Apostle Paul knew that and so he wrote his young friend Timothy, "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." You can find this in 2

Whether you prefer the word "study" or the phrase "do your best" you will hear both during college days. Paul mentions two motives for this attention to study. The first is so you will not be ashamed. I still have a recurring nightmare of having to get up to take a math exam and knowing I'm not prepared. It is the other motive I want to emphasize. Study gives you a handle... on the subject, the course, life. And having a handle is what education is all about.

1. Your college or university placement office.
2. Study all ads in newspapers.
3. Write all companies of your choice.
4. Get a part-time job during college so that you can learn more from actual experience.
5. Go to the library and study volumes like Occupational Outlook Handbook and Quarterly and Directory of Occupational titles (Volumes I, II, & III).
6. Apply for and take tests at the United States government and local government offices.
7. Go to your student counseling bureau and take inventories like the Strong Vocational Interest Blank so you can determine which fields or jobs employ people with interests very much like your own.
8. Go to a private counseling firm for advice and assistance.
9. Ask parents, relatives, or friends about jobs: e.g., what it is like being an accountant or businessman or social worker or whatever.
10. Ask the same and more specific questions of employed former students of your acquaintance who graduated last year.
11. Stop people on the street and ask. You may run into an executive who appreciates your social competencies and offers you a job.
12. Go to your local state employment service, found in most large cities. Their quality will vary with the amount of openings available and whether you contact man like you.
13. Go to an employment agency of your choice (as a last resort).

Cavs Win Two; Lose Heartbreaker To Top Seeded Georgetown

The Cavaliers warmed up for the upcoming KIAC tournament last week, defeating two of three opponents and playing a fourth Thursday night.

The first of these was an impressive 96-75 rout of arch-rival King College in front of a large, homecourt crowd. After a close first half saw CVC holding a 36-29 lead, the Cavaliers glass-crashing trio of Terry Edwards, Reggie Bryant, and Mike Hoskins led an explosion which broke the game open and racked up 60 second half points. Controlling the boards on both ends of the floor, the game soon turned to a rout, as Clinch Valley recorded its most impressive victory over King in years. Edwards led the onslaught with 19 points, Bryant put in 17, and Hoskins added 16. Three other Cavaliers—Steve Dowdy, Lewis Hackett, and Kevin Howard—also scored in double figures.

The CVC-Georgetown affair the following Saturday turned out to be a heartbreaker, as league-leading Georgetown overcame a huge halftime deficit to upend the Cavaliers, 84-82. After building a 48-34 lead, Clinch Valley came out cold as they turned the ball over 12 times in the second half and found themselves in a tie ball-game with less than 4 minutes to play. The real killer came in the final two minutes, however, as the Cavs all but died at the free-throw line, missing on 5 of 6 freethrow attempts. Terry Edwards was the Cavaliers' leading scorer with 20, followed by Reggie Bryant with 18 and Mike Hoskins with 16.

Clinch Valley avenged an earlier loss to Berea by defeating the Mountaineers in front of a home crowd, 70-68. The game was tight from start to finish, as Berea opened in a 4-corner offense and built an 11-2 lead before the Cavaliers finally pulled even later in the half. From that point on, neither team led by more than 5 points throughout the game, as the Cavaliers held on to a one to three point cushion. A layup by Lewis Hackett off the break gave Clinch Valley a 3 point lead with less than 10 seconds to play, and the hometown held off a last ditch effort by Berea to ice the contest. Tony Kolb was high man for CVC, scoring 18, followed by Mike Hoskins with 14. Steve Dowdy, who at one point in the game hit five consecutive jumpshots from better than 20 feet, finished with 12 and Reggie Bryant added 11.

Should the Cavaliers make it by next week's KIAC tournament, there's a chance they may play host in the upcoming district tournament. In any event, let's make it clear to all that CVC supports its Cavaliers.

First Time In History

Cavs In District Tourney

By Rick Whitner

Clinch Valley broke the century mark last Thursday night as they blasted the Pikeville College Bears in front of a large home crowd, 107-87. The Cavaliers were not to be denied as they shot a blistering 69.7% from the field and closed out the regular season with a 15-12 overall record and 7-7 KIAC record. But more importantly, the Cavaliers assured themselves of the first winning season by a CVC men's team since the school became a four-year institution.

Mike Hoskins led the onslaught against the conference's second place team, pouring in 28 points from all over the court and dominating the boards with 13 rebounds. After starting slow in the opening minutes when Pikeville hit 7 of their first 8 shots, the Cavs took a 25-24 lead with 8:39 left in the first half and never looked back. Leading 51-39 at the half, the Cavs came out firing and soon extended their lead to 23 points. Lewis Hackett and Tony Kolb kept the nets aflame, scoring 20 and 17 points respectively, while Steve Dowdy added fuel to the fire with his 13. Down the stretch, it was the defense inside by Terry Edwards, Mike Hoskins, Reggie Bryant, and Ronnie Bates that kept the Bears at bay, and when the smoke had all cleared, the Cavaliers stood atop of their biggest victory of the year.

Coach Bentley called the game "the most important game in CVC history," because it insured the Cavaliers of its first winning season in the school's history, it assured the team a spot in the post-season district tournament for the first time, and also gave the team a chance to host one of the district tournament games. Coach Bentley also pointed to the play of Ronnie Bates as being one of the keys of the game, saying "Ronnie played his best game of the season tonight." Bates played outstanding defense and finished the night with 7 points.

Both the team and the 600-plus home crowd are to be commended for their part in the biggest victory in the history of Clinch Valley College man's basketball.

Note: The H.C. would like to thank Rick for covering the game after deadline so the readers could achieve knowledge of this great Cavalier feat. Thanks.

Cavs Beat Union In OT

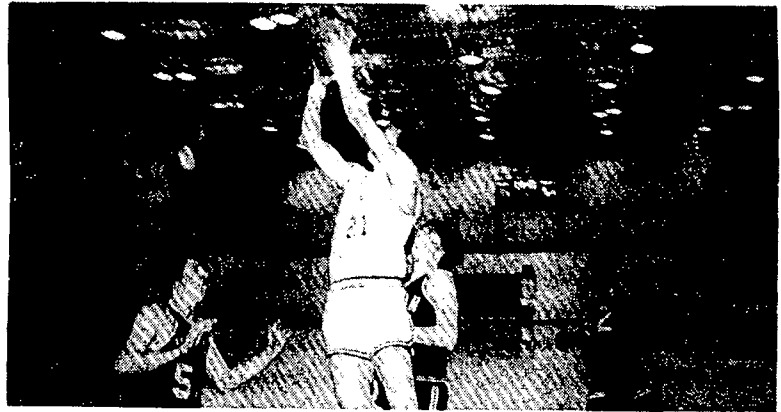

On Wednesday, Feb. 3 Clinch Valley had two chances to keep the game with Union out of overtime, but failed with two bad shots and it took an overtime for the Cavs to beat KIAC foe Union, 88-82.

At 1:30 remaining in the game, the Cavs had plans to hold for one shot with the score tied at 74. But, bad judgement prevailed and Union decided to do the same. However, everything looked good for the Cavs with :50 seconds remaining when Union had a costly turnover. As the clock ticked down, the crowd got anxious. The Cavalier crowd, though, had to wait throughout the five minute overtimes before they could breathe a sigh of relief as the Cavs failed again to connect.

The Cavs outscored Union 14-8 in the overtime period to walk away with their fifth KIAC win. Terry Edwards led in scoring with 25. He was followed by Kevin Howard and Lewis Hackett, each with 14, Mike Hoskins 13, and Reggie Bryant 12.

Commenting on the game, Coach Dave Bentley said, "We had a good first half and a good overtime period. Their [Union's] second half effort kept them in the game."

In Comeback

Cavs Upset Emory

With 3:19 remaining in the game, it looked like another loss for the Lady Cavaliers as Conference foe Emory and Henry took a five point lead (66-61). But the Lady Cavs' defense and Emory and Henry's turnovers helped the ladies upset Emory 69-66.

Emory brought the ball down court three times in the last minute and each time they came away scoreless. The Lady Cavs win became possible when Sharon Morris sank a bucket with 27 seconds remaining. The crowd came alive! Emory forced a shot and the Lady Cavs came down with the rebound. Emory and Henry fouled Kay Hartgrove and she led the win with 15 seconds remaining by dropping two free throws.

The evening looked at first like it would be a blow out as the Lady Cavs took a quick six point lead. But, Emory cut the lead to 8-4 with fifteen minutes remaining. Then, Emory took the lead with 11:10 remaining in the first half 14-12 and held on to take a 33-29 halftime lead.

Pat Scott led the Lady Cavs with 21 points. She was followed by Sharon Morris and Susan Hamilton who added 18 and 14 points respectively.

Other scorers included Jennifer McGee, 8; Kay Hartgrove, 4; Kathy Rogers, 2; and Connie Gwinn, 2.

Emory center Kay Turner led the Lady Wasps with 17 points. She was followed by Renee Boehm and Lesa Brown each with 14.

The win lifted the Lady Cavs' conference record to 3-2.
