

The

Highland Cavalier

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia

Vol. 39 No. 10, November 17, 1992

Republicans get rocked by voter registration drives

Deborah Kane Mitchell
Special Correspondent

(CPS) - This election year, the MTV generation got out the vote.

The Disposable Heroes of Hiphoprisy challenged students to "kick some butt at the polls," and rappers like Markey Mark & the Funky Bunch called for a political revolution across college campuses and universities nationwide.

The musicians' message was spread at Blockbuster Videos, Burger Kings and Pizza Huts, at U2, Guns 'N Roses and Lollapalooza concerts, as part of a hard-rocking pitch to get young voters to the polls.

It appears to have worked. Exit polls and music industry surveys show 18- to 21-year-olds responded overwhelmingly, turning out to register, and then to vote, in droves.

If the predictions are right, these

State property stolen from CVC cafeteria

Dori Jackson
Staff Writer

College officials are investigating the theft of a cafeteria ID scanner at the "Pajama Jammy Jam" dance.

Chi Delta Rho sorority hosted the dance on Nov. 5 in the cafeteria from 9:30-12:30 p.m. Sometime Thursday evening, someone decided to rip off a cafeteria scanner. The thief was probably unaware at the time that the scanner was state property valued at $4,000.

Many rumors about the location of the ID scanner and the identity of the thief were channeled to John Yancey and campus police.

The scanner from Papa Joe's is now being used in the cafeteria. Students are not allowed to eat in Papa Joe's now unless they pay cash.

Chi Delta Rho sorority sisters are held responsible for alcohol violations and damages that may occur at the dances they host. The sorority had to sign a security agreement prior to the dance.

At the close of the dance, things appeared normal. Until early the next morning, no one realized that any wrongdoings had occurred. Yancey notified the sorority early Friday morning, that the scanner was missing.

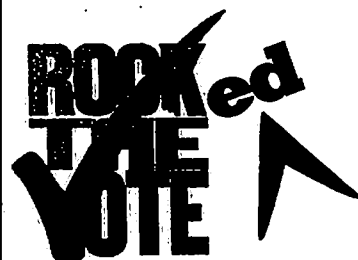

young voters may have reversed a 20-year trend that began in 1972 when 18-year-olds got the right to vote.

Since then, Census Bureau statistics show a dramatic decline in registration and turnout among young voters. In 1972, 58 percent of 18- to 21-year-olds registered and 46 percent went to the polls. By 1988, the numbers had dropped steadily, with 45 percent of eligible young voter registering and only 33 percent voting.

"Young voters probably didn't turn out in record numbers for the '92 elections, but the turnout was definitely much higher than it was in 1988," said Curtis Gans, director of the Washing-

Young
Voters
Make A Difference

ing to an exit poll by Voter Research & Surveys, Clinton won 48 percent of first-time voters in the 18-24 age group, compared with 30 percent for Bush. In 1988, exit polls showed that Bush carried voters under the age of 30 by a 63-

37 margin. But, in 1992, Clinton's showing was 10 points better in that same under-30 age group.

The final numbers are not in yet, but Gans said turnout was especially strong among college students in the 18-21 age group.

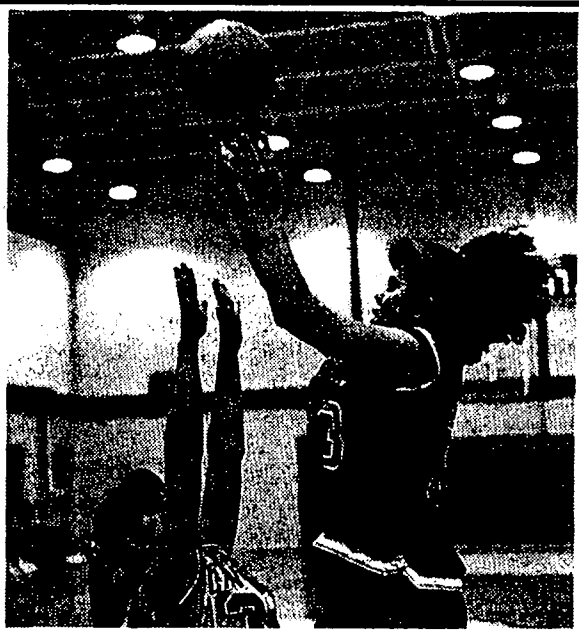

The high voter turnout has been credited to intensive registration drives by MTV and organizations including Rock the Vote and the National League of Women Voters.

Mike Dolan, political field director with the high-profile "Rock the Vote", estimated that the group registered 1 million young voters with its in-your-face tactics.

The California-based group, organized by the music industry, estimates it registered about 350,000 college students using a direct grassroots ap-

See ROCKED, p. 4

Michelle Rife of the Lady Cavs displays her defensive abilities during their victory over Tennessee Wesleyan last Saturday.

HC Photo/Robert Engl

Yancey asked the sisters if they had noticed anything peculiar the night of the dance. No one had witnessed anything out of the ordinary according to Iman Mitchell, a Chi Delta Rho sister.

Shirley Shepard, also a Chi Delta Rho sister, was quick to express her disappointment in the incident.

"College students act like adults, not immature children playing practical jokes," says Shepard.

Mitchell believes any penalties that result from the theft will be just.

"If you are big enough to steal the scanner, you should be big enough to come forth and face the consequences of your actions."

The funds to replace the stolen scanner may come from student activity fees, but it has not been formally decided.

Chi Delta Rho President Vav McNeal, is not happy with this suggestion. "The activities are for all students. They shouldn't abuse their rights," she said.

Diana Jensen, a Chi Delta Rho sister, shares the same opinion. "Students should realized it might be funny or a joke at the time, but they jeopardize others' fun," she said.

Editorial

Dave's top ten.

--Page 2

News

SGA president explains budget

--Page 3

Sports

World Championship Wrestling comes to CVC.

--Page 7

Style

Lightnin' Charlie rates high with many.

--Page 8

Opinion/Editorial

Student unsatisfied with the actions of his fellow peers

Wesley Adams
Staff Writer

Well, the elections are over and we are in the lull before the big push toward the semester finals. I would like to take this time to get a few things off my chest.

First of all, I wish that people would stop dropping school flyers they get in the mail on the floor. That little cul-de-sac is too tight to move around in as it is. Dropping the flyers just increases the work for the custodians to have to clean it up. There's usually a great big trash can at the end of the hallway. Please put the unwanted flyers in it.

Secondly, I'm tired of hearing complaints about the food in the cafeteria. Of course it's not as good as Mom's home cookin', but it's a helluva lot better stuff than in elementary and high school. No, the food is not as good as the cuisine at Red Lobster, but it's not much worse than the standard fare at Shoney's. For the cost per meal, you can get more food and variety than you would get at most fast food chains. And if you really can't stomach the menu of the day, there is transferability to Papa Joe's.

Speaking of Papa Joe's, I would like to address the theft of their meal ticket scanner. That is a very expensive piece of equipment. And unless it is returned or recovered, the cost of replacing the scanner is going to be passed onto us and our anemic wallets.

My overactive imagination and I have come up with various theories concerning the theft. They have ranged from aliens or Russians wanting our technology, to an unknown meal ticket scanner black market, to a vengeful cafeteria worker who wanted to hurt Papa Joe's because they served french fries.

After pondering my various theories, I have come to the rational conclusion that the thief or thieves are just plain STUPID! What are you going to do with the scanner? You can't type a term paper on it. You can't hook it up to your Sega System. And it won't accept American Express, or any other credit card for that matter.

To whomever stole it, please return the scanner and accept your punishment. It is the honorable thing to do. Our Honor Code demands that anyone with knowledge of the theft must come forward and inform the proper authorities.

To whomever stole it, if you lack the courage to return the scanner openly, leave it somewhere public where it can be found. It would save us all a bunch of money and grief. And it would restore the tarnished honor of the CVC student body.

The Highland Cavalier welcomes letters to the editor. All letters must be signed and dated. The views expressed through letters to the editor are not necessarily those of The Highland Cavalier.

The Highland Cavalier Staff

Christopher Cline
Editor-in-Chief
Lori Little
Assistant Editor
Ray Board
Steve Lewis
Co-Head Photographers
Robert Engle
Darkroom Technician
Sara Nasseh
Layout Technician

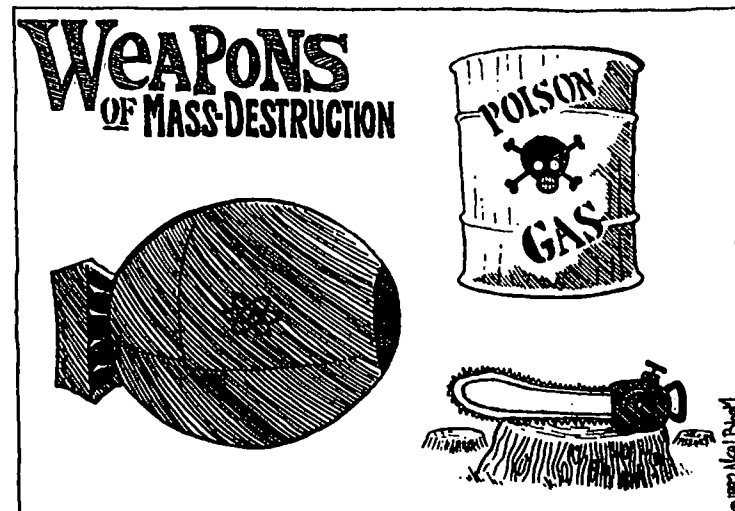

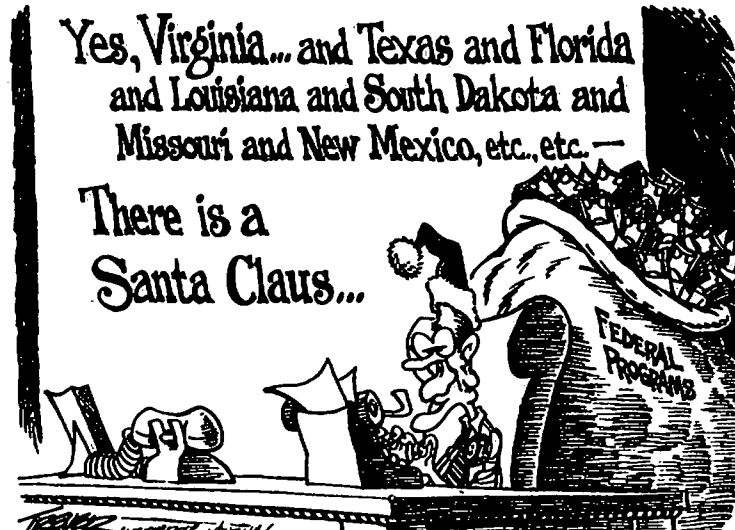

Rick Mitchell
Sports Editor
Devan Horne
Copy Editor
Vanessa Morse
Secretary/Typist
Joseph Beams
Ad/Business Manager
David Woodrum
Editorial Columnist/
Cartoonist

Assistant Sports Editor: Brad Johnson, Staff Writers: Amy Collins, Gary Lee Collins, Karl Baves, Leslie Edwards, Dori Jackson, Wesley Adams, Assistant Photographer: Gail Dixon, Page Frakes, Managing Editor: Michelle Napier, Faculty Advisor: Jane Meade
The Highland Cavalier is a student publication of Clinch Valley College of The University of Virginia and is printed weekly at the Norton Press, Inc. in Norton, Va. The views and opinions expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Highland Cavalier or Clinch Valley College.

DAVE'S TOP TEN ALTERNATIVE JUNK FOOD IDEAS

10. Real trail mix (dried woollyworms, twigs, tree bark, and pop can tabs).
9. Super Dave's exploding breakfast cereal.
8. Tire tube chewing gum.
7. Carbonated cotton candy.
6. Nutritious vinyl jerky.
5. Mexican jumping jelly beans (48 gourmet flavors, real live worm inside!).
4. Soda in various vegetable flavors.
3. Gummy jawbreakers.
2. French fried green lawn clippings.
1. Meltdown hot cinnamon flavored snow (in various colors except yellow).

News

SGA president explains budget allocations

Devan Horne
Copy Editor

Although the Student Government Association claims that its budget is running low, SGA President David Boggs feels that it is making the best use of the students' money.

Boggs said that the budget is going toward many causes; one being organizations. Boggs explained that at the beginning of the year the SGA had forms prepared especially for organizations called request for budgets. All organizations in existence were asked to submit these forms by a deadline.

A representative from each organization was required to present a proposal explaining their budget request. "No one was awarded their budget on the basis of the form or the proposal, it was a combination of the two," Boggs said. The Finance Committee submitted their suggestions and the SGA voted on and approved them. The SGA then sent out a letter stating that the organizations were able to receive a certain amount for the activities planned.

Boggs also stated that money was set aside for the Organizational Games, the Spring Formal, Homecoming, and the Connells concert that was held. Organizations also have several activities planned this semester in which they used their funding, such as the Dating Game, the Get Leid Raid, an upcoming ski trip, a Suitcase Party, sponsored dances, and speakers scheduled to appear on campus.

He also said money was put away in a contingency fund which is used for emergency purposes. Such emergencies would include an organization formed in the middle of the year that would need funding. Emergency money was also awarded to the intramural team winners to help fund their trip to New Orleans for the National Intramural Competition.

Boggs also commented on how he felt the Connells concert went in which a large portion of the budget was given. "Because of the short notice of the group, and because of fall break, I do not feel that we got enough advertising done to announce the concert; therefore, I do not feel that we reached a good number of people," said Boggs. "I would like to improve on this in the future if we can get more of a diverse group."

Boggs stated that the Connells were chosen because they were playing at Emory and Henry the night before and agreed to come to CVC for half price. "We (SGA) felt it was too good of a deal to pass up." Boggs also stated that they thought they would like to try a different style of music this time than they did last semester referring to the De La Sol concert.

Boggs said that several groups were looked into earlier and that the Connells were on the list of more than a dozen. Boggs said that they found the Connells to be very expensive and the SGA decided to get them at this great price. For example, Garth Brooks would have charged $150,000 to appear which is more than the SGA's budget for the year.

"If something were to go wrong such as bad weather, lack of student attendance, the SGA could go into debt. I am not brave enough to gamble with money that is not mine," said Boggs. "The chance of losing that money is too great."

David "Beamer" Boggs

It's about time . . .

Saturday's snowfall, the first snow of the season, left CVC's campus dusted with the cold, white stuff. HC Photo/ Page Frakes

Craven resigns as CVC's fire marshal

Lori Little
Assistant Editor

Jim Craven resigned from the Maintenance Department and as fire marshal approximately three weeks ago to take a new job. Craven's last day on the job was Friday, Nov. 13.

This leaves the Maintenance Department short-handed, according to Jim Lipps, director of maintenance. A total of 23 people are employed by the department.

Along with the loss of Craven, Lipps also noted the loss of a few other employees. "Effective at the end of this month, Danny Carver is retiring. Andy Belcher has been off for the past week with an injured thumb which will require reconstructive surgery. Lloyd Blackburn had a heart attack and is in ICU," reported Lipps.

Craven's maintenance duties included working with air conditioning, refrigeration, and heating. His position in maintenance will be filled sometime in mid-December, Lipps said. "You have to advertise and go through state procedure. Screening of applications will be the 24th [Nov.]," said Lipps.

To cover the position now, the employees are pulling together to complete the tasks left open from Craven's resignation until someone is hired.

Craven's position as fire marshal is under a different department, Lipps stated. "...That is an appointed position by the chancellor. It is my understanding [Campus Police] is going to take that over. Now, that isn't official," Lipps stated.

In case of a fire on campus, Lipps said that since there is no fire marshal at this time, "I am assuming [Campus Police] will handle the situation.

Craven could not be contacted for comment.

Racial slurs in a fraternity pamphlet result in suspension

ATHENS, Ga. (CPS) - A racial slur in a pledge pamphlet has resulted in a fraternity being suspended from the University of Georgia campus for an indefinite period.

University officials discovered that a printed pamphlet for Pi Kappa Phi fraternity contained the phrase "no niggers." An investigation revealed that some fraternity members knew about the slur and chose to do nothing about it.

More than 1,000 students signed a petition demanding that the fraternity be ousted from the campus. The petition was started by the university's chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The suspension resulted from an Oct. 22 hearing in which the fraternity exercised its option to have the case heard by an administrative officer rather than a student panel.

The fraternity can apply for reinstatement during the summer of 1993. "I intend the time during this suspension to be spent learning and teaching the value of diversity in a modern university and to satisfy the expectations announced by your national organization and your local alumni," wrote William Bracewell, director of judicial programs who served as hearing officer on the case.

Pi Kapp Phi president James "Tripp" Ackerman III appeared at a recent meeting with the Black Greek Council and read a statement of apology by the pamphlet's author, and said the fraternity did not condone the material.

"The offensive statement was not condoned by the chapter president or the brotherhood," Ackerman said. "I regret that this situation may have caused others to form negative opinions about the Lambda chapter, the Greek community or the University of Georgia community as a whole."

The Greek organizations at the university reacted strongly to the incident, officials said. The school's sororities have refused to participate in Pi Kappa Phi's annual philanthropic War of the Roses football tournament this year.

The ruling against the fraternity was unexpected, although welcomed, said Jonathan Burns, managing editor of the Red and Black, the campus newspaper. "The students seem very pleased with the decision."

Pi Kappa Phi is the seventh fraternity to be suspended from the University of Georgia campus since 1980.

ROCKED, from p. 1

proach. Trained student volunteers canvassed in college and university dorms and set up registration booths at record stores and concerts.

"We had some seriously trained, black-belt student organizers and volunteers across the country," Dolan said. "They were in the trenches with their clipboards and buttons. They'd be right there at concerts: 'You, with the tattoo. Come over here. Register to vote.'"

Rock the Vote's public service announcements on MTV and its hour-long special on Fox persuaded about 750,000 young people to register, according to an independent survey conducted by Soundata, a New York-based company specializing in market research for the recording industry.

The TV spots, with their pointed political messages delivered by groups like Megadeth, Deee-Lite, R.E.M., and the Red Hot Chili Peppers energized young voters and persuaded them that "this is their moment to make history, to take back the system," said Dolan. "It was the coolest way to get them to register."

Major corporations took "Rock the Vote's" lead, airing sexy spots targeting young voters. Along with Whoppers and fries, Burger King sold political participation with its public service announcements urging students to vote because "the only way to have it your way is if you vote your way."

MTV's "Choose or Lose" campaign and the National League of Women Voters' "Take Back the System" drive, worked in coalition with "Rock the Vote", using similar tactics that proved effective during presidential primary.

It was in New Hampshire that "Rock the Vote" kicked off its registration drive. Targeting 15 colleges and universities throughout the state, "Rock the Vote" students volunteers registered 10,000 young people in one week, Dolan said.

Young voters can change the political landscape by forcing candidates to focus on the issues students care about, such as education, the environment, economic opportunity, censorship, and abortion rights, Dolan said.

But in order to get politicians' attention, Dolan said young voters must convince them that students will register and they will vote, even if the system makes it difficult for them to do so.

"Our system of registration is targeted at older people, the ones with the condos on the 17th green who are permanently registered to vote," Dolan said.

"If young people are going to register, you have to make this incredibly arcane system of registering open to them, and they'll get out the vote," says Dolan. "If you can get young people to register, you'll get them to vote," agreed Becky Cain, president of the National League of Women Voters.

"But having your mother tell you that registering is a nice thing to do is not going to work. We have to connect with young people. We want them to know that they're part of the system. They have the power to influence government and make it responsive to their needs."

Organizations like the College Democrats of America and the College Republicans have tried for years to get that message out to students.

"Rock the Vote has helped students around the country become more involved in the political process," said Jamie Harmon, president of the College Democrats. "The mood on campuses is more positive. Students want to vote and that's going to help the Democrats."

Sports

Alabama-Birmingham brings '92 Cavalier football to an abrupt end, 41-30

Brad Johnson
Assistant Sports Editor

In what looked like a blowout in the first quarter, the Cavs rallied from 21 points down in the opening period before falling to visiting University of Alabama-Birmingham 41-30 at Bullitt Park in Big Stone Gap on Saturday.

UAB started the scoring barrage early. David Thornton scored on a 15-yard run to give the Blazers a quick lead. Two more quick scores put the Blazers up by a score of 21-0 with nine minutes left in the first.

However, the Cavs refused to quit and came back in exciting fashion. David Nara connected with Chris Stone on an 84-yard touchdown reception. Sampo Sakko's extra point pulled the Cavaliers within 14 points. The Cavs narrowed the gap even more when Dan Jones hauled in a 10-yard pass from Nara to put an end to the high-scoring first period.

The high octane scoring slowed down for most of the second quarter. However, UAB scored late on a six-yard run from Pat Green. After recovering an attempted onside kick, the Cavs took over with excellent field position at the UAB 38. Nara then found receiver Derrick Jones for a 34-yard touchdown reception. The extra point pulled the Cavs within seven at 28-21 heading into halftime.

Sakko's 33-yard field goal accounted for all the scoring in the third period and pulled the Cavs closer at 28-24 heading into the final stanza.

However, the Blazers countered again behind a strong performance from Pat Green. Green scored twice in the fourth period on runs of 1 and 33. The Cavs still refused to go down. Nara hit Brad Branham on a 12-yard scoring strike to end the scoring at 41-30 and to end one of the most exciting games the youthful Cavs have played.

Despite being on the short end of the score, the Cavs have a lot to look forward to next year. Nara shredded the Blazers' secondary for 407 yards passing by connecting on 26 of 49 passes and four touchdown strikes. The Cavs end their second season at 3-7 while the Blazers raised their record to 7-3.

Saturday's contest was the last one for seniors Chris McCall, Craig Owens, Bruce Pugh, and Chester Steward.

Bombs away!

HC Photo/ Page Frazer
Clinch Valley's Donnie Jordan pulls up for a three in his 12-point showing against Tennessee Wesleyan College last Saturday in the Cavaliers' 81-77 losing effort.

Men's basketball opens season with consecutive failures

Doug Gurney
Sports Writer
and Ricki D. Mitchell
Sports Editor

Last Tuesday night, the Clinch Valley men's basketball team got their season off to a rocky start as they were routed by Alice Lloyd College 99-67.

The game, as well as the season, got off to a slow beginning as ALC came out and scored the games first seven points, and the Cavs were never close from there on out.

Alice Lloyd was led by Henry Webb, who scored a whopping 33 points, while pulling down 9 rebounds and shooting 74% from the field.

Leading Cavaliers were James Carter, who poured in 15 points on 7-12 shooting and 10 rebounds, Johnny Gose (11 pts., 6 reb., 2 steals), and Tony Swinson (11 pts. on 5-6 shooting).

CLINCH VALLEY (67)

Carter 15, Gose 11, Swinson 11, Jordan 7, Brown 6, Reed 6, Morton 4, Joe Caywood 2, Jon Caywood 2, Stan Lewis 2, Short 1, Creech 0, Moats 0

ALICE LLOYD (99)

Webb 33, Clark 17, Harris 11, Conley 9, Marcum 8, Hager 7, Fairchild 7,

Castle 3, Helton 2, Williamson 2, Hammond 0
Rebounds: ALC 31 (Webb 9); CVC 27 (Carter 10)
Assists: ALC 9 (Webb 3); CVC 12 (Brown, Reed 3)

Saturday night, Tennessee Wesleyan came to town and pulled out a narrow 81-77 overtime win against CVC.

The Cavs had strong showings from Sean Brown and Darren Morton, who scored 18 and 15 points, respectively. Johnny Gose, James Carter, and Donnie Jordan also played well for the Cavs as they scored 12, 13, and 12 respectively.

TWC also had four players score in double figures.

TENNESSEE WESLEYAN (81)
Feistaitzer 19, Welch 19, Young 18, Raymer 17, Krupp 6, Marshall 2, Abernathy 0, Gossett 0
CLINCH VALLEY (77)
Brown 18, Morton 15, Carter 13, Gose 12, Jordan 12, Jon Caywood 3, Short 2, Swinson 2, Joe Caywood 0, Lewis 0

Rebounds: TWC 43 (Welch 9); CVC 33 (Carter 8)
Assists: TWC 9 (Marshall 6); CVC 19 (Morton 4)

Women's team opens with win at Alice Lloyd, beats ninth ranked TWC

Doug Gurney
Sports Writer
and
Michelle Napier
Managing Editor

Wanda Slone scored 19, while "Crickett" Adams and Michelle Rife led a second half surge to lead the Lady Cavs to their first win under Coach Kim Bynum against Alice Lloyd College last Tuesday evening.

Adams scored 13 points including three 3-pointers, while Rife scored 9 including two free throws that gave the Lady Cavs the lead for good.

Rachel Clay scored 7 points and blocked 6 shots to give 17th ranked Clinch Valley their first win of the season.

CLINCH VALLEY (69)
Slone 19, Adams 13, Rife 9, Firreno 8, Clay 7, Sturgill 5, Collier 4, Sizemore 2, Ward 2, McConnell 0

ALICE LLOYD (67)
Hamilton 21, Wells 11, Stickler 10, Stacy 8, Gilliam 6, Spaulding 4, Hall 3, Preece 2, Slone 2, Noble 0
Rebounds: CVC 52 (Slone 19); ALC 47 (Hamilton 13)

See WOMEN, p.6

Student Support Services/ The Tutor Connection

has moved into the trailers behind McCrary Hall. Their new hours are: Monday thru Thursday 8:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m. and Friday 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

GREEKS & CLUBS

RAISE A COOL $1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK! PLUS $1000 FOR THE MEMBER WHO CALLS! No obligation. No cost. You also get a FREE HEADPHONE RADIO just for calling 1-800-932-0528, Ext. 65

Holiday Open House

Please Join Us...

November 22, 1992 . 12:00 noon to 6:00 p.m.

DOOR PRIZE!

An exciting array of Holiday gifts... from the exceptional to the unusual...come, join the festivities at

10% Discount During Open House

Sexton's Flowers

We accept all major credit cards

WISE, VA 328-6501

Editor's note: Any and all submissions must be signed. Deadline for submissions is Friday by 4:00. The copy editor has the right to edit all material for grammar and spelling.

VIDEO HUT
Three Wolfe Tanning Beds
One Month ONLY $30
10 visits for $20

Video Hut Shopping Center
West Main Street
Wise Va.

PHONE: 328-4114

NBA preview: Jazz and Suns will feel heat from Spurs, Blazers

Brad Johnson
Assistant Sports Editor

Western Conference

Midwest Division

1. Utah Jazz: The Jazz will always be dangerous as long as Olympic duo Karl Malone (28.0ppg) and John Stockton (15.8ppg, 13.7apg) are clicking. Jeff Malone (20.2ppg) provides consistent outside scoring to take some heat off Karl Malone. Mark Eaton will bottle up the middle on defense, but he slows the offense down. Mike Brown and Tyrone Corbin supply strong role playing. The Jazz will need to keep everyone healthy if they are to make a run at the championship.

2. San Antonio Spurs: David Robinson (23.2ppg) will anchor the middle for a team that has suffered some key injuries over the past few years. The Spurs have probably lost the services of veteran Terry Cummings for the year due to an injury. Sean Elliot (16.3ppg) has developed into a solid performer and Willie Anderson needs to improve upon his numbers from last year. Dale Ellis (15.7ppg for the Bucks) will give the Spurs a deep threat.

3. Houston Rockets: With many problems last year, the Rockets hope to put the pieces back together. Hakeem Olajuwon (21.6 ppg) is a top flight center, who can change the game by himself. However, Otis Thorpe (17.3ppg) and Vernon Maxwell (17.2ppg) will need strong seasons to take some pressure off Olajuwon. The erratic backcourt of Kenny Smith, Sleepy Floyd, and Maxwell could hinder the Rockets in the playoffs.

4. Denver Nuggets: Dikembe Mutombo (16.6ppg, 12.3ppg) had a terrific rookie campaign and he is just part of the youth movement that includes Mark Macon, rookies LaPhonso Ellis (Notre Dame) and Bryant Stith (Virginia). Look for an exciting up-tempo offense for this team of the future.

5. Minnesota Timberwolves: Number three selection Christian Laettner (Duke) gives the T'wolves a solid foundation to build upon for the future. Chuck Person (via Indiana, 18.5 ppg) gives the team a capable scorer.

6. Dallas Mavericks: The Mavericks staked their future in rookie Jimmy Jackson (Ohio State). Doug Smith and veteran Derik Harper return, but don't look for too much from the Mavs.

Pacific Division

1. Phoenix Suns: With the acquisition of Charles Barkley (23.1 ppg, 11.1 ppg), the Suns are poised to make a serious run at the championship. Keven Johnson (19.7 ppg, 10.7 ppg) is one of the game's finest point guards and Dan Majerle (17.3 ppg) plays hard every night. Tom Chambers (16.3 ppg) and center Mark West will need to improve their numbers from last year. A key pick-up will be Danny Ainge, who provides valuable playoff leadership and strong shooting. Barkley wants a Championship before he leaves the game and this could be the team to do it.

2. Portland Trailblazers: Although the Blazers have lost two of the last three NBA finals, they still have one of the most talented teams in basketball. Olympian Clyde Drexler (25.0 ppg) gives the blazers one of the game's finest players. Terry Porter (18.1 ppg), Jerome Kersey (12.6 ppg), Buck Williams (11.3 ppg), and Cliff Robinson (12.4 ppg) can match up against any team. Two keys: Kevin Duckworth (10.7 ppg) needs to assert himself more on the offensive end and recently acquired Rod Strickland needs to have a consistent year. This could be the Blazer's last stand in the West as the younger teams will soon pass their team by.

3. Seattle SuperSonics: This team could make a surprise run at Portland and Phoenix before the year is over. At the ripe age of 22, Shawn Kemp (15.5 ppg) gives the Sonics a budding superstar. The Sonics have proven scorers in Ricky Pierce (21.7 ppg) and Eddie Johnson (17.1 ppg). Derrick McKey, Benoit Benjamin, and Gary Payton need to have better years for the Sonics to make some major moves.

4. Golden State Warriors: Tim Hardaway (23.4 ppg, 10.0 apg), one of the game's best all around players, and Chris Mullin (14.2 ppg, 8.0 apg) should give Warrior fans something to cheer about for years to come. Billy Owens (14.3ppg, 8.0rpg) had a strong rookie year and he should continue to fine tune his game. Sarunas Marciulionis (18.9 ppg) took his game to another level, but the Warriors will need more frontcourt help if they are to make it out of the first round of the playoffs.

5. Los Angeles Lakers: Magic Johnson has retired again and things do not look well for this dynasty in decline. James Worthy (19.9 ppg) and Sam Perkins (16.5 ppg) give the Lakers a solid frontcourt. Byron Scott and Sedale Threatt are capable guards, but the days of the fast-breaking "showtime" basketball are over.

6. Los Angeles Clippers: Danny Manning (19.3 ppg), Ron Harper (18.2 ppg), and Ken Norman (12.1 ppg, 5.9 ppg) give the Clippers some quality players, who could move the team up a notch or two in the division before the year is over.

7. Sacramento Kings: A few years ago this was a team on the verge of extinction. Mitch Richmond (22.5 ppg), Lionel Simmons (17.1 ppg) and draft pick Walt Williams (Maryland) have the Kings headed in the right direction, but have a long way to go.

WOMEN, from p.5

Assists: CVC 12 (Sturgill 5); ALC 13 (Hamilton 4)

Saturday night, Tennessee Wesleyan came to Fred B. Greear gymnasium for a nationally-ranked face off between the ninth and 17th ranked teams in the nation.

The Lady Cavs sent them running back to Tennessee crying about a 70-58 upset, while "Crickett" Adams poured in 21 points and 10 assists for CVC. Clinch Valley also had big nights from Michelle Rife, 18 points, Rachel Clay, 11 points and 12 rebounds, and Wanda Slone, 11 points and 9 rebounds.

TENNESSEE WESLEYAN (58)
Jerles 24, Harper 13, M. Moore 8, Hitson 6, Royce 3, Masingale 2, K. Moore 2, Wyrick 0, Young 0

CLINCH VALLEY (70)
Adams 21, Rife 18, Clay 11, Slone 11, Sturgill 9, Collier 0, Sizemore 0

Rebounds: TWC 29 (Harper 7); CVC 32 (Clay 12)

Assists: TWC 15 (Harper 6); CVC 19 (Adams 10)

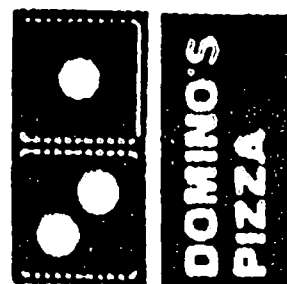

Beat The Clock

Large Pizza with Unlimited Toppings
Between 7:00 and 10:00
The Time you call is the price you pay

Call at 7:10
you pay $7.10

Wise Location Only
Phone: 328-3333

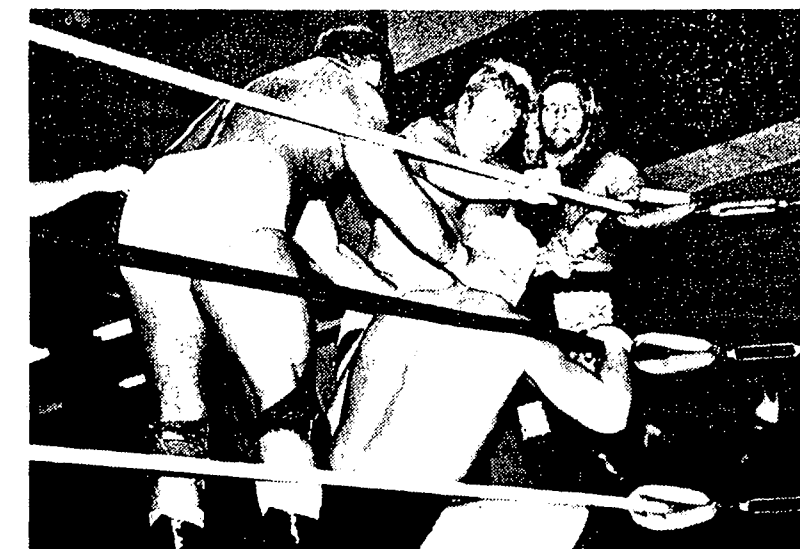

SPORTSWISE
INC.
130 Main Street—Box 1740
Wise, Virginia 24293
Phone (703) 328-3300 FAX (703) 328-2707
YOUR COMPLETE SPORTS CENTER

Bring in this Ad and Receive
10% OFF
ALL Non-Sale Items
WISE SHOPPERS SHOP SPORTSWISE

HC Photo/Chris Cline
Arn Anderson attempts to dive onto Dustin Rhodes during the six-man tag team match.

HC Photo/Chris Cline
Arn Anderson, "Beautiful" Bobby Eaton, and Michael T. Hayes assault Dustin Rhodes in their corner.

W
C
W

HC Photo/Robert Engle
Members of the security staff for the wrestling event pose before the contest with Barry Windham and Dustin Rhodes.

C
V
C

HC Photo/Chris Cline
Tom "Z-Man" Zenk shakes the hands of wrestling fans in Greear Gymnasium last Friday.

HC Photo/Chris Cline
The "Z-Man" exits the arena after defeating Shanghi Pierce in a grueling yet exciting match!

Style

Lightnin' Charlie rates high with many

Taylor Burgess
Staff Writer

Reigning from Johnson City, TN, the trio of Lightnin' Charlie Dolinger, front man and guitarist, Keith Britt on bass guitar and Chuck Pearson on drums will have you dancing on the tables with their electrifying showmanship and raw energy.

The band originated from The Southside Sheiks, a band Charlie fronted for five years. In 1989, he assembled the Upsetters and have since toured up and down the East Coast from Chicago to Myrtle Beach.

One of the band's most prestigious awards was beating out 26 bands from five other states to win the 1991 Piedmont Blues Preservation Society's Amateur Blues Talent Contest in Greensboro, which awarded it the privilege of opening up for the National Amateur Blues Contest in Memphis, Tenn.

A few other acknowledgements to add to Lightnin' Charlie and the Upsetters' resume: They have appeared with the Metropolitan Blues All-Stars, Webb Wilder, KoKo Taylor, Ronnie Earl, Tinsley Ellis, The Kinsey Report, and members of Muddy Waters' band, and participated in the Bull Durham Blues Festival just to name a few.

Lightnin' Charlie and the Upsetters are one of those bands that you need to see now so you can tell your children "I saw them back in my college days." You ask why? Well, here's what a few people have said about their show: "Bo Diddly on Acid" -Johnson City Press

Lightnin' Charlie

"I've been to every one of these things (National Blues Contest), and Lightnin' Charlie might be the hottest guitarist they've ever had. He's got Stevie Ray Vaughan written all over him!" -ESP Entertainment Guide

"Lightnin' Charlie and the Upsetters amazed the audience with their passion, rootsy blues, and showmanship. Lightnin' Charlie Dolinger, looking disreputably cool sang like Howlin' Wolf and played the guitar behind his head and with his teeth while displaying exquisite timing and dynamics, variety and electric communication, the small band put out big sound and feeling on blistering blues.

-Style Magazine

"Catch them at a small club that's dark and smoky and alive. That's their turf. And don't forget about your dancing shoes."

-Wayne Winkler, WETS-FM Blue Monday Radio Show

I predict that once you've seen Charlie play guitar with his teeth and every other way but normal, and participate in the overwhelming crowd response you'll be hooked. Let's get these guys over to Clinch Valley College and get everyone "upset."

These guys are without a doubt one of the most highly regarded Rhythm and Blues bands in the area. For more information concerning Lightnin' Charlie:

Boogie Productions
115 Beachnut H-8
Johnson City, TN 37601
1 (615) 282-1263

Bits 'n Pieces

A $400 Chemistry Scholarship is available for a CVC freshman for spring term 1993. The scholarship is renewable. To qualify, a student must be a full-time freshman at CVC and currently pursuing a chemistry major. Interested students should contact the Financial Aid Office for details. Deadline for receipt of application is Friday, Dec. 11, 1992.

A Faculty Recital on Nov. 19 will feature Suzanna Masters, Instructor in Music at CVC. Masters will perform, on clarinet, the four movements of Sonate No. 1 by Johannes Brahms, and the First concerto in F minor by Carl Maria von Weber. Kathy Stewart is the accompanist. The recital, which begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Chapel of all Faiths, is open to everyone. There is no admission charge.

Yearbook pictures will be taken Nov. 16, 17, and 18 (Mon.-Wed.) from 9:00 a.m. each day until about 2:00 p.m. in the Zehmer Building Lounge. Ask about options for Portrait Packages from Kilbourne Studios.

Have a legal question? You can consult with a lawyer free of charge during "No Bills Night" on Mon., Nov.

23. Just call (703) 628-5151 between 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. This public service event is sponsored by the Young Lawyers Conference of the Virginia State Bar.

The Clinch Valley College International Club will sponsor a slide-illustrated program on Spain at its Nov. 18 meeting. "Spain in the Quincentenary" will be presented by professor Augusto Portuondo at 5:00 p.m. in Cantrell Hall 206.

The new CVC Society for History and Philosophy met to organize and elect its first officers Wednesday, Nov. 11. The group plans to finalize a proposed constitution for the Society's next meeting, to be held Nov. 18, at 1:00 p.m. in Zehmer 215. Membership is open to students and faculty in all disciplines. For more information, contact Dr. Tom Costa, Zehmer 107, 328-0231.

For the holiday season, Pro-Art Association will present "Babes in Toyland" as part of the W. Campbell Edmonds Memorial Concert Series. The musical opens at Powell Valley High School, Big Stone Gap, at 7:30 p.m. on Wed., Dec. 9.

REVISED

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

FALL 1992

BLOCK	EXAMINATION DATE	TIME
I	Wednesday, December 16	8:00 - 11:00
II	Tuesday, December 15	2:30 - 5:30
III	Monday, December 14	11:15 - 2:15
IV	Friday, December 18	11:15 - 2:15
V	Monday, December 21	8:00 - 11:00
VI	Saturday, December 19	11:15 - 2:15
VII	Thursday, December 17	2:30 - 5:30
VIII	Thursday, December 17	8:00 - 11:00
IX	Tuesday, December 15	11:15 - 2:15
X	Monday, December 21	6:00 - 9:00
XI	Wednesday, December 16	6:00 - 9:00
XII	Monday, December 14	2:30 - 5:30
XIII	Wednesday, December 16	11:15 - 2:15
XIV	Friday, December 18	8:00 - 11:00
XV	Thursday, December 17	11:15 - 2:15
XVI	Monday, December 14	8:00 - 11:00
XVII	Saturday, December 19	8:00 - 11:00
XVIII	Tuesday, December 15	8:00 - 11:00
XIX	Tuesday, December 15	6:00 - 9:00
XX	Thursday, December 17	6:00 - 9:00

French 101 - Monday, December 14, 6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. (Science Lecture Hall)
Spanish 101 - Wednesday, December 16, 2:30 p.m. - 5:30 p.m. (Science Lecture Hall)

Off-Campus Classes Regular meeting time during week of December 14 - 21

CLASSES END FRIDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1992

NOTE: For an instructor to change the time of an examination in an individual class, it is required that he/she secure the recommendation of the chairman of the department in which the course is located and the approval of the Vice Chancellor and Dean. Similarly, for a student to change the time of an examination from that which is scheduled, he/she must have the recommendation of the instructor in the course, the chairman of the department of the course, and the approval of the Vice Chancellor and Dean.

ALL REQUESTS MUST BE MADE IN WRITING WITH REASON GIVEN FOR THE REQUEST.

Office of the Vice Chancellor and Dean
October 27, 1992