

Moomaw resigns as Chancellor; Cardwell appointed

By Gary Parsons
HC Staff Writer

On December 19, 1986, Edmund W. Moomaw, Chancellor of Clinch Valley College for the past 18 months, announced his resignation to the CVC community. University of Virginia President Robert O'Neil accepted Moomaw's resignation and asked then Vice-Chancellor/Dean Jerry Cardwell, to step in and serve as acting Chancellor until a permanent Chancellor is named in the future.

Moomaw's resignation came at a climactic point of a stormy and controversial administrative period. The situation came to a head on December 12 of last semester, when 31 of the 44 teachers (with 3 abstentions) in Clinch Valley's Faculty Council rendered a vote of "no confidence" in Moomaw and called for the University to remove him from office if he did not resign.

The resignation was first announced in a letter delivered to CVC staff and faculty. In the letter UVA President O'Neil stated the following: "Several days ago Chancellor Moomaw shared with me his desire to leave the Chancellorship for a different role within the University. Early in January he will assume, in Charlottesville, a teaching and research position which will reflect his expertise and academic background."

The Coalfield Progress, reported that O'Neil said that he had been contacted by phone, letters, and in person with favorable expressions for the Chancellor which he felt to be spontaneous. "They say how much he (Moomaw) has done for the College. That is the theme I have heard time and again," said O'Neil.

O'Neil also said, "I have had 15 years in academic administration with regional campuses. At no time have I felt I could overlay my perception on that of those who are there."

O'Neil commended Moomaw for many of his policies and said that he should receive credit for many of his accomplishments.

Moomaw, who was the second Chancellor in CVC's 32 year history, had been Dean and Academic Vice President of Birmingham-Southern College, an Alabama school with an enrollment of 1500. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia.

Fraternity house sustains damages in fire accident

By Roy Russell
HC Staff Writer

Early Tuesday afternoon of last week, the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity house caught fire due to an exploding propane bottle, according to Scott Robinson, a brother of the fraternity who lives in the house. The incident occurred while Robinson and Dale Johnson, another brother, were attempting to thaw the water pipes under the house with the torch, according to a report filed by Rich Davidson, president of the fraternity.

The statement submitted to the school by Davidson states that, "Dale went (to get) the fire extinguisher and told Dain Bolling to call the fire department but the phone cord was burned in two (pieces)."

The statement continues to say, "the fire extinguisher malfunctioned and smoke began to fill the house. We tried to extinguish the fire with snow. Scott then proceeded to Jim's Market to call for help."

After the Wise Fire Department had extinguished the fire and left the premises, the house residents were removing their belongings from the house when the fire started again, sending the residents into the cold.

Jack Tolbert, Wise Fire Chief, stated, "There is not much damage and the house should be liveable in a matter of days." He also said that the fire started under the bathroom and living room of the house.

CVC snow schedule policy outlined

A proposal for the adoption of a new snow schedule policy presented by the master plan advisory committee for consideration by the faculty (October 1, 1986)

1. It is the policy of Clinch Valley College that the College does not close because of snow except in the most severe and unusual circumstances. In such unusual circumstances, the decision on whether to close will be made by appropriate administrative officers. An announcement to close will be made on appropriate radio and TV stations prior to 7 a.m. or will be announced on campus in the event a decision to close is made during a school day.

2. The College automatically will be on "Snow Schedule" on all days on which the Wise County Public Schools announce prior to 8 a.m. that the Wise County Schools are closed because of snow. "Snow Schedule" for CVC means the school day (including all day classes) begins one hour later than usual. All classes meet for their full normal lengths. Night classes meet at their normal times unless otherwise announced. Classified staff (except those declared "essential") may report for work one hour later than usual. On Snow Schedule days the college cafeteria and grill, and other essential services, operate on normal schedule. No announcements will be provided on local radio and TV stations that the college will be on "Snow Schedule." Members of the college community will know automatically that the college is on "Snow Schedule" if Wise County Schools announce they are closed.

3. Faculty members are expected to attend classes on days the college is on snow schedule. Faculty members who cannot make it out of their driveways, or have other driving problems, may call the college to ask security or Mr. Lipps for assistance. If a faculty member cannot get to the college even with this assistance, the faculty member should call the college and arrange for the class or classes to be cancelled. Individual professors may wish to make arrangements with their classes on how students will be notified when the professor makes a decision to cancel a class.

4. All students are expected to attend classes on snow schedule days. Commuter students should use their best judgements about whether it is safe to drive to the college from their homes. Commuter

Plans being made for new student health contract

By Roy Russell
HC Staff Writer

Within the next month CVC will witness the final student health contract emergence with a local hospital. The college had called for bids on a contract from three local hospitals early last semester. Plans to complete the contract are set for the beginning of February of this semester.

Wise General Hospital had accepted a temporary contract last semester. This contract provided emergency room care "equivalent to that of on-campus care," according to Richard Pryor, Director of Personnel and Purchasing.

According to Pryor, "The emergency room will only provide free care equivalent to that of on-campus care. Anything over and above that will be charged to the student."

There was some confusion among students last semester as to what exactly will be billed and what falls under the free care policy. For those students who are not familiar with the old student health policy, the free care policy provided by Clinch Valley College consists of providing health services which can be conducted by a nurse on campus.

According to Pryor, there are stipulations regarding the contract which will neither allow him to elaborate on the exact conditions of the contract, nor name the hospital involved.

More information will be released to the students when the contract has been finalized.

Careers to take shape with the help of Career Fair

By Pamela Norman
HC Co-Assistant Editor

Getting a steady job, sustaining a career, making a future for yourself are all crucial factors for the college graduate and those preparing to graduate.

These factors, like anything else worthwhile, require an investment of both time and energy. The Career Planning and Development office, a branch of Student Services, has just the answer for those who are having trouble getting started with their career ideas. A Career Fair, open to all students, but stressed for Juniors and Seniors, is in the process of being planned.

This Career Fair will be held on March 4, at the Euclid Avenue Holiday Inn in Bristol, Va.

The purpose of the Career Fair is to bring information and opportunities to those who are planning for their careers but are not sure what steps to take. Twenty companies are scheduled to have booths set up for information, including Sovran Bank of Abingdon and the First Investors Corporation of Norfolk. Several of these companies will be accepting resumes and holding individual interviews. Also there will be several colleges with information concerning their Graduate Schools.

Marie Hannah, Director of the Career Planning and Development Office stated "I think the Career Fair will be a good experience for all students that attend. They will have opportunities to meet with employers in a professional setting." Hannah also stresses students that attend must have a resume; this is important because of the large scale of companies offering job opportunities. "If you need any help in compiling or organizing your resume" said Hannah, "feel free to come to my office for help." The Career and Development Office is on hand to help with job hunting or any career information.

Career Fair is an investment of your time and energy that could benefit you and your career ideas. Take the time to attend even if it is only for information on jobs and available positions with companies.

The Career Fair is being sponsored by six area colleges: Clinch Valley College, King College, Mt. Empire Community College, Virginia Highlands College, and Southwest College.

Cantrell Hall to provide more activities for students

By Kathy Kelley
HC Co-Assistant Editor

If you have noticed changes in the ground floor lounge in Cantrell Hall, you are not suffering from hallucinations. In fact, more alterations will become soon.

The ground floor lounge in Cantrell Hall is in the process of being arranged and decorated to some degree. Michael O'Donnell said about the new plans, "Ideally, one half of the room will be for television viewing and the other half for game-playing." Cards and games will be available to be checked out from the bookstore. Students must leave their I.D. card in the bookstore when an item is checked out.

O'Donnell also commented,

"The lounge has been rearranged in order to make it more attractive and functional." Pictures have been purchased to be hung up in the area in addition to the plants that have already been placed there.

"The plans for redoing the lounge have been in the works for some time now," O'Donnell said. "We sincerely solicit input from the students on how the functionality or attractiveness can be enhanced."

Talented performers present known musical

Jacob, his 12 sons, their assorted wives, Egyptians, camels, and Ishmaelites will move into J.J. Kelly High School Auditorium in Wise on February 3, with curtain time of 7:30 p.m. The performance of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat is produced by Barksdale Theater of Hanover, Virginia, near Richmond, and is presented locally by Pro-Art Association, Clinch Valley College, and the Wise County Board of Supervisors.

The Tim Rice-Andrew Lloyd Webber musical tells the Old Testament story of Joseph, so favored by his doting father that his envious brothers sell him into slavery. Joseph rises from a life in chains to become the Pharaoh's deputy, and as in all light-hearted musicals, everyone lives happily ever after.

John Frenzer, who plays Joseph, is an exceptionally talented young singer/actor who was discovered by Barksdale Theater last summer while he performed in the Italian Show at Bush Gardens in Williamsburg. Sandee Hayes is the Narrator, a role she created for the original Barksdale production in Virginia, which became the longest running regional theatre production of this musical in the entire nation. Randy Strawderman and Barry J. Hayes, Barksdale's original director/choreographer and musical director respectively, have re-staged the show for this National tour. Settings and costumes are by Jann Paxton, and lighting is by William B. Allison, III.

Barksdale Theatre was founded in 1953 at an 18th century inn called Hanover Tavern, and productions there have received national attention from the New York Times, Richard Coe of the Washington Post, William Glover, AP Drama Writer, and others. The various dining rooms and kitchens of the old Tavern, where Patrick Henry once lived, lead naturally to the nation's first so-called dinner theatre, though at Barksdale the theatre and dining rooms are separate. "Joseph" broke all records for the longest running show ever. It closed after 19 months of sold-out houses. The current tours in the 1986-87 season cover more than 20 states.

This program is made possible by a grant from the Virginia Commission for the Arts in partnership with the National Endowment for the Arts.

Admission is $6 for adults, $5 for senior citizens and $3 for students. CVC students will be admitted free by presentation of their CVC I.D. For more information or assistance with the handicapped, call 328-2783.

CVC pool to reopen early

The Athletic Department of Clinch Valley College has announced that the College Pool will re-open for the 1987 spring semester a month earlier than usual. For several years the pool has been closed from the end of the fall semester until mid-March. This year it will open February 16 for recreational swimming.

The pool is open to Clinch Valley College students, faculty, and staff. Community persons also are welcome to use the facility by presenting an Activity Card, which may be purchased through Mrs. Dalsy Portuondo, room 223, Smiddy Hall, CVC at Wise. Information on pool hours will be available at a later date.

Pamphlet added to library

The John Cook Wylie Library has added a new pamphlet, "How to Make the Most of your W-4 for 1987" to the reserve shelf. This joins the "1987 Tax Guide for College Teachers and Other College Personnel" which has been useful to many in the past. Both publications can be used in the library for 2 hours each. Cavalier Hoop Roundup

Compiled by Bob Sloan

Stuart is scoring king

In Clinch Valley's Jan. 12 home game against Union College, the Cavaliers' standout guard Hobby Stuart placed himself once again in the recordbooks of CVC. During the game, Stuart connected on his 1,432 point in a Cavalier uniform to become the College's all-time leading scorer.

Stuart

David Ray, who played for the Cavaliers from 1976-79 had previously held the record.

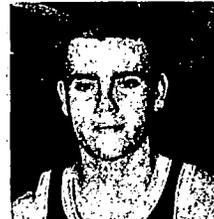

With six games left on the CVC schedule, Stuart is still adding to his career scoring total and has a chance to set two more school records + most points in a season (659) and best career free throw percentage (89.5).

So far this season, Stuart is averaging about 22 points a game and is near the top in assists in the KIAC.

Last season, the 6-0 senior from Appalachia, Va., tied two school marks by collecting 42 points in one game and hitting 18 field goals. Stuart shares both records with Ray.

Blevins turns back Berea

Clinch Valley College's Robbie Blevins found out what it was like to go from goat to hero on Monday, Jan. 19, as his three-point goal swished the net at the final buzzer to give the Cavaliers an 85-83 victory over conference rival Berea College.

Blevins

The victory ended a seven-game losing streak for Coach Barney Hall's Clinch Valley squad.

Blevins, a 6-2 forward from Rowan County, Ky., has missed the backend of a one-and-one free throw attempt with nine seconds remaining in regulation that would have tied the game. Instead, the Cavaliers were down 83-82 and were forced to foul Berea on the next trip down court.

Berea was unable to ice the game as they could not connect on their free throws. Following the missed attempt, Cavalier guard Hobby Stuart snared the rebound and hit Blevins, who was open down court, with a long pass that resulted in the game-winning shot.

The victory lifted CVC's record to 9-11 overall and 2-7 in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

CVC falls, 90-88

CVC drops heartbreaker

Mike Wright
HC Staffwriter

The Alice Lloyd College Eagles made a call to Cavalier land last Tuesday night and escaped with a thrilling but controversial 90-88 victory over the homestanding Clinch Valley College Cavaliers.

Utilizing a sticky man-to-man defense and potent inside play from Senior Rob Stoss, the Cavaliers jumped out to a 19-13 lead with 11:40 to play in the half. But the Eagles proved they were eager for a KIAC win as Roger Fairchild nailed a three-point bucket to close the margin to 21-18 with 9:45 in the stanza.

After a seven minute stretch that saw CVC indulge in poor shot selection and very questionable rulings by the men in stripes, Alice Lloyd knotted the score at 40-40. Jeff Sizemore gave the visitors a three-point lead at the half by banging in another extra credit goal. This stretch included cold charity stripe shots by the Cavs and three point bombs by the Eagles.

Second half action produced more tough and physical play as the Cavaliers got gritty defensive performances from Stoss and guard Hobby Stuart. As each of the teams traded buckets down the wire, it became evident that the game would be decided by a close play.

Do I have to resort to influencing officials to get a call. They are simply taking something away from the game."

Coach Barney Hall

With 30 seconds left in the contest, Stuart nailed a desperate three pointer to tie the score at 88-88. The Eagles chose not to stop the clock and managed to get the ball to their big man Mike Smith. After crossing the lane, Smith crashed into a suspecting Stoss as the shot was released. Both men plummeted to the floor as the ball found its way to the bottom of the net.

On what was definitely a bang-bang play, the officials tagged Stoss with the foul and the bucket credited. Smith failed to complete the three point play to give the Cavaliers a shot with five seconds remaining. Stuart's half court shot was wide at the buzzer.

After again seeing his club drop a game on a controversial decision, coach Hall was very emphatic in saying "I hate for two people in stripes to determine the outcome of a ballgame before the ball goes up. The officials we get in the KIAC are poor because we are not a big name school," he said.

Besides the matter of officials possibly determining the outcome of games, coach Hall feels that it's time for CVC to get out of the KIAC. "I want out. I'll live with the decision of not living in this conference," he said. "The move would be in the best interest of our athletes and our program," he stated.

Halls biggest argument with KIAC officials involves the influencing of calls. "Do I have to resort to influencing officials to get a call?" he asked. "The officials are simply taking something away from the game," he concluded.

CVC, 2-7 in conference play and 9-16 overall, was paced by Stoss' 30 points and Steve McKenzie's 19.

The Eagles, 4-6 in the conference and 12-8 overall, were led by Smith's 29 and Fairchild's 22.

Cumberland College leads the conference with a sparkling 11-0 record and an overall ledger of 19-1.

Conner has much at stake in Cup race

By Bob Sloan
HC Sports Editor

This past Saturday the final chapter began in what may end up a fairy tale or a horror story for Dennis Conner. As skipper of the American entry Stars & Stripes in the 1987 America's Cup Competition, he has more at stake than victory. He has revenge.

The America's Cup, Yachting's most prestigious award, had been in America's possession for 132 years before it was lost in 1988 at the hands of Australia II. It was Conner who was at the helm of Liberty, which let a two race lead slip away.

The loss in 1988 is the only black mark on Conner's illustrious sailing career and he's intent on erasing it.

Before the crushing defeat at Newport in 1983, Conner had steered America to two America's Cup victories. In 1974, he shared the helm of Courageous with Ted Hood, and in 1980 his Freedom entry captured the Cup.

The 44-year-old skipper has sailed through this year's trial competition with a vengeance. Finishing with a 31-7 record in the Challenger series, Stars & Stripes swept another U.S. entry, USA, in the semi-finals. Two weeks ago, Conner and his crew sailed past the New Zealand Kiwi Magic 4-1 to earn a shot at returning the Cup to America and restoring the reputation of Dennis Conner.

In the finals, Conner will face the Defender's champion

Kookaburra III. The best of the nine race series will culminate a three and one-half month competition which has taken place in the port of Perth, in Fremantle, Australia.

For Dennis Conner and the crew of Stars & Stripes, it's now or never. To return home without the America's Cup in hand would mean three more years of facing the fact that he is the only American skipper to have lost the America's Cup. With a victory in Fremantle, Conner could stake his claim as the only skipper to return the Cup to America.

Either way it would be a fitting ending in the career of one of America's greatest yachtsmen, although Conner would prefer the latter.
