

Kilgore Wins In Close Election

by Barry Bellamy

In one of the most hotly contested races in years, Johnny Kilgore was elected 1983-84 SGA President. The race, which was exciting and filled with emotion, came to an end at 7:15 Wednesday night when Election Commission Chairman I.W. Bacon declared the results to be final. Kilgore received 197 or 47.4% of the vote while Lisa Roberson received 176 votes or 42.37%. A third candidate, James Hash, fell short of expectations receiving 43 votes or 10.3%.

When asked to comment on his victory, Kilgore had this to say: "The people who worked for me were just super and the organization of the campaign was exceptional. I would like to especially thank the commuters because they played a major role in my victory. I hope this proves that to live off-campus does not mean you can't be involved on campus. Also I would like to congratulate Lisa and James for running a hard fight race. The campaigns are over and hopefully we can now unite to improve campus life."

In the contest for Vice-President, Lynn Gilbert received 168 votes for 40.2% of the vote to easily defeat Alex Modaber and Tim Williams. Modaber received 126 votes or 30.17% while Williams received 124 votes or 29.7%. When asked about her victory, Gilbert had this to say, "I'd like to thank everyone that supported me and especially the commuters for coming out to vote. I'm looking forward to working with the newly elected SGA and the students. I'd like to thank Alex and Tim for running such honest and honorable campaigns."

In the contest for Secretary, Shari Farmer ran unopposed and received 367 votes. Ken Sanders ran unopposed for Treasurer and received 362 votes.

In the vote on the Honor Court, the amendment passed by a vote of 813 to 85 or 76.7%. Sixty percent was required for passage.

In the Senior elections, Tom Gilliland, Frank Hodges, and Vernon Williams were elected representatives, while Sheila Dougherty, James Hash, and Frank Hodges were elected to the Honor Court. Lauchlin Lee receiving the next largest number of votes, will be the alternate honor court representative.

In the Junior elections, there were no candidates for SGA representatives. Travis Kennedy, Amy Gregory and Shari Farmer were elected to the Honor Court while Alan Wallace will be the alternate.

In the Sophomore elections, Laura Epps and Kathy Goglia were chosen SGA representatives. Tammy Kilgore, Sheri Pruitt, and Kim White were elected to the Honor Court. Greg Marshall will be the alternate.

For complete election results see the box below.

A Successful Festival

Despite heavy rain, the seventh International Arts Festival hosted the largest crowd in its history. Sponsored by the Humanities Division of Clinch Valley College, the event brought about 3,500 people to Clinch Valley College in Wise, Virginia, last Saturday.

According to Dr. Richard Peake, co-chairman of the 1983 festival, over 1,200 people witnessed the performance of the James Madison Dancers, who performed in the early afternoon.

Among the persons attending the festival were Ann Baker of Pound and the Reillys of Dickenson County. Like many others, they deplored the rain but refused to let the downpour dampen their spirits. They termed the festival "very enjoyable."

The day-long festival featured international entertainment by amateur and professional groups as well as international foods, exhibitions and a bazaar. For children the free balloons and clown faces were especially delightful.

The festive day concluded with a lecture-demonstration on Azean music by Tahuantinsuyo, who played and discussed native South American musical instruments, and a performance of "Red Fox/Second Hanging" by Roadside Theater to a standing room only crowd.

Law Day 1983

On May 2nd, the Honorable Harry L. Carrico, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia will be the speaker at the first annual Law Day on the campus of Clinch Valley College. Chief Justice Carrico received his appointment to the Supreme Court of Virginia in January, 1981 and was elected Chief Justice in 1981.

Before his appointment to the High Court of Virginia, Chief Justice Carrico had a distinguished career as a circuit court judge in the sixteenth judicial circuit. He received the J.D. from George Washington University and holds the LL.D (honorary), from the University of Richmond. In 1970 he was appointed to the Judicial Council of Virginia and has served as Chairman of that body since 1981. He is a member of the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity and is an honorary member of the Order of the Coff.

Mr. Chief Justice Carrico is married to Betty Lou Peck. They have one daughter, Lucretia Ann Irby.

The title of the Chief Justice's address for Law Day at Clinch Valley College is "Law Day, 1983."

For further information, please contact either the Office of Student Services at Clinch Valley College (328-2481) or the office of Mr. Ronald G. Thomason (679-3110).

Metric Week Proclaimed

Senator John Buchanan presents Governor Charles Robb's proclamation of Metric Week in Virginia to Dr. William Hooper, Professor of Physics at Clinch Valley College. Dr. Hooper is on the faculty of the Math-Science Division which had requested the week of May 8-14 be proclaimed a Metric Week in Virginia. Senator Buchanan was instrumental in obtaining the proclamation, and he expressed his hope for success in encouraging the U.S. to convert to SI metric measurements. Dr. Buchanan is the state senator from the 40th senatorial district of Virginia.

Roberson Thanks All!

Dear Editor,

As a recent candidate for President of the SGA, I would like to thank Butch Osborne, Harry Sydow, Cindy Saylor, Mark Kilgore, and Debbie Shortridge for their loyal and endless support during my campaign. I am equally grateful to each individual.

My congratulations go out to John Kilgore and the rest of the victorious candidates. I feel John can meet the demands of the office of President. We are all in this educational institution together, and together we can change and grow no matter who is head of Student Government.

In closing, I would like to thank everyone who came out and voted and showed interest and concern. Thank you all! Remember, Student Government is our input in this institution, so voice your opinions and show your support to the incumbent officers!

Thanks again!
Lisa

Dear CVC Seniors

Dear CVC Senior:

By now you have received your invitation to the Gala Reception in your honor given by the administration, faculty, staff, and CVC Alumni Association, at 6 p.m. on Sunday, May 8, at Cantrell Hall, for you and your family.

A version of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream will be offered for your entertainment by the Royal Nonesuch Players of CVC. This will be presented in the CVC Drama Building immediately following the reception. Please R.S.V.P. to the office of the Dean of Students, immediately.

Bottom Returns To CVC

Bottom's Entertainment a version of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream, will be offered May 8 at 8 p.m. at Clinch Valley College in Wise, VA in the drama building. Seats will be available on a first-come, first-served basis at $1.00 per ticket.

This production will be performed by Dr. Richard Peake's Shakespeare class, who have dubbed themselves the Royal Nonesuch Players of Clinch Valley College. They will present a version of Shakespeare's play performed often during the seventeenth century, with a few additions by the players themselves.

This play is centered around Bottom (played by Walter Littrell), a village laborer and a "ham" out for laughs. He and other Athenian workmen put on a play for Duke Theseus' wedding. (The Duke is played by Butch Osborne). The play-within-a-play is a spoof of Romeo and Juliet.

According to Sheila Dougherty, a Nonesuch player, the play should be successful. "We have been rehearsing for three weeks now. Everyone has been working hard to be ready on production night." She also commented, "we start rehearsals at 7 a.m., but nobody complains about the early time. Everyone seems to enjoy rehearsing this play." Sheila will play Flute, who takes on the role of Thisbe in the play-within-a-play.

"Spruce" Henry will play Oberon and Tammy Collins, Titania. Other members of the cast include Patricia Bridges, Sandra Goode, Veronica Hill, Melissa Stidham, and Lori Donley.

If you want to minimize the hassle of buying and selling used books, then the Computer Science Club has a program for you! Mark Bledsoe, a graduating senior, has written a program that will enable a prospective buyer to come by the computer room in the Administrative Building and pick up a free list of used books being offered for sale by students and faculty.

To get your books in the computer to be sold, come into the Computer Room this week and leave a listing with the following information: class name, title of book, selling price, your name and CVC address and phone.

This service will cost the seller a quarter a book. This must be paid before your information will be entered in the computer. Listings will be updated on a daily basis. This service will not be offered during the week of finals, only during the remaining days of class and the first week of Fall Semester including the two days of Registration.

Finding Oneself

By Jim Collie
Baptist Campus Minister

"I'm trying to find myself. Has anyone seen me lately?" Such is the caption beneath the shaggy sheep dog picture on a popular poster. Finding oneself is a task that seems to always be postponed in favor of whatever else needs to be done. Postponed, that is, until suddenly it interferes with the other tasks and demands to be given some attention. This time of year "Has anyone seen me lately?" may be a very real question.

In the fifteenth chapter of Luke's gospel is the account of a young man finding himself. Now, one need not journey to a far country to be a prodigal. The journey can be made right in one's own mind. The important thing is that like the young man in Jesus' parable we "come to ourselves."

Where then should we look for ourselves? For seniors there are career choices, graduate education, re-locations and weddings. Are you ready? And for the rest of us? Where do we look? The sociologist Cooley speaks of a "looking glass self." We may find ourselves mirrored in the way we think of ourselves, the way we think others see us, and the actual information we get from others about ourselves. Don't forget to include in your self discovery the way God sees you. For the prodigal in Jesus' parable God's image was so much greater than his own self-image. "I'm trying to find myself. Has anyone seen me lately?" God has. Just ask Him.

A Fixed Point In A Turning World

Warren H. Wattenbarger
Campus Minister
Wesley Foundation

Take a few minutes and through the window of your imagination reflect on the past years of your life. Is not it remarkable how those years blur, how they run together in a blur of seasons and times. In the rear view mirror of life somehow seems so much easier and uncomplicated - probably than it really was. Certainly the past appears less complicated than the years of change that lie ahead.

A quiet dread is present in us when we think about the future, because the future will bring about many changes for us. That is the one thing that is certain about the future. It will be different from the present.

We will have to go from where we are now and leave our comfortable niches. Everything on earth changes, winter, spring, fall, summer, each in its own turn.

The fortunes of those who were number one are brought low; riches take wing and fly away. Friends become enemies and enemies become friends. Our view of life's needs and what is really valuable matures and changes.

It is, of course, the factor of change that alarms us when we think about the future. A future moving toward us signals that we are not in control of our lives and this is terrifying. The future may take us where we do not want to go...and it surely leads to the end of the road.

But among all the forces of change there is a fixed point, a center on spot which to stand when everything else seems to change. That is to have a faith in God, having our feet firmly planted in a belief in the greatness and the certainty of God. Through the beacon of God's word, that fixed point will always remain on the horizon, unchangeable for you all the years of your life. The fixed point is found in the one who has always been by your side and who will be waiting at the end of all changes with His arms open on the other side. This fixed point is like a beacon shining with the assurance or mercy and hope even in a changing world.

Pi Kapp News

These last couple of weeks have been busy for Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity with our associate members going through Pinning Ceremony and finishing up our HELP WEEK, Initiation and Rose-Ball weekend has proven to be worth all the work.

We would like to thank everyone for attending our dance this past Thursday night. Friday night was our Rose-Ball at Duffield, Virginia. We were glad to have some of our Alumni come down and everyone that attended had a terrific time. On Saturday, the Epsilon Pledge Class was initiated into the Epsilon-Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi.

Also, this past Friday, the Brothers and Sisters of Pi Kappa Phi here at CVC helped set up and manage the 1983 Special Olympics in Big Stone Gap.

The Fraternity is proud of the Award that we received for the Campus Cleanup Campaign sponsored by the SGA. This is another event that we will be able to add to our growing list of service-projects that we have helped or either participated in this year.

Art Exhibit

Betsy W. Miller, a senior at CVC, majoring in Performing Arts with a concentration in art, will be displaying her work in the CVC library from May 2 through May 14. The exhibit will include pottery, paintings in acrylic and oil, and drawings in pencil as well as in pen and ink. All students and faculty are invited to view the display.

Sorority News

The sisters of Phi Upsilon Omega hosted our annual reception for CVC secretaries last Wednesday, National Secretaries' Day, in honor of their hard work and dedication. We sincerely hope all the secretaries enjoyed it. Also, we would like to remind everyone that we're still selling popcorn in the Zahmer building on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 9:30 to 1:30. With the end of the semester rapidly approaching, we're really looking forward to our upcoming Myrtle Beach trip—what a great way to end another year at CVC!

Outpost Deliveries

Any persons wanting a 1983 Outpost can leave a message if the office isn't open and an annual will be delivered or left at a convenient place.

All persons enrolled as a full-time student in either the fall or spring semester may get an annual.

Annuals may also be picked up for those students no longer here.

Newspaper Staff Sought

The Publications Committee is seeking applicants for the 1983-84 staff of The Highland Cavalier. The positions open are editor, assistant editor, and business manager. Students interested should pick up application forms from Mrs. Anna Breeding (A231) or Dr. Richard Peake (A243).

BERRY BELLOWS

By Berry Bellows

With the arrival of warm weather, many people participate in warm weather activities for enjoyment, to get in shape, or to stay in shape. Here are my suggestions for warm weather activities.

GOLF

I used to play golf. I really enjoyed it, but I lost so many balls, I found it most expensive and haven't played it in over a year. When walking, golf is excellent exercise that gives nearly every muscle in the body a workout. The courses in our area tend to be short but extremely hilly and one will be amazed at how exhausted you are after eighteen holes.

SWIMMING

Many consider swimming to be the most perfect exercise of all. It is cheap, requiring only a pair of swim trunks or cut-offs. Most importantly, by using a variety of strokes, one can exercise every muscle in the body. Swimming is also a good way to cool off on a hot day this summer. If you don't know how to swim, lessons are taught regularly by the Red Cross. If you take Red Cross courses, the only thing you can be charged for is the use of the facilities. No Red Cross instructor is paid.

TENNIS

To me, tennis was always frustrating. I get so mad at myself because I can't make that little ball go where I want it to. Tennis is also superb exercise, but beware, it gets mighty hot on those tennis courts in the summer. Take it easy and don't get too hot.

HIKING

I love to hike, but I have two chronic weaknesses that keeps me from participating very much. I'm terrified of heights and snakes, two elements that go hand-in-hand with hiking. As for exercise though, it's hard to get a better physical workout than to plod through the mountains and valleys of our area. When hiking, remember, take no chances with ledges, and try not to get lost.

SOFTBALL

Few events can match the excitement of a weekend softball tournament. Besides being enjoyable, softball tournaments are great exercise and you may win a trophy. A note of warning: Most softball tournaments have a concession stand with good food at reasonable prices. You may leave the tournament heavier than when you arrived!

FISHING

Many of you will laugh, but fishing can be great exercise. Wading in a river with swift current and deep holes are not only exercise, it can also be downright dangerous! Few summer activities are as aesthetically pleasing as being in the great outdoors and landing a big smallmouth with the cool water running through your legs and the sun beaming warmly in your face.

The above are my choices for a good time and a healthy body this summer. You may like them or you may not. Either way, be active this spring and summer. You'll look better and feel better if you do.

Notice On Physics Course

General Physics I (PHYS 111) has been renamed and renumbered. Students wishing to take the beginning physics course should register for The Physics of Energy I (PHYS 201). It is essentially the same as the former General Physics I course. Faculty advisors should be able to tell their advisees whether any of the minor changes in this course will affect them.

Scholarships Offered

The Independent Insurance Agents of America, Inc., a non-profit organization, will be awarding eight $1,000.00 scholarships to those persons interested in pursuing an education in the field of insurance.

Anyone interested should contact the Financial Aid Office for an application before July 15, 1983.

KIAC Tennis At CVC

Clinch Valley College will host the 1983 Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tennis Championship on Friday-Saturday, April 29-30. Play will begin at approximately 9:00 a.m. on Friday and matches will be scheduled until 6:00 p.m. The finals in all singles and doubles divisions are scheduled for Saturday with play beginning at 10:00 a.m. Teams from Alice Lloyd, Berea, Campbellsville, Georgetown (KY), Pikeville, Thomas Moore, Union, and Clinch Valley are expected to compete.

A team will receive one team point for each match won in singles or doubles. The team with the greatest number of team points will be declared conference champion. The players will compete for individual honors by position - an eight person draw for number one, number two, etc.

"Greg Cole should go into the tournament with an 8-1 conference record and should be seeded," commented Coach Daniel. "Danny Rowland/Jack Browning and Greg Cole/Allen Wallace at number one and number two doubles also have an 8-1 record and should be seeded. The team is confident that they will improve on last year's third place finish."

Clinch Valley's conference record is 7-2 with losses to conference leader Thomas Moore and to Campbellsville. "The Campbellsville match was very close. We lost 3-6, but the score could have easily been 6-3 our way," said Coach Daniel. "On our courts we would probably have won."

Area tennis fans are encouraged to come out and see some of the tournament action. There is no admission.

Women's Tennis Highlights

by Debbie Shortridge
The Women's Tennis Team of Clinch Valley College has suffered overall defeat to date this season. But the individual effort of #1 ranked Terri Dotson has spelled out victory in virtually every match.

Coach Carl Almond stated that Dotson is an exciting player to watch and extremely difficult to defeat on the court; she never gives up. On Monday, April 25 Terri won an exciting set against Joyce Perez of King College, 7-6. Victory was clinched by a Tie-breaker 15-13.

Coach Almond noted that Karen Yeary also defeated King's Perez on Tuesday, April 19, by a score of 10-7. In addition to Dotson and Yeary, Alicia Kolakooski also shares the limelight of the winner's circle. On Thursday, April 7, Kolakooski defeated Nathalie Aldridge of Virginia Intermont, 8-6. 1983 Lady Cavalier Tennis:

- #1: Terri Dotson
- #2: Karen Yeary
- #3: Betty Farmer
- #4: Cindy Saylor
- #5: Renee Raines
- #6: Alicia Kolakooski

Women's Basketball Update

by Debbie Shortridge
Coach Almond indicated that there are several interesting prospects for next year's Lady Cavaliers which were identified during try-outs on April 9, 1983. Almond is hopefully regarding Robin Burke, from Sullivan South in Kingsport, Tennessee and Ann Smith, from Warrenton, Virginia. Both of these ladies will add a great deal of depth on the inside to our team, which is what Almond is currently seeking to do. In addition, it looks as though Beth Hamilton may be coming to CVC in the fall. Hamilton is from Clintwood and previously was a member of the James Madison University Women's team. She would add significant skill and experience to the '83-84 Lady Cav Squad.
