

Bookstore - A New Direction

Under the direction of Richard Prior, the new assistant Business Manager, the college bookstore will soon be increasing in stock and appeal. Depending upon the availability of funds, students should see a striking change in the physical layout of the bookstore by the Spring semester or certainly by next fall.

Prior has intentions of joining the National Association of College Services, which offers "ump-teen services such as marketing techniques". He has contacted many suppliers and is waiting for experts to come down and change the layout. Then, he will have a better idea of what and how much to purchase.

CVC's new Assistant Business Manager is interested in offering a better line of clothing with emphasis upon fashion and popular demand. Also, a "notion counter", offering health and beauty aids such as toothpaste, etc., is being planned. The bookstore will also provide things like magazines, stationary, mugs, and caps.

Prior feels these high demand items should be a service of the bookstore for reasons of convenience of price.

Prior added that he needs "input on the cafeteria operation. There are already some changes in place. We've reduced items, cut back on hours, and cut back on personnel."

Whatever it takes to make the cafeteria more appealing, Prior needs to know about it. "I want more ideas from students on what they would like over there."

He invites everyone interested to come by his office, write a letter, or "stop him in the hall". Just "anything" he says, to gain insight on what students want and need in both the cafeteria and the bookstore.

Missy Looney had a good time at the Wesley Taco Dinner. For more information about Wesley, see page 4.

Students - Know Your Rights

The Registrar's Office at CVC would like to inform students of their rights concerning educational records. Due to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, and the Buckley Amendments, effective January 8, 1976, students have the right to:

1. To be provided with a list of the types of education records, as defined in the Act, which are maintained by the College and which are directly related to students;
2. To inspect and review the content of those records;
3. To obtain copies of those records upon payment of expenses;
4. To receive a response from the College to reasonable requests for explanations of those records; and
5. To receive confidential treatment by the College of education records; neither such records, nor personally identifiable information contained therein, will be released without student permission to anyone other than those parties specifically authorized by the Act.

For more specific information on who has the right to see your educational records and where these records are kept, a student may obtain a complete copy of these regulations from any faculty secretary, the Dean of Students' Office, or any student services' offices such as the Financial Aid Office or the Registrar's Office.

Federal legislation (Buckley Amendment) concerning the privacy of information states that students may elect to have their names, addresses and other "directory" information not listed in such a publication. Colleges may publish directory information concerning an individual student if the student does not request his/her information be withheld.

In compliance with this new legislation, Clinch Valley College requests that any student (full or part-time) who does not want to have certain information listed in the directory notify the Registrar's Office by Wednesday, September 7.

Graduate With Honors? Begin Now

Upperclassmen who are interested in graduating with honors should be aware of the policies on graduation with honors which are listed below.

In order to graduate with honors a student must be in the top quarter of his/her class and must complete an honors project which demonstrates an unusually high level of academic achievement. The types of honors projects which will be eligible for consideration will be defined by the academic departments and/or disciplines subject to the approval of the Honors Committee.

The Honors Committee will have final authority to select those students who will graduate with honors. The Committee will be composed of the Dean serving as chairman and one representative from each academic division, to be appointed by the appropriate division chairman.

Proposals for honors projects should be submitted by students by April 15 in their junior year, but not later than September 15 in their senior year. (The spring date was chosen so that a student could begin an honors project in the summer, if appropriate.)

Each student submitting a proposal must have a faculty member who is willing to supervise the project. The proposal must be recommended by the faculty member and the department chairman. If the proposal is accepted by the Committee, and it must have the recommendation of the supervising faculty member and the department chairman when submitted in final form. The completed honors project must be received by the Honors Committee by March 30 of the student's senior year.

Each student completing an honors project will make an oral presentation open to the public on his/her project.

No student need necessarily be awarded honors and normally no more than 5% of the graduating class should qualify for such honors.

Students interested in applying for graduation with honors may check with Mrs. Barbara Short in the Office of the Registrar to determine if they are in the top quarter of their class. Then they are encouraged to discuss their interest with the chairman of the department or division in which they are majoring and receive advice on the development of a proposal. Proposals should be submitted through the Office of the Dean.

Skies Over Clinch Valley

The Clinch Valley College Observatory will be open to the public each Wednesday evening (weather permitting) from 9:00 to 10:00 p.m. beginning August 31.

Visitors will be able to use the CVC telescope, a 25-cm refractor, to view the moon, planets, and other celestial objects that are available. The observing sessions will automatically be cancelled, however, if the sky is not clear on the scheduled Wednesday. The observatory is located on the roof of the Science Building on the CVC campus in Wise. Visitors may meet in the lobby of the building or go directly up to the observatory if they know the way.

Observing sessions have not been conducted for about a year due to construction work on the Science Building roof. They will continue every Wednesday (weather permitting) except when the college is closed for vacation. The next scheduled vacation is the Fall Break (October 16-22), so there will be no open house on Wednesday, October 19.

Currently, the planets of Saturn and Jupiter will be available for viewing. On August 31, they will be visible in a dark, moonless sky. The rings of Saturn and several moons of Jupiter and Saturn can be clearly seen with the CVC telescope.

The observing sessions are provided as a public service by CVC and are conducted by Dr. Phillip Shelton and Dr. William Hooper of the CVC science faculty.

Under 19... Sorry!

Effective July 1, 1983, Virginia Law states that NO ONE UNDER THE AGE OF 19 may be served alcoholic beverages. In order to comply with the law, the College has established the following guidelines which will be strictly enforced:

Each CVC student MUST present his/her CVC I.D. in order to be admitted to CVC dances. Each student may sign in one guest and must assume responsibility for the behavior of his/her guest. All guests MUST be 18 years of age or older and guests MUST provide proof of age.

ABSOLUTELY NO EXCEPTIONS WILL BE MADE TO THE ABOVE RULES.

Letters

Highland Cavalier's Letters Policy

The Highland Cavalier encourages all persons who wish to express themselves to write a letter to the editor. All letters must be signed to be printed. The editor has the right to edit and/or reject letters that violate the guidelines as set up by the publications committee. Send all letters to Box 1127 by Wednesday, 12 noon, each week. All letters must be typewritten, unless they are neatly printed.

POINT BLANK

Point Blank is a weekly guest column written by those chosen to represent a view of interest to Clinch Valley College.

by Bonnie Blosser, Dean of Students

I am very pleased to have the opportunity to welcome all new and returning CVC students. I hope your summer was enjoyable and profitable. I heard from many of you over the summer by phone and mail and I appreciate your keeping in touch.

As the academic year begins, I encourage you to try to make this year the best year possible by making your academic progress a top priority. College life, however, should include a variety of experiences and I encourage you to participate fully in the many extra-curricular activities available on campus. Students at CVC frequently complain that "there is nothing to do here." Actually, nothing could be further from the truth. CVC offers many activities... something in nearly every area of interest. It is not possible to list all the activities available on campus but I encourage you to investigate and participate in at least some of the academic related, cultural, social or athletic activities available.

Students interested in sports, for example, may participate in inter-collegiate or intramural sports. The College has an excellent College/Community Choir and the theatre department plans to produce two major productions this semester. Don't sit on the sidelines - attend a dance or try out for the choir or a play this semester. If your grades are good enough, you may be asked to join an honorary organization. There are also two national fraternities and a local sorority on campus which you may want to consider joining.

There are many other activities which you should try to enjoy. The Dock Boggs Festival which will be held on Saturday, September 24th features a variety of very talented musicians and is always an enjoyable day of fine fellowship and entertainment.

At Christmas each year, CVC faculty and staff members and members of the local community open their homes to students and serve delicious meals with menus from countries around the world. Watch for information about "Christmas Around The World." Tickets are very inexpensive. Be sure to purchase them early. Throughout the academic year students are admitted to all Pro-Art community cultural events free of charge with CVC I.D.'s. The events include excellent performances in the arts including music, dance and theatrical productions. All performances for the coming season are listed on the calendar in The Code and there will be publicity preceding each event in the Highland Cavalier and on the CVC bulletins boards.

Finally, I should mention the International Arts Festival which is held each spring. The festival features food, entertainment, costumes and gifts from countries around the world. Thousands of people visit the campus on that day from all over the area. You may want to volunteer to work that day.

Wherever your interests lie, I strongly encourage you not to spend the year sitting on the sidelines. Participate - but only after you have completed all your class assignments.

Good luck and have a good year.

JUST EDITING

Keep Your Wheels Where They Belong

Has this ever happened to you? You wake up at 9:00 a.m. You're starving. You throw on your clothes, jump in your car, and rush to Hardee's to fill your empty stomach. As you leave, you notice a sign that is in front of your car. It says "Parking for Dorm Residents Only". You're grateful. You know when you return, your parking place will still be there. You enjoy your breakfast tremendously, and at 9:45, you return. Upon your return, you find your parking place occupied... gobbled up by a vehicle with a commuter parking sticker! You drive on through the lot and see many vehicles with this commuter sticker. You conclude the sign must be a joke, a clever prank engineered by cunning youngsters. You ask the administration, that is, after you find a parking place a half mile away. You are told the sign is real, not a joke. Its message is simply not enforced.

Perhaps the above is an exaggeration. But it is a fact that commuters do park in the spaces reserved for residents of Crockett Hall, and are never fined for their lack of respect and courtesy. My solution is this: Paint twenty spaces with blue lines. These are for Crockett residents, both male and female. The commuters can have whatever is left. Fine those people who park where they shouldn't.

I challenge the CVC administration and Police Chief, Frank Colyer, to enforce all CVC parking regulations, not just fine those who park in the handicapped zone or faculty lots. Sincerely, Barry D. Bellamy, Editor

Patrick Smith - New Professor Of Management

The Highland Cavalier welcomes Mr. Patrick Smith to the CVC faculty. Mr. Smith, a native of La Follete, Tennessee, received his bachelors degree from the University of Tennessee in 1980. Upon graduation, he spent two years at the University of Texas where he received his MBA in Marketing and Finance. After working a year at a San Antonio bank, Mr. Smith accepted the job teaching management courses here at Clinch Valley College.

Mr. Smith stated that he likes the area and is excited to start his teaching duties. This fall, he will teach Principles of Management, Principles of Marketing, Principles of Advertising, and Advanced Administrative Decision Making.

Dick Prior

Dick Prior - New Assistant Business Manager

Dick Prior recently assumed the position of Assistant Business Manager and Personnel Director at Clinch Valley College in Wise. Mr. Prior was born in Perth, Australia and spent much of his childhood in Australia and Mexico. His father's work as a mining engineer took the family to many locations, including California and New York.

Mr. Prior entered the United States Air Force as a mechanic and later became a flight engineer. He served in Vietnam on two separate assignments and was also stationed in Texas, New Hampshire, and Langley Air Force Base in Virginia. During his 20 years of service he traveled to all 50 states, all the Canadian provinces, and 53 foreign countries.

After his retirement from the Air Force, Mr. Prior served as Assistant County Administrator for Pulaski County for four years and Director of Community Development for the City of Norton for three years.

Mr. Prior is the father of five sons ranging in age from 16-28. He resides in Wise and enjoys flower gardening and photography in his spare time.

Chowdhury Returns

Dr. Z. H. Chowdhury, of the Clinch Valley Mathematics Department, had only words of praise for our mother institution after taking a one year leave of absence. "I enjoyed the experience very much; it is beautiful up there. I attended events ranging from rugby games to a ballet concert."

When asked if the difference in the two schools, Chowdhury said, "I used a completely different teaching method at UVA. The student faculty relationship is much closer here at Clinch Valley."

Dr. Chowdhury did not get to finish his teaching term at UVA. During the spring semester, doctors detected that he had a heart problem. "I quit teaching and had triple by-pass heart surgery was performed at the University of Virginia Hospital. The operation was successful and twelve weeks later, I was able to play tennis," says Chowdhury.

Dr. Chowdhury says he feels fine now, and we are all glad to have him back home.

Welcome

By Warren Wattenbarger

Once again we hear the ringing of school bells. For some of you it is a time of tradition - this is your first adventure into the college life away from home. For others it is simply a return to familiar surroundings and a similar routine. Whatever your situation, we at the Wesley Foundation welcome you to Clinch Valley College and extend to each of you a cordial invitation to join us each Tuesday at 5:00 p.m. for a home cooked meal and a time of fun and fellowship. These Wesley Foundation gatherings will be at the United Student Center across the road from the mobile home park.

As the lazy days of summer end and the fall days of classes and studying begin, we wish for you a rewarding semester. May the days provide you with experiences that will enrich your life and help you to mature in many ways. It is our hope that the same may be said of you that was said of Jesus, "He increased in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God and man." So as you chart your course for this school year and for all the years to come, remember that today is the first day of the rest of your life.

Theological Seminary (1971), and a B.A. from the University of Kentucky (1968).

Before coming to C.V.C., Rouse taught philosophy at

"HnSS"

By Jim Colie
Baptist Campus Minister

John Tadlock, Campus Minister at Clemson University, has a name for it. You've probably already noticed the behavior about to be described. John calls it the "Huge 'n Squeals" Syndrome, or "HnSS". "HnSS" happens when students who have not seen each other for a whole summer (or two weeks) see each other on campus. It seems they let go with an ear-piercing scream and run for each other. Injuries could result if you happen to get in the way. Hugging then follows like you would expect at a family reunion punctuated with questions and squeals. The reason John feels it is so important to identify this behavior is the affect it may have on new students. If you are already lonely, watching several episodes of "HnSS" can make you feel even more lonely. Let's work real hard to make everyone new and old feel at home at CVC. This includes new Profs, too. One more word of warning about "HnSS". It can be contagious.

Welcome to CVC and a new school year. The writer of Hebrews has a word for the hectic beginning of school days. Let me share it with you.

"May the God of peace provide you with every good thing you need in order to do his will, and may he through Jesus Christ, do in us what pleases him."--Hebrews 13:21 (Today's English Version)

David Rouse

To be eligible, students must be United States citizens, enrolled as seniors, and receiving financial aid through a college or university. They must also have an expected parental contribution of $200.00 or less for their senior year, as calculated according to the uniform methodology used by the College Scholarship Service. Self-supporting students qualify if their total family contribution is $200.00 or less for their senior year.

The 1983-84 GRE fee-waiver form is a gold card. It may be used for GRE test dates through September 30, 1984. An original certificate, fully completed and signed by the coordinator, must accompany a student's registration form to obtain a waiver of GRE test fees.

Fee-waiver forms are available now in the Office of the Dean of Students.

The Building Across The Road

Perhaps you have noticed the building across the road from the Mobile Home Park. It is the United Student Center, owned by the Holston Conference of The United Methodist Church. The building was designed and built with the students of Clinch Valley College in mind. It is a place where the Clinch Valley College students can retreat for a game of pool, table tennis, watch television, just relax or study depending on your desire or need at that time. The two campus ministers maintain offices in the building. The campus ministers are Jim. N. Colie of the Baptist Student Union and Warren H. Wattenbarger of the Wesley Foundation. Both ministers invite you to come by for an informal chat or if there is a special need they are available to assist you in what ever way possible.

The B.S.U. has weekly meeting at the United Student Center each Wednesday at 5:00 p.m. The Wesley Foundation meets on Tuesday at 5:00 p.m.

Come on over and visit our building - relax - and enjoy yourself for a while.

The Building is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Saturday 11:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. and Sunday 2:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Phi Sig News

The Brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa would like to welcome all the incoming freshmen and returning students. We are looking forward to an exciting year with the help of your participation in the student activities.

Phi Sigma Kappa is the oldest national fraternity on this campus, with our chapter (XI Hexaston) receiving its charter in 1976. Our original founding was in 1873 at the University of Massachusetts.

We are proud to carry on in the traditions set down long ago, yet we also believe in progressive change. Very shortly, we will be starting our Fall Rush program. This simply means a time when you, the independent student may have a chance to learn about us, and vice-versa. Last Monday night, we had a very successful outdoor barbecue for anyone interested in our fraternity, and we will be having an "End of the Summer Bonfire" this Friday night (8-26). If you have some free time, please stop by and learn a little bit about us and this school.

Thank you and Good Luck, The Brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa lawyer and he selected philosophy as a pre-law curriculum. He soon changed his mind and decided he would rather teach. "I can't think of anything I'd rather do," said Rouse.

The next decision he had to make was whether to teach philosophy or theology. "After my experience at the Theological Seminary, I decided philosophy was the type of analysis I liked." Rouse added that religion deals "primarily with tradition" and he wanted to place emphasis on thinking.

Because Professor Rouse is interested in computers, he plans to use his Apple II computer as a supplement to his logic classes. Rouse's introduction of the computer to the philosophy department is a part of his plan to get students "thinking".

Rouse hopes to see the philosophy program continue to be an important asset to the other departments. "One of the appealing things about this position is that Judd Lewis has done such a good job for the college," Rouse said, "It looks like the challenge for me is going to be to keep things going right."

"I am looking forward to getting to know C.V.C. students and I think philosophy is a good thing to study no matter what you're going in to," said C.V.C.'s newest professor.

Rouse says that he demands a certain degree of academic excellence. "It doesn't do anybody any good if you don't set a high standard... but I'm patient."

Attention Fourth Year Students

Students expecting to complete degree requirements in December 1983, May 1984, and August 1984 must complete a Degree Application form and deposit with the Registrar's Office. DEGREE APPLICATION FORMS are available in the Registrar's Office.

A Tribute To Pam Horton

For You My Friend

I send you a smile
 For just being there
 By my side when I'm down
 And showing that you care
 I send you love
 For caring for me
 When I was sick or hurt
 Or wanted company
 I send you a rainbow
 For saying to me
 The sun needs the rain
 For a rainbow to be
 I'd send you the world
 If dreams could come true
 For a friend takes it all
 Then returns it to you.

Love,
 Pam (Hotdog)

Editor's Note: Mr. & Mrs. Eugene Horton sent this poem, written by Pam, to be shared with her friends at CVC.

Pam Horton, My Friend

by Terry Boyd
 Clinch Valley College has suffered a great loss. On July 29, Pam "Hotdog" Horton was killed in a car accident in Hillsville, Virginia.

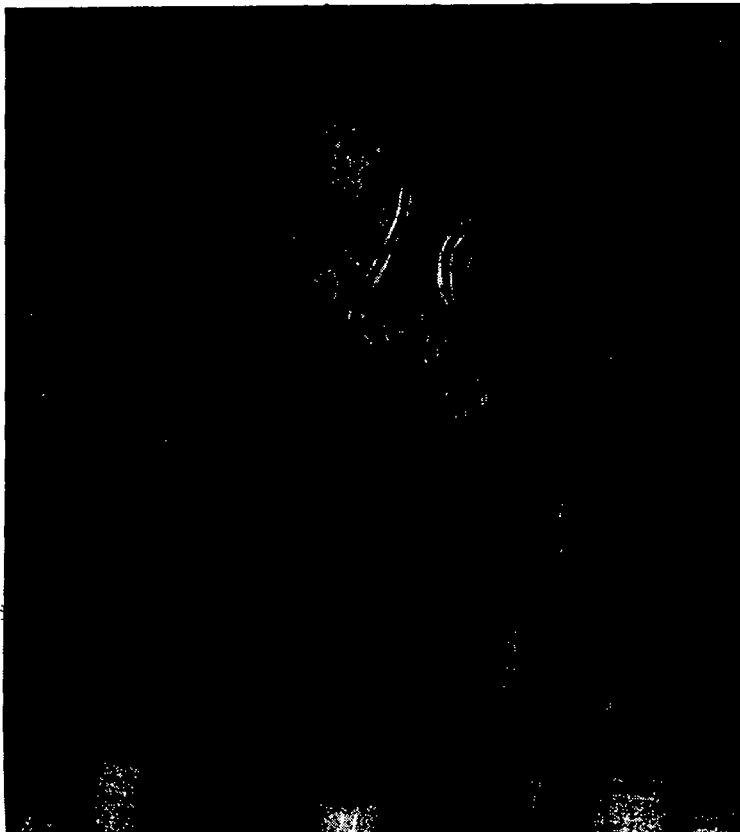

Pam lived life to its fullest. She never walked anywhere - she danced. She gave her utmost in any endeavor whether it was basketball, softball, or dancing. Pam had to be the best - and she was; she never settled for anything less.

Pam left a lasting impression on everyone she met. Because of her unique personality, everyone knew who she was. Her matchless form of greeting, "How's it hanging?!", managed to shed light on even the dreariest day and dispel even the worst of moods. In only one year at CVC, Pam accomplished more than most do in four years. Among her many achievements were leading scorer for the 1982 Lady Cavaliers and she also set a new high scoring record for one season. She left her mark everywhere.

We were extremely lucky to have Pam attend Clinch Valley College when she could have attended so many other schools. She was a great inspiration to the institution.

We know Pam is with God and though she will be sorely missed by all, we were truly blessed by her presence. Pam, we love you and we will miss you.

Pam Horton

Pam The Athlete

by Hunter Hatcher
 Pam Horton was, in the words of basketball coach, Carol Almond, an "exceptional athlete." Pam's usual spunky and energetic manner off the court also characterized her performance on the court. An aggressive and determined freshman guard for the Lady Cavaliers, Pam was the leader in assists and steals in the 1982-83 season. She was also an impressive rebounder and a leading scorer -- unusual accomplishments for a guard. At the end of last season, Pam had accumulated some outstanding statistics. A 19.5 points per game average made her the team's leading scorer. She broke the CVC single-game scoring record with an unbelievable 44 points in one contest. In tournaments against Alice Lloyd and Concord, Pam was voted to the All-Tournament teams.

While statistics and performance are important measures of athletic success, the ultimate honor for any team athlete is the approval and appreciation of teammates. At the end of her first season, Pam was selected the Most Valuable Player by her fellow Lady Cavaliers. On November 17, 1983, their first home game will be dedicated to Pam.

Intramural Update

Intramural sports this fall will experience a slightly altered schedule. Due to the addition of a fall baseball season, the intramural softball season will not begin until September 14. Beginning on October 15, there will be a short intramural football season, also.

Something new is on the agenda for mid-November - intramural ping-pong. There will be men and women's singles and men and women's doubles. It is doubtful, however, that there will be mixed doubles.

Depending upon the availability of the gym, intramural volleyball is also being planned.

The rules and regulations for intramural sports remain the same and winners will again receive T-shirts.
