

Students feel AIDS could affect CVC students' lifestyle

By Bob Sloan
HC Staff Writer

In a recent survey conducted by The Highland Cavalier, 82 percent of those students responding felt that AIDS might have an effect on the Clinch Valley College community.

The survey, which consisted of a questionnaire sent to 50 randomly selected students, received varied responses. 100 percent of the 25 men questioned felt that AIDS could possibly have some affect on student lifestyles at CVC, as compared to 67 percent of the female respondents. Thirty-three percent of the females felt that

AIDS most definitely had some impact at CVC.

AIDS, which is an acronym for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, is a sexually transmitted disease which many believe is approaching epidemic proportions. It is projected that over 30,000 Americans are carriers of the AIDS virus.

Fourteen cases have been reported in the Kingsport, Bristol, Johnson City area alone.

How does AIDS affect the student lifestyle at CVC? Exactly half of those questioned in the recent survey felt that the outbreak of AIDS had changed their lifestyles. While only half of the women respondents said that AIDS had changed their lifestyle, 67 percent of the men felt the disease definitely had changed their lifestyles.

Only eight percent of the total respondents said AIDS had not changed their lifestyle.

Larry Goldstein

Pizza party planned for CVC

To help close out the last week of school, a cabaret show and pizza party is being thrown for all students on Wednesday, April 29.

Larry Goldstein, mime/vaudevillian and practitioner of antic arts, will bring his show "Solo Cabaret" to Cantrell Cafeteria at 8 p.m. on Wednesday. It is sponsored by the Student Entertainment Series, Pro-Art Association, and American Food Service. And it's free to all students with an I.D. card.

"Solo Cabaret" is a comic revue combining stand-up and sit-down comedy, physical comedy, song, sophistication, and a rare moment of silliness.

The show has delighted audiences from Maine to the Virgin Islands. Since 1983, Virginia tax dollars have helped the Virginia Commission for the Arts deliver this performer to children and adults of all ages throughout the state. This is your chance to see for yourself what tax dollars pay for.

Goldstein, in his fifth year of the touring program, is a student of American mime-master Tony Montanaro and of the University of Virginia. Recent collaborations include shows with Michael Parent, one of America's foremost storytellers, and former Ballet Russe dancer Nora Shattuck.

"Solo Cabaret" will delight and curiously challenge the audience with silent stories, physical comedy, improvisation and much more. It's a good way to celebrate the end of the semester.

Admission for those other than students is $5 at the door. Come celebrate!

ALA president to visit CVC

The president-elect of the 47,000 member American Library Association will spend three days in May at Clinch Valley College and Lonesome Pine Regional Library.

Margaret Chisholm, Director and Professor in the Graduate School of Library and Information Science at the University of Washington in Seattle, will lecture at Clinch Valley College on May 1, focusing on federal funding for libraries. The meeting begins at 5:30 p.m. in the Chapel of All Faiths on the Campus at Wise.

Chisholm has been selected to head the American Library Association which oversees some 37,000 libraries in Canada and the United States, including the Library of Congress.

Prior to her current appointment, Chisholm was Vice-President for University Relations and Development at the University of Washington.

She has also been Dean of the College of Library and Information Services at the University of Maryland, and has taught at the University of New Mexico and the University of Oregon.

Chisholm has published a number of books and articles on library media, censorship, public relations, media management, library

Movie night planned

By Kathy Kelley
HC Co-Assistant Editor

In one of their final actions, this year's SGA planned a movie festival and considered a budget request of Pi Beta Kappa.

The members of the SGA decided to have a Nightmare on Elm Street Midnight Movie Festival on May 5, the last day of classes. Prizes will be given to those who dress up in costumes geared to the theme of the movies.

The SGA also voted to give $250 of a $450 request by the new sorority Pi Beta Kappa. John Barton originally motioned to give the sorority $200, but Amy Hodges made a motion to add $50 to the amount.

Maryls Giles, president of Pi Beta Kappa was present to emphasize the sorority was just starting out and needed funds to establish themselves before Rush Week in the Fall Semester.

The sorority asked for $100 for their flag, banner, and crest, another $100 for symbols, a Bible, and gavel.

Guest Editorial:

SGA President Elect encourages student participation

By Jeff Brickett
SGA President Elect

I should first express the philosophy I feel that the Student Government Association should adhere to. Tom Hayden expressed it best in 1962, in a statement about Total Participation. He says that "we will replace power rooted in possession, privileged, and circumstance by power rooted in love, reflectiveness, reason, and creativity. As a social system we seek the establishment of a democracy of individual participation, governed by two central aims: that the individual share in those social decisions determining the quality and direction of his life; that society be organized to encourage independence in men and provide the media for their common participation."

All students have the right to participate in the Student Government. Participation and Unity of the student body is the key to success. The only cost in becoming a part of the SGA is to attend SGA meetings. Are you willing to pay the price of success?

With rationality, dedication, and creativity the student body can control its own destiny. And in the same way, participation will be the answer to most questions.

For you who may be apathetic, and do not want to get involved, and think that your elected officials are going to do all of the work for you, be forewarned: Democracy requires full participation. For those of you who plan anything less, remember: we are the students you've been warned about.

Crouser asks for suggestions, not criticism

By Marie Crouser
Student Services

During the recent SGA campaigns, criticism of the Entertainment Committee and of Charles Engle, Student Activities Director and Chair of that committee and Rusty Necessary, SGA president, was expressed by several candidates. I understand that candidates need issues; I do not understand why, if the candidates were genuinely concerned about the quality and type of entertainment being provided to CVC students by the Entertainment Committee, none of them ever applied for membership on that committee when applications were called for (in an issue of the Highland Cavalier). Nor do I understand why none of them so much as made a suggestion to the committee or expressed any preference for a particular style of entertainment. Additionally, there was not a single response to a fall questionnaire regarding student preference on entertainment.

Throughout the 1986-87 school year, the Entertainment Committee has sponsored a total of 28 functions. These projects included a wide variety of entertainment. A sample of entertainment offered includes Robbin Thompson and The Deal (both rock-n-roll), The Comedy Laff-Off, The Owl and the Pussycat (dinner theater), Brian Husky (musician/comedian), Picardo Farlofi (classical guitarist), Jim Webb (poet), John Prine and Arlo Guthrie (both nationally-known folk-singers and songwriters), Eugenie Russo (concert pianist), and The Metropolitan Blues All-Stars (blues rock-n-roll/jazz). Considering the size of CVC and the Entertainment Committee budget, I believe these acts represent an impressive variety.

The Entertainment Committee is committed to providing quality entertainment to CVC students. While it does not have the money to sponsor Huey Lewis or Bon Jovi, I think if students would take a chance on attending a performance given by a group with which they are not familiar, they would be pleasantly surprised to learn that these up-and-coming groups are quite talented.

It is easier to criticize what others do than to make constructive and creative suggestions. The Entertainment Committee welcomes and encourages suggestions from students. With student participation, the Committee can better meet the needs - and wants - of the CVC student body.

Student feels CVC students are being cheated

To the Editor:

Rip-off on CVC campus. The students of CVC are being systematically robbed. The American Food Management and the Administration of CVC are robbing the students of this college of thousands of dollars a semester. The residents of CVC are forced to buy a meal ticket, the cheapest of which is $490.00 a semester. There is no refund for meals not eaten and you are not allowed to eat all you have bought. For example when you are absent, then any meals you miss are just lost. You can only eat three times a day so that is between $9.75 to $12.75 lost for each day absent. If you have a meal extra and wish to get a snack in Papa Joe's, you can't. According to American Food Management, if you have eaten lunch in the cafeteria then you are not allowed to use any extra meals in Papa Joe's. For commuters this is even worse. Most of them can not even afford to pull out $490.00 at one time for a meal ticket. A five meal a week ticket should be provided for commuters. This would enable them to eat one meal a day on campus.

A way of keeping track of the meals eaten should be found and refunds given for meals uneaten.

If the students of CVC don't speak out against this it will not only continue, but it will probably increase. Already there is a rumor circulating that the $490.00 meal ticket is to be raised to $570.00 beginning the Fall semester of 1987.

I don't know about the rest of the students of CVC but I don't have the money to give away.

Smiddy to speak at Commencement Alumni Dinner/Dance

Chancellor Emeritus Joseph Smiddy will be the guest speaker at the upcoming Alumni Dinner Dance scheduled for Commencement weekend, Saturday, May 16. "Having Mr. Smiddy will be an added plus" commented Steve Mullins, Director of Alumni Affairs.

The CAVALIER WEEKEND DINNER/DANCE will benefit alumni, faculty, and the students. The money raised will be used towards student scholarships, and alumni events. The Dinner/Dance will be held at the Lonesome Pine Country Club at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Donathan relates European experience to students

Greetings from Vienna, Austria, the former (some say still) Imperial City of the Hapsburg monarchy. These Hapsburgs really lived well if the buildings, furnishings, and the like are any indication. The Hofburg (the primary residence built in stages between 1220 and 1914) and Schonbrunn Palace (completed in its present form in 1749) together have 4,000 rooms as well as formal gardens, fountains, statues, etc. Those of you who have had European history courses at CVC will know that all of this came to a crashing end in -- (Fill in the blank!) All that stuff you read in the history books (including art and music) becomes more real when you experience some of the realities involved. One day recently I was taking a picture with my trusty Japanese camera of the Kaiserin Elisabeth Memorial in the Volksgarten, one of the formal gardens of the Hofburg, when this sweet young thing (an obvious student tourist from the U.S.) was overheard to say to another sweet young thing with her, "I didn't know the Austrians had a queen!"

Those of you who are following my saga this semester will remember that in my last letter I was complaining about the Hundescheise in Paris among other things, and subsequently left the French for the Austrians. A 19-hour train journey from Paris - not including stop-overs in Zurich, Switzerland, and Innsbruck, Austria, (where I toured some of the Olympic facilities) and finally to Vienna covered with a foot of snow - was quite an experience. The trip through the Swiss and Austrian Alps was aboard the Franz Schubert Express (of all the names for a train!) via the famous Arlberg Pass, a 10 kilometer tunnel located at an altitude of 1793 meters (that's Ever wish you could snap your fingers and have hundreds of job listings appear before your eyes? Snap your fingers and instantly find the job that interests you most? Snap your fingers and walk away with lots of printed job descriptions and application forms?

JOBLINK offers job seekers help

Now a new, computerized job matching program, JOBLINK, makes it almost that easy.

Developed by Colorado State University professors Dwain Miller and Bob Aukerman, JOBLINK is a bank of over 500 constantly updated and organized job listings nationwide on a computer program that quickly and easily locates and sorts detailed job descriptions.

It's fast, efficient, and easy to use. And it's inexpensive. Available on disk for $89 or in a printed version for $98, JOBLINK lists hundreds of job opportunities with public agencies, such as the National Park Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Army Corps of Engineers, Peace Corps, U.S. Geological Survey, Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Army, U.S. Navy, U.S. Air Force, U.S. Marine Corps, and the U.S. Forest Service, as well as many state and local agencies.

JOBLINK also lists college and university teaching, research, extension, and assistantship positions. And JOBLINK lists job openings in businesses such as camps, campgrounds, marine and fisheries laboratories, hotels, amusement areas, wildlife parks, and zoos.

"Our job advertisers like the national exposure and low cost of our system," said Aukerman, "and our subscribers like the convenience of using a computerized program instead of sorting through thousands of ads and announcements for the right opening or the right location."

Whether one is looking for a job as a secretary or a manager, a biologist or a botanist, a coach or an interpreter, or almost any position in any other natural resource field, JOBLINK not only tells what's available, what's required, and whom to contact, it also provides mini-applications.

JOBLINK is particularly useful for matching interests

She has served on the Editorial Advisory Board for the Index to United States Government Periodicals, the Advisory Board for the School Library Media Annual, and the Editorial Board for the Index to Reader's Digest. Chisholm has done professional consulting in a number of states and held other offices with the American Library Association.

Other activities planned for the May 1-3 weekend are a reception on May 2 at John Cook Wyllie Library, Clinch Valley College. It will begin at 4:30 p.m. on the verandas outside the library.

On May 3, Chisholm and Lynn Cochran, President of the Virginia Library

Association, will participate in the dedication of the C. Bascom Slemp Wing of Lonesome Pine Regional Library in Wise. The dedication ceremony begins at 2 p.m.

How has it affected CVC students? Corresponding with the responses on the affect of AIDS on their lifestyles, half of the total respondents claimed they sometimes used condoms during sex, depending on the partner. Thirty-three percent of both the men and women said they never used condoms. Likewise, 17 percent of all the respondents claimed they regularly used a condom during sex.

Asked if they had ever discussed AIDS with a partner before sex, only 42 percent of the total respondents said they had done so. Women were equally divided on the question, while 67 percent of the men claimed they never had.

Interestingly, 67 percent of those students questioned said they would know where to go if they thought they had contracted AIDS. Only half of the men respondents knew where to go to get tested.

Surprisingly, the only question that all respondents were unanimous on was whether they spoke openly with their friends about AIDS. Everyone of the respondents claimed they had.

Responding to probably the most controversial question, only 17 percent of those questioned felt that the media was overplaying the AIDS epidemic. Sixty-six percent felt the media was not dramatizing AIDS, and the other 17 percent said that it was possible.

All of this aside, Vienna with a population of some 2 million German-speaking Austrians (and quite a few Americans) is a lovely city with very warm and friendly people who seem to enjoy their "neutrality." The "Iron Curtain" is less than 50 miles away (Czechoslovakia, Hungary, etc.)

I had planned brief trips to Budapest, Hungary, and Venice, Italy, but due to the heavy tourist influx around Easter I will opt instead for a mountain-climbing trip to Kapellen, a remote area in Styria, located on the Murz between the Roxolpe and the Hochschwab, both well over 6000 feet.

I will leave Austria for Great Britain on April 27 via Austrian Airlines to London. I will tour throughout England, Scotland, Wales and the Republic of Ireland for a month before returning to the United States. It will be interesting to finally visit English-speaking countries (I assume they speak English in these places!)

My sincere Best Wishes to those of you who are graduating, especially those of you who have suffered through my classes, and to my Brothers in Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

Clog Campus returns to Clinch Valley College in June

The Sixth Annual Clog Campus will be held June 12 and 13 at rustic Camp Bethel in Wise, Virginia. Lodging will be available in Clinch Valley College dormitories.

The weekend dance workshop offers classes in traditional Appalachian dances including Beginning, Intermediate, and Advanced clogging, Buck dancing, Appalachian hoedown, French-Canadian and Irish step-dancing, Western Dance and much more. Teacher certification will be offered for those who wish to be certified to teach clog dancing and other dance forms.

This fun weekend full of dancing, good food, local crafts and extra-curricular activities for all ages will be held in a clean, wholesome environment. Primitive lodging for camping will be available in log bunk houses at Camp Bethel, with water and electricity provided. Communal shower houses are also available.

The dance weekend is sponsored by Appalachian Traditions, Inc., and co-sponsored by Clinch Valley and skills of potential applicants to employers' job requirements. Applicants can use the JOBLINK program to run their own searches, or they can submit resumes and letters of interest, and JOBLINK will screen, print, and mail instant job matches automatically as soon as position openings are announced. Currently available on many campuses nationwide, including Harvard University, Texas A&M, and Clemson University, JOBLINK is also being used by students, counselors, and placement offices to explore and compare career opportunities in different disciplines. By spring, 1987, JOBLINK subscribers will also be able to use their phone modems to access the program from anywhere in the country at any time and then print out detailed job descriptions.

College of Wise, Virginia. For pre-registration and further information, call (703) 328-2431 or (703) 679-2096.

And soon JOBLINK expects to make a telecommunications connection with Boston University's SCHOLE network to make international job advertising and searching even more efficient and much easier. JOBLINK helps job advertisers too. Employers are invited to submit announcements of openings for salaried positions free of charge. JOBLINK also welcomes listings for volunteer, non-paid positions, but, because of the tremendous demand for the service, charges a $25 fee to cover operating expenses. According to Aukerman, JOBLINK is the only computerized job matching service of its kind available today. "It's the only program that's keyword indexed, the only program accessible by both job searchers and job advertisers using modems. And it's the only program that provides a complete, computerized telecommunications network," said Aukerman. To use JOBLINK, check with your department head, career placement office, or library. Bond issue pays off Cantrell Hall

By Kathy Kelley
HC Co-Assistant Editor

Some students believe the bond issue is as mysterious as the Loch Ness Monster or the Abominable Snowman. And most do not know what a bond issue is at all, let alone that it is used to pay off the debts on Cantrell Hall.

Valley College, explained that when Cantrell Hall was built in 1982, the building initially cost $1,688,600, including $41,000 for furniture. It was financed by the state for $577,915 and by coal royalties for $516,085. Additional furniture had to be bought later for the TV room.

As far as the money for the upkeep of Cantrell Hall, Willis said American Food Management sends half of the students' payment to the administration for the use of overhead costs. This amount pays for the upkeep of Cantrell Hall, such as for the lighting, heating, and administrative costs for those that deal with Cantrell directly.

The relationship between Cantrell Hall and how it is paid is not too difficult to understand. Clayton Willis, Business Manager for Clinch

A total of $585,000 plus the interest needed to pay for Cantrell came from the bond issue. The student activity fee is used entirely to pay for the bond issue, which will be paid upon for 20 years.

It will be a long time before the bond issue is paid off, but Cantrell Hall would not exist without it.

Catholic Campus Ministry plans Spring events

The Catholic Campus Ministry of Clinch Valley College has planned two final events for the Spring 1987 Semester, according to Peter VanWinkle and R.J. Meade, Co-Presidents, and Father Joseph D'Aurora, Campus Minister. They include: A reception, Friday, May 8, after the 7:30 p.m. Confirmation Mass at St. Anthony Church, Norton, during which Bishop Walter F. Sullivan, Richmond, Va., will confirm two CVC students, Lisa Jeremics and Diana VanWinkle; and a Graduation Mass, Saturday, May 16, 5:30 p.m. at CVC's Chapel of All Faiths, when Joseph Perry and Maria E. Portuondo will be recognized. Father Thomas Welch, Winchester, Va., will be the celebrant of this liturgy. The administration, faculty and student body are cordially invited to both celebrations.

CONCERN FOR HIGHER EDUCATION.

Since being elected to the Virginia House of Delegates in 1982, Jim Robinson has fought long and hard for Clinch Valley College. Through the powerful House Finance Committee, on which Jim ranks number 8 in seniority, and with the support of his fellow Southwestern Va. legislators, Jim has been responsible this past session for the following budget amendments:

- $360,000 to purchase additional dormitory space through the acquisition of CVC Townhouse Apts.
- $35,000 for the purchase of a fine arts center.
- $75,000 for the branch of the Institute of Government and two new full-time positions.
- $98,000 for a computer to aid in administrative and academic needs.
- $220,000 to purchase property adjoining the college.
- $25,950 to fund new full-time positions due to a growth in enrollment.
- 7.5% faculty salary increases

This amounts to a total of over 800,000.00 dollars this past session alone. Jim Robinson feels that this amount is necessary in order for CVC to remain a hallmark in higher education in Southwest Va.

On June 9, 1987, Jim is going to call on YOU for support in the Democratic primary. Please don't toss aside over five years of service, loyalty, and dedication. On June 9th, vote to re-elect Jim Robinson to the Va. House of Delegates.

Thank You.

CVC tennis team closes season with 2-11 record

The CVC men's tennis team dropped three matches last week to finish their regular season at 2-11.

On Saturday, April 18, the Cavaliers hosted Cumberland College and Berea College, both conference rivals. In the first contest CVC came up one game short as the Tigers of Cumberland defeated the Cavaliers 5-4.

In the afternoon match-up, the Cavaliers once again came up on the short end as Berea knocked off CVC by the same margin, 5-4.

Later in the week, the Cavaliers traveled to Milligan College only to come back with their third consecutive loss.

The Cavaliers will travel to Georgetown, Ky., to compete in the KIAC tournament on April 23-24.

Cumberland sweeps CVC

The Clinch Valley Cavaliers dropped two heartbreakers to KIAC-leading Cumberland College on Monday, April 20. The Cavaliers fell short by one run in both contests, 9-8 and 8-7.

In the afternoon contest, CVC was lead offensively by third baseman Roger Austin who clubbed a three-run fourth inning homer.

The nightcap was even worse for the Cavaliers. CVC's Mike White tied the contest in the eighth inning on a solo homer, but Cavalier pitching was unable to hold off the Cumberland bats as the Tigers came back to win the game in the ninth.

CVC left the tying and winning runs on base in the bottom of the inning.

The losses dropped CVC's record to 6-12 on the year.

CVC extends losing streak

The CVC Cavaliers kept up their losing streak on Tuesday, April 21. The Cavaliers got swept up in a big way, being pounded by Georgetown College twice, 15-4 and 17-2.

CVC has now lost six games in a row.

The losses dropped the Cavalier's record to 6-14. CVC visited Union College for another doubleheader on April 23.

Burton standout

Thompson signs with Cavaliers

The Clinch Valley College men's basketball team signed their first recruit for next season last week. The new player donning a Cavalier uniform will be Bo Thompson.

Thompson, a 6-5 forward, is from Norton, Va., and played high school ball at J.I. Burton. After missing most of his junior year with the Black Raiders because of an ankle injury, Thompson came on strong in his final year to grab All-Lonesome Pine District honors.

Averaging about 15 points a game, Thompson led his team in rebounding and guided them into the regional tournament. He was credited with leading the Black Raiders on the court and exhibited a fine touch around the basket.

Hall said Thompson is the kind of player who could step into the program and have an immediate impact as a freshman.

Thompson indicated Clinch Valley College was the only school he had seriously considered attending. "I think it's a pretty good opportunity

CVC coach Barney Hall hopes to move Thompson to a swing-forward position, and his experience in the post should benefit the Cavaliers inside game as well.

Hall will look for Thompson to do quite a bit of scoring from the perimeter. "He's a pretty decent shooter, and with a little work he could get even better," stated Hall.

for me," he said, adding that he likes the school's academics.

Thompson is Hall's first signee of the year but several more players are on the verge of committing.

Erving retires as 'one of a kind'

Every once in a while a special player comes along and steals the hearts and minds of every sports fan. Not only a winner on the playing field, but in life as well.

In this case, the playing field in mind is a basketball court. The player in mind is Julius Erving.

It was not long after he graduated from the University of Massachusetts that Erving signed with the Virginia Squires of what was the American Basketball Association. In his first year with the Squires, Erving averaged 27.9 points a game and was selected to the ABA All-Rookie team.

That was when it all began. His dominating style of play and high-flying dunks soon awarded him the nickname of

"Dr. J."

Sixteen years, four MVP trophies, an NBA championship and 30,000 points later, "Dr. J." and Erving are two words synonymous with the game of basketball. He is truly an ambassador of the game.

Analysis

Not enough words can be used to describe what this one man has done for basketball. What we all now know as the slam-dunk, in-your-face style of basketball that is played in the NBA today was first popularized by a man wearing a no. 6 clad Philadelphia 76er's uniform in 1976.

This is "The Doctor's" last season in basketball. He's calling it quits. In every arena he and his teammates now visit, the man we know as "Dr. J." is being shown appreciation from fans everywhere who will love and long remember what he has done for the sport.

It was Julius Erving I went to see play at the Hampton Coliseum when I was growing up, not the Virginia Squires. Not a team, but a player. It didn't matter whether the team had won a game or not. I wanted to see this great player that everyone called "The Doctor."

I got my money's worth, just as every fan who has paid to see him play has.

There will never be another Julius Erving. There will always be a Dominique Wilkins or a Micheal Jordan, but there will never be another "Doctor." He is one of a kind. No player could match his dedication and affection for the game of basketball.

"The Doctor" says he is lucky to have played the game. I think we were the lucky ones.

Two more players sign with Lady Cavaliers for 87-88

Two Kentucky players signed letters of intent April 13 to play their collegiate basketball for Debbie Kaminske at Clinch Valley College.

Kaminske signed Pam D. Saylor and Pam K. Saylor of Baxter, Kentucky. Both girls helped their Harlan High School team to the Sweet Sixteen in Kentucky this past season.

Pam D. Saylor is a 5'4" point guard who averaged seventeen points, three rebounds, and five assists per game her senior year. She was named to the All-District Team in 1985-86 and 1986-87, All-County Team in 1985-86 and 1986-87, and All SEKC Team in 1984-85, 1985-86, and 1986-87. She was a Team Captain during the 1986-87 season. She is one of three players at Harlan who has scored over 1000 points in her career.

"We are looking for a player with Pam's ball handling abilities, but we also got a super, all-around player who is far from one dimensional," states Coach Kaminske.

Pam K. Saylor is a 5'8" forward who averaged ten points, ten rebounds, and one assist per game. Pam was named to the All-District Team in 1984-85 and 1986-87, All-County Team in 1985-86, and Team Captain in 1984-85 and 1986-87.

"Pam's determination and desire to rebound in a crowd makes her play like a six footer on the boards, and that will make her a force to contend with around the basket," states Coach Kaminske.

Both girls are active within the school, being members of the French Club, Bible Club, and the Fellowship, for Christian Athletes. Pam K. is also President of the Peppers Club.

Pam D. Saylor is the daughter of Glen and Ann Saylor of Baxter, Kentucky, while Pam K. Saylor is the daughter of Hubert and Janice Saylor, also of Baxter, Kentucky.
