With November around the corner

Senate candidate speaks in Norton

Stacy Nicholson
Editor-in-Chief

The campaign trail led to Norton, Virginia on Saturday, September 14 for several Democratic candidates. Among those included Senate candidate Mark Warner, Congressman Rick Boucher, and Delegate Bud Phillips. The candidates were part of the annual Wise County and City of Norton Democratic Women's Club's Fall Luncheon at the Norton Holiday Inn.

Mark Warner, who is the Democratic candidate opposing incumbent GOP candidate John Warner, spoke about a number of issues. Among those was the education of Virginia's youth. After visiting Clinch Valley College and seeing the new connector classroom, Warner said, "We are stepping forward in the Commonwealth of Virginia. If we do not make the investment in education, we will continue to see the exodus of young people to Roanoke, Richmond, and Northern Virginia."

Warner, who went to college through financial aid, also spoke about the importance of the student loan program. Warner also spoke about the importance of the Head Start program in Southwest Virginia. Warner claimed that John Warner wanted to cut this program.

Warner also wants to increase spending on vocational schools that will prepare some students with job skills in today's workplace. The rest of the program was filled with comments from other candidates, as well as elections of officers for the women's club.

Future of yearbook to be decided by SGA

There hasn't been a yearbook produced in two years and students have been asking why we were still giving The Outpost money though nothing had been printed," said Fields. "The results of the elections determined that a majority of students would rather do away with The Outpost and allocate funds to other organizations. John said that he is willing to produce a 96-97 yearbook, but he will leave the decision in the hands of the Student Government."

Clinch Valley declared second safest college in Virginia

CVC Press Release

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia is the second safest four-year state college in Virginia, according to an annual report issued by the Virginia State Police.

CVC finished second only to the Virginia Military Institute in total number of crimes committed on campus during 1995.

The College reported only thirteen crimes in 1995, compared to fifteen in 1994.

Clinch Valley was declared the state's safest college in 1994, as VMI reported nineteen crimes that year.

Of the thirteen crimes reported to the Virginia State Police by CVC's campus police in 1995, five were cases of larceny, five were cases of aggravated assault, and three were burglaries.

The College had no reported cases of motor vehicle theft, robbery, rape or murder, the other categories of crimes in the report.

"There is an understanding among our students that the campus police are here to keep Clinch Valley as crime free as possible," —Ed Gardner

"We've always had a good relationship with the students here," said Gardner. "There is an understanding among our students that the campus police are here to keep Clinch Valley as crime free as possible."

State law requires all state colleges that maintain campus police forces to report crimes to the Virginia State Police.

The figures are included in an annual report called "Crime in Virginia" and are also forwarded to the FBI as part of that agency's Uniform Crime Reporting system.

Virginia Western Community College was selected as the safest college among two-year colleges.
Editor opens forum on complaining at CVC

Opinion

CVC Press Release

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia has been awarded a grant to study the possibility of creating a new non-commercial radio station at the college.

The grant, totaling $10,477, was issued under the Public Telecommunication Facilities Program, administered by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Innovators provide students with the opportunity to learn with sports and other activities.

There is a state organization out there for everybody, signing up with sports and other activities.

CVC Press Release

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia has been awarded a grant to study the possibility of creating a new non-commercial radio station at the college.

The grant, totaling $10,477, was issued under the Public Telecommunication Facilities Program, administered by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Innovators provide students with the opportunity to learn with sports and other activities.

There is a state organization out there for everybody, signing up with sports and other activities.

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia has been awarded a grant to study the possibility of creating a new non-commercial radio station at the college.

The grant, totaling $10,477, was issued under the Public Telecommunication Facilities Program, administered by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Innovators provide students with the opportunity to learn with sports and other activities.

There is a state organization out there for everybody, signing up with sports and other activities.

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia has been awarded a grant to study the possibility of creating a new non-commercial radio station at the college.

The grant, totaling $10,477, was issued under the Public Telecommunication Facilities Program, administered by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Innovators provide students with the opportunity to learn with sports and other activities.

There is a state organization out there for everybody, signing up with sports and other activities.

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia has been awarded a grant to study the possibility of creating a new non-commercial radio station at the college.

The grant, totaling $10,477, was issued under the Public Telecommunication Facilities Program, administered by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Innovators provide students with the opportunity to learn with sports and other activities.

There is a state organization out there for everybody, signing up with sports and other activities.

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia has been awarded a grant to study the possibility of creating a new non-commercial radio station at the college.

The grant, totaling $10,477, was issued under the Public Telecommunication Facilities Program, administered by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Innovators provide students with the opportunity to learn with sports and other activities.

There is a state organization out there for everybody, signing up with sports and other activities.

Clinch Valley College of the University of Virginia has been awarded a grant to study the possibility of creating a new non-commercial radio station at the college.

The grant, totaling $10,477, was issued under the Public Telecommunication Facilities Program, administered by the National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Innovators provide students with the opportunity to learn with sports and other activities.

There is a state organization out there for everybody, signing up with sports and other activities.
Cavs continue to roll after win at Chowan College

On September 19th, the Chowan Cavaliers traveled to the Chowan Eagles for their first game of the season. The Eagles were unable to keep up with the Cavaliers, as they won 28-6. This was the second game of the season for the Cavaliers, as they defeated the Bulldogs 40-7 last week. The Cavaliers are now 2-0 on the season, and are looking to continue their winning streak.

On offense, the Cavaliers ran a multiple 41 defense, which forced the Eagles to turn the ball over three times. The Cavaliers scored on their first possession, and never looked back. The Cavaliers also had a strong running game, as they rushed for 183 yards on 31 carries.

On defense, the Cavaliers had a strong pass defense, as they held the Eagles to just 101 passing yards. The Cavaliers also had a strong run defense, as they allowed just 38 rushing yards on 33 carries.

The Cavaliers will look to continue their winning streak when they travel to the University of Virginia next week. The Cavaliers are off to a great start to the season, and are looking to keep the momentum going.
The Black Crowes strike a universal chord with McCready and Stone Gossard on Three Snakes and a Charm and possessed a powerfully coup d'état. monumental quote to the mainstream's alternative a few new bands came blazing out completely made of fat. multi-platinum selling approach and cut an album com-rock band and I'll do what I want" taken the typical "I'm Neil Young collaboration after With Jeff Ament on bass, Mike vocals sound the best of all time. I'm not into that freeform, 70's re-variate to dealenUp. The want-ad's oe per se a quiet room but some don't have a quiet room to play every note in a quiet manner. One sales tactici have noticed is that have a quiet room but some don't have a quiet room to play every note in a quiet manner. One sales tactici have noticed is that have a quiet room but some don't have a quiet room to play every note in a quiet manner.

The Black Crowes strike a universal chord with Three Snakes and a Charm

Mike LeCure Staff Writer

It has been six years since the Black Crowes' first release, the multi-platinum selling Shake Your Money Maker. Throughout the past six years the Crowes have not strayed from their "bluesy" style, for which they have become known.

Just as Crowes old-timers and one Chart newcomer. Chris Robinson's vocals sound the best since Shake Your Money Maker.

C h r i s  R o b i n s o n's  v o c a l s  t h e  b e s t  s i n c e  " S h a k e  Y o u r  M o n e y  M a k e r "

I t ' s  S o m e t h i n g  D i f f e r e n t  Ch i n a  C a f e

Bring this coupon in for $1.00 OFF of the "All-You-Can-Eat" Dinner Buffet

Monday through Friday Only! 4:30 till close.
1009 Park Avenue • Norton • (540)679-1502

Top Ten Ways to Tell the Relationship is Over according to Sarah Stallard

1. When you get a call from Cash Lake saying you are a great guy she once knew.
2. When you notice she's on his bed all the time and you made it just for her.
3. When you find out she's on your Fantasia and you've been sleeping with her for weeks.
4. When 3/4 of your phone bill consists of numbers you don't make.
5. When your love asks why the Crowes is the one sexual position that you just happened to try.
6. Finding Rambis in the backseat when you know she didn't buy them.
7. When spending time with their friends includes talking about your Crowes fantasies.
8. When Sisters Beatles you give your fan club that you just can't give away.
9. When you can't even come over on past-1's dates.
10. When your maid refuses to clean the house when the newly unwrapped Crowes gift does the job.

Join the Highland Cavalier staff! We are in need of your talents! Stop by the office at 1:00 on Fridays!
When you can't find it anywhere else... You can find it at Music Exchange.

Jon Fawbush
Chad Pennington

New & Used CDs
Imported CDs
T-Shirts
Posters
Imported Posters
Incense

Stickers
Special Orders
Black Lights
Patches
Cassettes
Keychains

M-S. 10 a.m. - 9 p.m. 12 p.m. - 6 p.m. Sundays
548 Park Ave.
Downtown Norton, VA 24273
(540) 679-7482